Young Student Presents Globes To Salem School

Through the efforts of one of its students, Ann Kleinschmidt, seven, of Jacksonville route one, Salem Lutheran School has a set of Rand-McNally globes. The globes were presented by the Borden Company in Ann's name.

Salem Lutheran was named to receive this set of globes at the 1962 Illinois State Fair. The Borden exhibit in the Dairy building invited Illinois grade school students to register their name as well as the name of their school on cards. Each day two schools were named out of the day's registration to receive the awards.

The globes were presented to the school by Ann at a special presentation ceremony Nov. 8, and will be available for all students to use, according to Principal Roy Lovekamp, of Salem Lutheran, shown with the donor.

One globe, The Satellite, a dramatic space-age World globe, has a three-way action which gives the 12-inch globe a floating motion that brings into view any point on earth in an instant. Its orbit-rings measure air distance, figure comparative times, track earth satellites and determine latitudes and longitudes. It is in full color.

The mate to the Satellite is the Starfinder, a beautiful globe of the heavens. Dark blue in color with gold stars, the Starfinder is easily adjusted to place the stars in any position relating to any given time and place. A Starfinder handbook is part of this educational piece.

Sunday, November 4, the Deanery Youth Holy Hour was followed by a dance in the Routt Clubrooms. Those attending were the Catholic students from Jacksonville and the surrounding area.

The Seniors interested in going on to College met at Tanner Library on Illinois College Campus, Saturday, November 10, to take their A.C.T. examination.

An Assembly was held Friday at 1 p.m. in the Routt auditorium, featuring Father David Walsh, Apostolate for the Deaf. It was sponsored by the Missions Club.

The Freshmen pulled ahead of all the other classes to sell the most magazines in the Magazine Drive, which ended Monday, November 5. Thus, the losing Senior Class sponsored a party for the Freshmen Monday afternoon. An enjoyable time was had by all attending.

The last football game of the season was played Friday at Petersburg. This game brought to a close the final season of the Senior football players. They are Tom Eoff, Paul Casey, Jack Kane, John Knepler, Chuck Newport, and Mike Ryan.

Basketball practice begins Monday, November 12, for the 62-63 season.

played two rounds of trumps and three rounds of diamonds, then led his ace of clubs. The second club lead disclosed the bad break and South had to give up two club tricks.

"Well," said North, "football season is in full swing and you just missed a nice field goal. That was a laydown slam contract."

North was right. South had a safety play at his disposal that would have guaranteed the slam against any break in clubs. All South had to do was draw trumps and strip the hand of diamonds just as he did, then lead a low club from either hand. Suppose that he led the deuce from his own hand. West would play his four and South should then play the nine from dummy.

East would win with the ten, jack, or queen. Then East could not afford to lead a red card. South would trump in one hand and discard a losing club from the other. East would have to lead another high club. South would win in dummy and have a proven finesse against East.

I leave you to work out the ways this play would succeed against any other possible club breaks.

Man-Made Glamellia

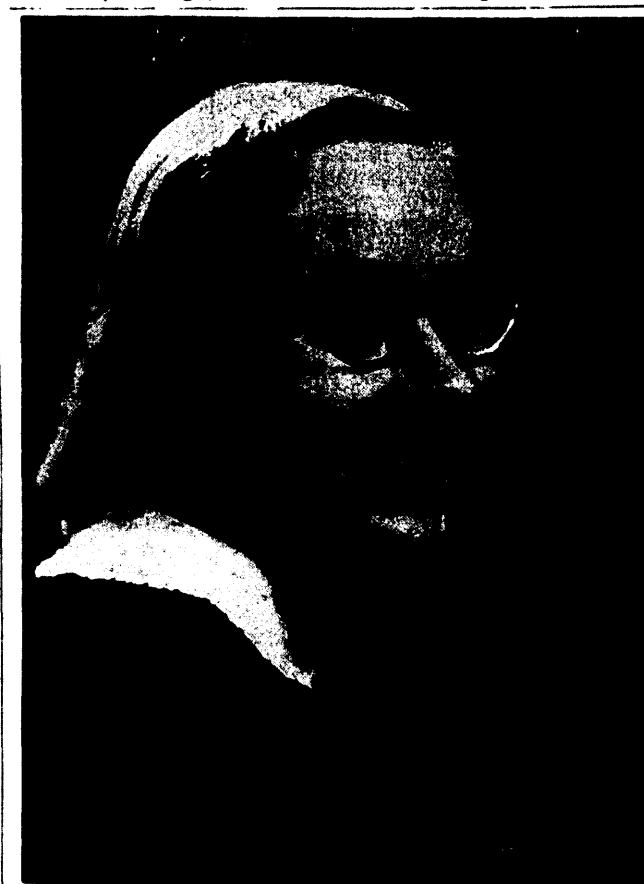

Glamorizes Fall And Winter Wedding For The Bride

Lovely flowers are a must with all brides and weddings planned for the fall and winter will want that extra 'something' to take away the 'chance' of bad weather. Nothing is more exciting and glamorous than the man-made 'glamellias.' The arrangement pictured includes a lovely creation of the blossoms as a headdress for the bride's veil; a cascade bouquet, her going away corsage, table or mantle setting and even 'finishing' her formal gloves.

The glamellia is made of gladiolus petals and formed like a camellia, and logically enough, called a 'glamellia.' The Society of American Florists notes the enterprising florists of today were not content with nature and have invented their own blossom, much to the delight of brides.

WEEK'S GRAIN PRICES SHOW LITTLE CHANGE

CHICAGO (AP) — Activity in the grain futures market never reached more than a moderate pace this week and prices on the Board of Trade ended generally little changed.

—Extreme gains ran to three cents a bushel in soybeans while corn posted the broadest losses at slightly more than two cents. Wheat, oats and rye finished in a mixed range.

—Trade flows were few and minor. Transactions fell to a low 51.5 million bushels on Thursday as the market drifted almost into a stalemate. December corn traded for a short time on Friday at its low level of the season without attracting more than a steady volume of support.

Speculators had little more than day to day commercial business to guide their activities in the pits. Early in the week, a private crop report proved to be at least a moderately bearish influence in the soybean trade. It estimated the 1962 yield at 885 million bushels, an increase of 13 million over the outlook a month earlier.

While a few analysts had expected some increase, the trade viewed the figure as bearish and a good deal of selling was linked with it.

Export sales held at a good rate most of the week and was credited with a good deal of the support in wheat, corn and soybeans. However, hedge selling was rather heavy at times in corn and soybeans and it offset the demand.

A few brokerage firms expressed belief the election results of Tuesday may become a factor in the trade later, probably when it becomes known what recommendations the administration might make toward a new program, but they were inclined to discount them for the present.

While movement of new crop corn and soybeans exerted a bearish influence at times, brokers said the reported shortage of railroad cars had not been entirely alleviated and that not extremely heavy shipments were likely for a while.

At the end of the week, wheat was 1/2 cent a bushel lower to 1/4 higher than a week ago, December $2.04 1/4; corn 1-1/4 cents a bushel lower, December $1.05 1/4; oats 1/2 cent higher to 1/4 lower, December 66 1/2 cents; rye 1 cent lower to 1/2 higher, December $1.21 1/2; soybeans 1/2-3/4 cents lower, November $2.39 1/4.

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices in the butcher hog market showed little day to day change last week although offerings were the second largest of the year. At the close, barrows and gilts were steady to 25 cents a hundredweight lower with the decline mostly on weights over 220 lbs.

For the 12 major markets, the supply was almost 8 per cent above the previous week.

At Chicago, the top price ranged from $17.50 on Monday to $18 on Wednesday.

The higher trend for slaughter steers which began in trading a week ago carried into the early days of last week and prices closed strong to 30 cents higher. However, most of the advance was on offerings grading choice and below. The firmness was credited to continued lighter marketings.

Woolled slaughter lambs sold steady all week with the top at $20 on each day for mixed choice and prime. Supply was about equal to the previous week.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS
CHICAGO (AP) — Estimated live-stock receipts for Monday are 10,000 hogs, 14,000 cattle and 1,500 sheep.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market today stands on the crest of a two-week advance linked with improving international and economic news.

As last week ended, the Dow Jones industrial average was above the Aug. 23 recovery peak of 616.00 — the highest previous point reached in the recovery from the June bottom.

During the past week the Dow Industrials advanced 11.55 to 616.13. Based on closing averages, the Dow Industrials rose 47.11 from Oct. 26, when the Cuban crisis was still in doubt, to this week's close.

In addition to the reassuring fact that the Cuban crisis has passed with an apparent victory for the United States came some good news about dividends this week.

Chief among these tidings was the declaration by General Motors of a $1 extra dividend compared with 50 cents a year ago. Wall Streeters construed this as a sign of confidence in the economy by the nation's greatest manufacturing unit.

"As GM goes, so goes the market," they were saying in Wall Street.

Wall Street's morale also was fed by booming auto sales and production, a rise in steel output and a brighter outlook for that metal, and record totals for September in manufacturing, wholesale, and retail lines.

The picture was still not one of an untroubled economy. There still remained evidence of a profit squeeze; but some Wall Streeters were beginning to ponder whether the well-advanced recession expected for 1963 had not been over-discounted by the market.

The four-day trading week was cut short by Tuesday's election, which was received in dead-pan fashion by Wall Street, some analysts maintaining that the mixed picture—cheered both by Democrats and Republicans—left little to go on.

The fact is, however, that the market advanced on election eve. It advanced the day after election. It paused for profit taking Thursday, to nobody's surprise. It resumed its rally Friday.

In the past nine sessions, the market has rallied vigorously on all but two: The decline this past Thursday and a mixed session Oct. 31.

In the week just ended, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 4.7 to 227.2.

On the bond market, government prices pushed to 1962 peaks in routine trading. Corporates registered a sixth advance in the past seven weeks, though the advance was moderate. Volume fell to $1,098,000 par value from $2,899,000 in the previous five-day week.

Castro is reported to be holding firm to his five demands for settling the crisis with the United States. These include the surrender of the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay, the lifting of all U.S. trade embargoes on Cuba; and ironclad guarantees against invasion.

While the five demands got mild support in the Kremlin, Communist China quickly embraced them. The Red Chinese are seen here as making a big play as an unconditional friend of Cuba. Castro is reported to be holding firm to his five demands for settling the crisis with the United States. These include the surrender of the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay, the lifting of all U.S. trade embargoes on Cuba; and ironclad guarantees against invasion.

While the five demands got mild support in the Kremlin, Communist China quickly embraced them. The Red Chinese are seen here as making a big play as an unconditional friend of Cuba. Eastern European Communist sources here now describe the Cuban government as having its head in Moscow and its heart in Peking, the Red Chinese capital.

Rodriguez, head of the National Institute of Agrarian Reform, is viewed as the No. 2 man among old guard Communists. He is credited with being the first Red to make contact with Castro while the revolutionary was fighting dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Pilots Selling Candy To Help Tree Program

The Pilot Club of Jacksonville enjoyed 6:30 dinner before a regular meeting the evening of Nov. 9th at Hotel Dunlap. Miss Dorothy Lukeman offered the invocation.

A witness said 31 cars of the 70-car freight train were derailed and two cars of the passenger train left the track. Engines on both trains were damaged.

The Louisville and Nashville train was using the Illinois Central tracks to detour around an earlier freight train derailment on L & N lines near Belleville. And the Hummingbird was delayed at Nashville, Tenn., by a freight train derailment near Chattanooga, Tenn.

Among those injured were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Love of Sedalia, Mo. He is vice president and business manager of the Sedalia Democrat. Mrs. Love suffered a cut on the head and was admitted to the hospital.

Others admitted to the hospital included Edward Overby, Engineer, and Nick Frankenberg, fireman, both of Evansville, Ind., and N. R. Crowell, an Illinois Central engineer serving as a pilot engineer on the L & N train.

Journal Sports

by ART HARRIS

Seventy-three years ago the Jacksonville Journal looked at sports this way: Sunday, October 13, 1889—"The college nine arose from its intercollegiate lethargy yesterday and won a close game from Lynnville by the score of 12 to 10. Lynnville was assisted by a battery from Winchester and came off the worse in consequence. . . . The behaviour of the home crowd was ungentlemanly in the extreme, and if it is not changed at once the faculty will have something to say about playing match games with out of town clubs."

Thursday, October 17—"Mr. Cornelius Goltra killed eight quails in his yard Thursday. He declares it is not necessary to go beyond the city limits for good hunting."

Friday, October 18—"Four or five Jacksonville wheelmen intend to pedal it over to Quincy on Sunday. The distance is about 80 miles, but nothing under a century run can satisfy the crowd of hard riding and ambitious bicyclists."

Tuesday, October 22—"The redoubtable Jack Dempsey champion middle weight prize fighter was in the city Monday. What his business in Jacksonville was we were unable to learn. The gentleman was non committal on the subject. He left on the afternoon train for the east. Dempsey is a finely built, well muscled fellow and he seemed to be in a first-class condition. The local sports were ignorant of the fact that the noted pugilist was in town or he would no doubt have been besieged by callers."

(This last notation reminds one of the happenstance that put Stan Musial in town last spring. Seems as the Mr. M. stopped at a spa on North Main street. While walking to this place he passed three teenagers who never batted an eye at the famous St. Louis veteran slugger.)

Saturday, October 25—"The Lynnville shooting grounds was the scene of a match on Thursday which had been arranged between the crack shots of the district. J. Z. Scott and J. A. Groves were pitted in a team shoot against J. T. Ranson and F. T. Gordon, for a purse and the championship of the southwestern section of the county. . . . The contest was easily won by Scott and Groves who killed ten more birds than their opponents."

Tuesday, October 29—"An exciting prize fight occurred north of the city limits on Sunday afternoon. The principals were a white man and a colored man, who had got into a dispute over a game of craps and resolved to settle their quarrel by recourse of the manly art. The fight which was for the munificent sum of 50 cents, lasted for three-fourths of an hour. The colored bruiser was almost gloriously whipped."

Thursday, November 7—"How is this for a lie? A gentleman sends in the following communication: Joe McGamon and Chas Jackson killed on election day 19 squirrels, 42 quails, 28 prairie chickens, 49 rabbits, 1 brace of snipe, 9 pheasants, 3 wild turkey, 7 wild geese, 1 fox, 2 raccoons and 1 opossum. Jackson had no firearms but his dog."

Wonder why these two renowned hunters claimed no kill of ducks? Could it have been that this toothless bird was scarce in those times too?

Y PROGRAM AT IC AGAIN THIS YEAR

Through the cooperation of Illinois College, the YMCA is again this year conducting a recreation night for adults at the Illinois College gymnasium.

This activity will start Monday, Nov. 12, and will continue every Monday thereafter with the exception of nights that the college is closed during holidays or when college basketball contests.

Each session will be scheduled for 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. with coed activities including volleyball, basketball, badminton, handball and individual exercise.

The only equipment required by the individual is proper gym attire. All balls and other equipment will be furnished by the YMCA. These activities are played on an informal basis and are open to any adult at no charge.

George Winger and YMCA board member Robert Spink will be supervisors of all activities. Further information may be obtained by calling the YMCA at 243-1016.

Alabama Rolls On In 36-6 Decision

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (P)—Sophomore Joe Namath took some passing lessons from Miami's brilliant George Mira in the first half Saturday, then applied them with punishing fury and guided nationally ranked Alabama to a 36-6 football victory.

Namath ran and passed Alabama to 23 points in less than nine minutes of the third period after Mira had led Miami to a 3-0 halftime on a 40-yard field goal by Bobby Wilson. It was Alabama's 19th consecutive victory, and the defending national champions ran their unbeaten string to 26 games.

Alabama, currently No. 3 in the nation in The Associated Press top 10, turned the heralded Mira-Namath duel into a rout in the second half.

Namath triggered the first touchdown deal Miami its second defeat in eight games, but Namath and Alabama were far from finished.

GAMBLING RAID

DETROIT (P)—A raiding force of 112 city, state and federal officers chopped their way through the Gotham Hotel Friday night in a crackdown on numbers gambling.

Tom Lupo started the 'Trojans' toward their third Big Six Conference triumph, and seventh of the season, with a 32-yard field goal. Bearhead followed with touchdown runs of four and one yards, culminating drives in which his passes of 27 and 37 yards to end Hal Bedsole provided the key gains.

Bill Nelson, who alternates with Bearhead at quarterback, threw 29 yards to John Brownwood and four to Phil Hoover for second half touchdowns.

Sophomore quarterback Craig Fertig tallied the final Trojan touchdown on a five-yard run. Southern California 0 10 15 14-39 Stanford 0 0 0 14-14

Wolverine's Rally 14-10; Whip Illinois

Wipe Out Deficit In Second Half

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (P)—Michigan, aroused by Bob Chandler, wiped out a 10-point deficit within three minutes Saturday with two second-half touchdowns for a 14-10 victory over Illinois.

Chandler passed for one touchdown and scored the other on a quarterback sneak as the Wolverines gave coach Bump Elliott his third straight victory over his brother, Pete.

Pete, whose Illini ended a 15-game losing streak last week with an upset of Purdue, never has been a winner in the Big Ten's battle of brotherly coaching.

1st Win In Five
Michigan had lost all four of its previous Big Ten games until its 14-point explosion gave the Wolverines only their second victory of the season.

But it took an alert defense to forestall the Illini, who had made scoring look easy with their 10 points in the second quarter.

Ben Farabee's pass interception and his 44-yard return to the 1 set up Michigan's winning touchdown in the second minute of the final quarter.

Before the Wolverines could claim their victory, they had to stop three Illinois thrusts. Tom Keating did it once with a fumble recovery. Jim Green stopped the Illini's next time with a pass interception at the Michigan 30. And the next time Michigan held for downs at its 20.

Michigan looked feeble in the first half, making only three first downs and gaining just 12 yards rushing. When the Wolverines returned to the field for the second half, they were greeted by scattered boos from the crowd of 49,756.

Illinois made great use of miserable weather conditions to score its 10 points that came within four minutes. Two weak Michigan punts into a strong wind that gusting up to 36 miles an hour set up the Illini scores.

30-Yard Field Goal
Jim Plankenhorn sent the Illini ahead 3-0 with a 30-yard field goal.

Michigan's next punt carried only to the 27 and the Illini scored their touchdown in six plays. Mike Summers scored from the 1 after Mike Taliaferro passed 30 yards to Thurman Walker, who made a one-hand punt in while falling at the 6.

But in the third quarter, after the rain had let up, the wind came to Michigan's aid. The Wolverines took over at Illinois' 46 after a poor punt.

Dave Rainey did most of Michigan's run on the ground and caught a 17-yard pass from Chandler to set up the score. On fourth down, Chandler passed the final three yards to Bob Timberlake.

Illini-Ig Plankenhorn 30
Ill-Summers 1 run (Plankenhorn kick)
Mich-Timberlake 3 pass from Chandler (run failed)
Mich-Chandler 1 run (Chapman pass from Chandler)

So. California Triumphs By 39-14

STANFORD, Calif. (P)—Quarterback Pete Bearhead scored two touchdowns which he set up with passes Saturday, leading undefeated Southern California to a 39-14 triumph over Stanford that kept the Trojans in front of the Rose Bowl race.

Ranked No. 2 nationally going into the game, the Trojans' stars built a 25-0 lead in the third quarter.

Tom Lupo started the 'Trojans' toward their third Big Six Conference triumph, and seventh of the season, with a 32-yard field goal. Bearhead followed with touchdown runs of four and one yards, culminating drives in which his passes of 27 and 37 yards to end Hal Bedsole provided the key gains.

Claim Bork Best Passer Of All Time

DE KALB, Ill. (P)—Based on statistics, junior quarterback George Bork of Northern Illinois University became the greatest collegiate passer in football history Saturday.

The 6-foot, 170-pounder from Mount Prospect, Ill., wound up Northern's 8-1 season by tossing 5 touchdowns passes in a 50-to-7 romp over La Crosse (Wis.) State College.

Bork fired the ball 56 times and made 33 completions for 433 yards.

Another junior and basketball teammate of Bork's, 6-foot-6 High Rohsneider of Burlington, Ill., snared 13 passes for a season total of 76, erasing the national record of 74 set in 1960 by Ken Gregory of Whittier, Calif.

63.1 Completion %
Bork completed the campaign with these aerial accomplishments: 232 completions, 356 attempts, a 65.1 completion percentage, 2,494 yards, and 22 touchdowns.

Earlier in the season, Bork had set a single game completion mark of 37 against Omaha.

This rubs out all major season passing records, for university or college divisions with the exception of the touchdown mark of 26.

The records that fell were 159 completions by Don Klosterman of Los Angeles Loyola in 1951, 315 attempts by Klosterman in 1951, 2,325 yards gained by Don Gottlob of Sam Houston State in 1952, and an accuracy percentage for 150 or more attempts of .641 set by Paul Larson of the University of California in 1954 and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist in 1957.

Bork's touchdown passes Saturday included tosses of 15 and 34 yards to Gary Stearns, 14 and 51 yards to Rich Bader and 35 yards to Jack Dean.

Four Top Games In NFL Showdown

(P)—The title race in the National Football League's Eastern Conference reaches its next showdown stage Sunday with the top four teams paired.

The New York Giants, in first place, put their 6-2 record on the line at Dallas against the Cowboys 4-3-1. The Cowboys are tied for third with the Cleveland Browns, who battle the second-place Washington Redskins (4-2-2) in the nation's capital.

Pittsburgh (4-4), fifth in the east, also can stay in the title fight if it gets by the Cardinals (2-5-1) at St. Louis.

The Western Conference race, all but wrapped up by the defending NFL champion Green Bay Packers (8-0) continues to be a battle for the also-ran spots. The Packers are in Philadelphia against the Eagles (1-6-1).

In other Western Conference action, second-place Detroit (6-2) plays at San Francisco (3-5), Baltimore's Colts (14-4) are at Los Angeles (1-7) and the Minnesota Vikings (2-6) meet the Bears (4-4) in Chicago.

In the American League, Western Division-leading Denver is host to Eastern Leader Boston, Dallas plays at New York, Houston is at Oakland and Buffalo at San Diego.

The smallest bird in New Zealand bears the militant name of rifleman. Only three inches long, the rifleman is a poor flyer and it prefers climbing trees to flying to the top.

Purdue Hex Stops Michigan S. 17-9 In Rose Bowl Bid

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P)—Purdue, which for the past decade has exercised a football hex over Michigan State, defeated the favored Spartans 17-9 Saturday in a bruising Big Ten defensive battle.

Purdue's Omer Ohl converted the Boilermakers' first touchdown in the third period and then added a 27-yard field goal in the fourth to keep the Boilermakers in the race for a possible Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Purdue got an insurance touchdown with only 38 seconds left to play.

Michigan State's lone touchdown, scored in the third period, came on Sherman Lewis' 54-yard run on the first play after Don Underwood had recovered a Purdue fumble. But the Spartans' try for the extra point went wrong with a bad pass from center.

Breaks Decisive
Breaks were decisive in all the early scoring except for Ohl's field goal. Purdue's first touchdown came when Tom Bloom streaked 47 yards down an aisle near the sidelines after intercepting a Pete Smith pass.

The last minute Purdue marker involved a lurching 50-yard run by Ron Walker and then a 1-yard plunge by the fullback.

Michigan State started the scoring when Underwood recovered a Purdue fumble in the second period on the Purdue 20-yard line and three plays later Jim Bobbitt knicked a field goal from the 27.

Spartan Trouble
The final Purdue touchdown also stemmed from a fumble.

Michigan State was making a desperate drive to pull the game out and had worked the ball to the Purdue 32. Charles Migyanka, Spartan quarterback, went back to pass but was dumped so hard by Don Brumm, Purdue's All-America tackle candidate, that he dropped the ball. Brumm recovered.

Gary Hogan slammed into the line for a yard and then on the next play to Walker burst through the line and wove his way for 50 yards to the Michigan State 7.

Two plays later, the ball was on the 1, from where Walker crashed over.

Michigan State, the nation's leading rushing team only 10 days ago, now has been held to two touchdowns in its last two games. Purdue . . . 0 7 10-17 Michigan State . . . 0 3 6-9

CREWMAN SPLASHES TO GARDEN VICTORY

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (P)—Crewman, an appropriately named chestnut son of Sailor, splashed over the water-soaked track Saturday like a gob on shore leave and won the $275,530 Garden State Stakes by 6 lengths at Garden State Park.

It was a stunning climax in the 2-year-old championship struggle of 1962, as Never Bend—the overwhelming favorite—straggled home a poor third. He was the 1-2 choice, first odds-on favorite in the race's history.

Crewman, ridden confidently over the sloppy strip by Willie Shoemaker for his second straight victory in this rich event, took the lead almost at once. He whirled around the 1-16 miles without once taking back and barged home with plenty of daylight over the second horse, Chicagoan Robert F. Benninger, in the Pocket. In The Pocket got second by 3 lengths over Never Bend.

The winning coach, Diz McCarty, graduated from and coached at White Hall before becoming head Railroader mentor this season.

FAYETTE, Mo.—Illinois College scored once in each quarter Saturday afternoon, to hand Central Methodist a 25-6 thumping, and finish with the best Blueboy record since 1939.

Fullback Tom Francis scored a pair of touchdowns, and quarterback Ken Mock and halfback Chauncey Whittaker one apiece in allowing the Blueboys to pick up their sixth win in eight outings this season.

IC thwarted the potent Central Methodist offensive game, which had beaten Principia, one of the two clubs to down the Blueboys this year.

Whittaker broke loose off right tackle on the Blueboys' third play from scrimmage and scampered 66 yards for the initial score in the first period, coming in the first five and a half minutes.

Mock hits receivers
The Blueboys put on a sustained drive early in the second period, carrying from their own 47, with the march highlighted by three passes from Mock to end Bill Baker.

The passes chalked up 50 yards, and the last one gave the Blueboys the ball on the four, where Francis scored his first TD of the game off right tackle. Mock booted the extra point for the 13-0 halftime advantage.

Central Methodist marched to the IC eight yard marker in the quarter, but Billy Nunn picked off an aerial on the goal line and put the visitors out of danger.

Another intercepted pass, by Gary Duffield, set up the third IC score, as he returned it 25 yards to the hosts' 37. Mock bootlegged 14 yards around left end for the score several plays later.

Central Methodist accounted for their only score late in the final quarter, with quarterback Bob Bryant plunging over from the one yard marker.

Illinois College marched from their own 49 to the 19 where Francis racked up the final Blueboy score of the year and the 25-6 win.

The Blueboys outgained the hosts on the ground, 280 yards to 140, but fell back in passing yardage, 81 to 83.

AFL Title Chase In Furious Pace

(P)—The title race in the American Football League continues at its fast and furious pace Sunday with the divisional leaders heading in a battle that may be a preview of the ultimate championship game.

The Denver Broncos, leading the Western Division with a 7-2 record, are host to the Eastern Division-leading Boston Patriots in the day's top attraction. While Boston is only 5-2-1, the Pats already have posted a convincing 41-16 victory over the Broncos in a meeting last month in Boston.

While these two are trying to remain on top, defending league champion Houston is a top-heavy favorite to hand Oakland its ninth loss this year and 15th in succession. Dallas is favored at New York and Buffalo tries to keep its title hopes alive in the East at San Diego.

In the National League, Green Bay is at Philadelphia, New York at Dallas, Cleveland at Washington, Detroit at San Francisco, Pittsburgh at St. Louis, Baltimore at Los Angeles and Minnesota at Chicago.

Both Denver and Boston are only one-half game in first place. The Broncos must win to stay ahead of Dallas and beat the Titans and the upstart Patriots have to win to remain in front of the Oilers triumph. New York and Buffalo have only outside chances in the Eastern Division.

PIPER CITY PREP GETS 222
PIPER CITY, Ill. (P)—Doug Harford, Piper City High School football back, amassed a season scoring total of 222 points.

This tied an apparent Illinois record set in 1957 by Lester Feunquay of Eldorado.

Harford scored 34 of Piper City's 49 points run against 12 for Sapemlin Friday.

Parseghian Stunned By Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (P)—"They overpowered us," said Northwestern football Coach Ara Parseghian, unable to hide the shock of hearing his own words recap the dethronement of his first-ranked Wildcats Saturday.

"Wisconsin ran the same plays, they had the same defenses, they did everything we expected, but they did it with greater execution and with greater determination," he added.

The replies came hard for the stunned Northwestern coach as newsmen huddled around.

"How did the game get so out of hand?" a questioner asked trying for an explanation of the 37-6 victory by the fired-up Badgers.

"I wish I had an answer to that, I really wish I did," was Parseghian's reply.

Bruhn At Loss
Coach Milt Bruhn, in the victorious Wisconsin quarters, had his trouble with words, too, but his was an inability to find enough of them.

"This is a game that will have to go down in the books. It was our best of the year," Bruhn declared.

Then he volunteered that newsmen "just have to say that this was Ron VanderKelen's day" because Wisconsin's quarterback did everything in grand manner.

In his personal duel with All-America candidate Tom Myers, the Wildcat signal caller, VanderKelen was in Bruhn's words, "just superb."

Both coaches agreed that the rush Wisconsin put on Myers was the chief factor in the outcome.

Parseghian said it was the "heaviest" his team had come up against in seven games. "Their rush for Myers forced us to try to pass long, and that gave the Badgers the chance to put the ball blitz on."

Bruhn said Wisconsin's rush and "solid defense, especially in the deep secondary did the job for us." In addition to lauding VanderKelen's showing Bruhn had lots of praise for backs Lou Holland, Gary Kroner and Ralph Kurek.

"All three of them had their best day," Bruhn said.

The Badger coach said that as early as Monday he and his staff "could almost sense what was going to happen today. This was as ready as we've been all year."

Hard-Nosed Minn. Stops Iowa 10-0

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—Hard-nosed Minnesota blunted Iowa's running attack and took the edge off an expected Hawkeye aerial blitz with two key pass interceptions to chalk up a 10-0 Big Ten victory Saturday and remain in the thick of the conference title race.

The Gophers struck for a touchdown early in the fourth quarter to put it away after nurturing only a 3-0 edge from late in the first half on Collin Versich's 27-yard field goal.

Quarterback Duane Blaska guided the Gophers to their only touchdown on a 44-yard drive. He scored it himself on a dive into the end zone from the four just 1:19 into the final period. It was Blaska's flat passes to Gopher halfbacks in motion that got the bulk of the drive's yardage.

Iowa's Matt Szykowny never could generate any consistent aerial offensive and wound up completing 9 of 16 passes for 74 yards. Iowa . . . 0 0 0 0-0 Minnesota . . . 0 3 7-10

Scoring Machine At Camp Randall

MADISON, Wis. (P)—Rose Bowl-minded Wisconsin shocked Northwestern, the nation's No. 1 football power, with an explosive attack and a bruising defense in knocking the Wildcats from the unbeaten ranks 37-6 Saturday behind the brilliant master-minding of Ron VanderKelen.

The Badgers, rated eighth in the country, scored a touchdown and a field goal the first two times they had the ball and then buried the stunned Wildcats with a 21-point outburst in the third period.

Gary Kroner, a senior halfback who had not scored a touchdown this season, tallied the first 17 points and then added a pair

Notre Dame Rips Into Pitt, 42-33 Behind Lamonica

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, playing the brand of football with which they once terrorized the nation, crushed Pittsburgh 42-33 Saturday behind the superb passing of quarterback Darly Lamonica.

Packing 22 points in the first quarter, Notre Dame scored its third victory in seven games and rolled up its highest point total in the four-year reign of Coach Joe Kuharich.

Lamonica, the 21-year-old senior from Fresno, Calif., who apparently found himself in last week's 20-12 victory over Navy, tossed four touchdown passes, three of which went to his favorite tight end, Kelly.

Combining Kelly's 11 times the Lamonica-to-Kelly combination clicked 11 times for 127 yards while Lamonica, enjoying the finest day of his career, connected on 17 of 36 passes for 314 yards.

Notre Dame took command from the opening kickoff and left little doubt of the outcome after the first 12 minutes of play. Lamonica took to the air after the kickoff and the Irish pounded 58 yards in 10 plays for a touchdown when sophomore Don Hogan carrying for the final 4 yards.

Before the first quarter ended with Notre Dame ahead 22-0, the Irish gambled and won on a fourth-and-3 situation, faked a point-after-touchdown kick into a two-point run and scored two touchdowns on Lamonica-to-Kelly passes.

Pitt Fights Back
Despite this awesome display of power, Pitt kept fighting and left the field at halftime trailing Notre Dame 29-14. Jim Traficant capped a 60-yard march with a 4-yard touchdown run and halfback Ed Clark raced 56 for a touchdown on a snappy double-reverse play.

In addition to this, the Panthers scored on a 93-yard kickoff return in the fourth quarter by Fred Murek but it simply wasn't Pittsburgh's day.

Notre Dame scored one of its touchdowns after recovering a fumble, another after blocking a punt and still another with Penn State's Pete Billey failed to get a kick away after fumbling the ball.

It was Notre Dame's greatest scoring surge since the Irish smashed Southern Methodist 54-21 in 1957.

Palmer-Snead Duo Keep Canada Cup, U.S. Hopes Alive

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—Sam Snead and Arnold Palmer of the United States clung to their lead in the Canada Cup Golf Championship Saturday after Argentina's Fidel de Luca threatened it with a sensational string of five straight birdies before blowing up.

At the end of 54 holes, the favored Snead-Palmer combination was still out in front with an aggregate score of 414, four strokes ahead of Argentina, with the final 18 holes scheduled for Sunday.

The day's play over the Jockey Club's 6,746-yard course near Buenos Aires was marked by numerous bogeys as tricky greens tripped up top professionals from 34 nations.

Snead's game came apart as he racked up four bogeys and a double bogey to wind up with a damaging 2-over-par 77-35-72.

But as Slammin' Sammy faltered, Palmer steadied, and came in with a 1-under-par 69, despite three bogeys, to save the day for the United States.

De Luca threw a scare into the U.S. camp when he birdied the first five holes of the front nine for the first time in the Canada Cup's 10-year-old history.

But the swarthy Argentine double-bogeyed the sixth, bogeyed the seventh and double-bogeyed the eighth to lose back in three holes the five strokes he picked up.

De Luca finished up with a 34-38-72 and his partner, Roberto de Vicenzo wound up with a 34-35-69.

Australia's Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson, who were in second place at the end of the halfway mark, slipped to third place with an aggregate of 426.

Barnum Burns Up Cajun Tournery

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—John Barnum, who started playing golf before most of today's fairway aces were born, burned up the rolling Oakbourne Country Club course Saturday with a record-equaling 63 to jump into a 3-stroke lead at the end of the third round of the $17,500 Cajun Classic Golf Tournament.

The 52-year-old Barnum—a transplanted Texan—fashioned a 31-32 on his round and finished with a 54-hole total of 201.

Already 15 strokes under par, his round was one stroke lower than the record for 72 holes set last year when Doug Sanders won the Cajun Classic.

Barnum, a teaching pro from Blytheville, Mich., a suburb of Grand Rapids, collected nine birdies in his torrid round.

His 63 equaled the mark set at Oakbourne last year by pudgy Bob Rosburg, the Portland Ore. swinger with the unorthodox grip. Rosburg is not competing here this year.

Barnum forged ahead of Gay Brewer—19 years his junior—on the ninth hole when he pushed his tee shot within 18 inches of the pin and then holed it for a birdie 2.

Brewer, a Kentuckian who plays out of Tequesta, Fla., shot a 69 for a 54-hole total of 204, three strokes behind Barnum.

In third place was Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex., who blasted a 66 on Saturday for a 207.

Texas Jolts Baylor Behind Wade 27-12

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Lightning streaked through cloudless skies Saturday in the form of quarterback Tommy Wade and the jolt carried nationally-ranked Texas to a 27-12 victory over Baylor's Bears.

Wade, locked in a passing duel with Baylor's Don Trull, fired two touchdown bolts, dove one yard for another and directed the undefeated Longhorns to their seventh victory of the year.

With only a 14-14 tie marring their record, the Steers moved a step nearer their second straight Southwest Conference championship.

Wade hurried passes of 54 and 14 yards for the first two Texas touchdowns, spotting Tommy Land on the first and Sandy Sanders on the second.

Tailback Jerry Cook scampered eight yards for the third and Wade closed out the Longhorn scoring with five minutes left on a plunge from the 1. Shoeless kicker Tony Crosby converted after the first three.

Baylor scored first early in the initial quarter as Trull moved the Bears through the air to the 1, back where he sneaked in. Halfback Ronnie Goodwin called an 18-yard payoff pitch to end James Ingram for the final Bear marker.

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL

Pinckneyville downed Hillsboro to open the 1960-61 season by scoring 102 points as Coach Don Stanton's club went on a scoring spree.

Now the former Pinckneyville mentor is drilling the Canton cagers and a glimpse at the practice session last week indicated great improvement over last season for the "Little Giants" of Canton high.

Coach Stanton succeeded the veteran "Duster" Thomas at Pinckneyville high in 1956 and he installed the fast break offense for the "Pincks," the style he learned at St. Louis University. Canton will get their test in the tough Quincy high invitational four team tourney next month.

Coach Rich Maack's Paris Tigers are favored to cop the Eastern Illinois cage title this season. He is a graduate of Collinsville high and formerly coached at Pittsfield high before moving to the Eastern Illinois coaching job.

Coach Bill Butkovich of Tuscola's football champs was in an auto accident last Sunday but escaped serious injury. His team won the conference title Friday night in downing Arcola.

Virden high school officials want to fill an open date in football next season. The "Bulldogs" are dropping Beardstown high and want to fill that date with a Central Illinois high school.

Albie Plain, soph mentor at Springfield high, might be the new head basketball coach succeeding the successful Ray Page who won the election last Tuesday as superintendent of public instruction.

Jim Spink was in charge of Bradley's football team at Milwaukee last week as Coach Billy Stone was in Methodist hospital in Peoria. Spink is a former star athlete at Jacksonville high and coached at Illinois School for Deaf.

Galesburg and Quincy have renewed athletic relationship this season after severing relations due to the transfer of Bumpy Nixon and his brother a few years ago. Galesburg is favored in football while Quincy will be the cage favorite this year.

Four of the five starters of 1959 Canton high basketball team coached by Charles Crosby will graduate this year including Dave Downey, Illinois' most valuable basketball player last season; Jim Standard and Dick Wright at Parsons college in Iowa and John Nelson at Colorado State college who played regular and this season, Mike Marinich, fifth member of that five that lost a thriller to Peoria Central by a single point in the sectional tourney, is a service station attendant in Peoria. He attended St. Ambrose college for one year after graduation from high school.

More than 11,000 fans watched Peoria Manual win over Richwoods last week. It was the largest crowd to watch a prep game in Peoria as the 1951 Manual-Pekin game claimed the record prior to this season's standout that decided the Mid State conference champion.

Mississippi Raps Tiny Chattanooga

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP)—Fourth-ranked Mississippi toyed with Little Chattanooga Saturday and rolled to a 52-7 victory.

The Rebels, who outclassed Chattanooga in every department, marched almost at will and scored in every quarter. Mississippi amassed 545 total yards from scrimmage to 129 for Chattanooga.

Ole Miss starters played seldom after the opening minutes and substitutes had a field day against the porous Moccasin defenses. Seven Rebel backs scored touchdowns and Ole Miss added two safeties and six conversions.

Chattanooga showed its only threat in the second period as quarterback Ron Eisman completed four passes to carry the team 61 yards for its touchdown. The final six yards came on a toss to halfback Jim Bradshaw.

HANNIBAL, Mo. — Jacksonville High and Ron Yates ended their season and high school careers, respectively, in grand style Saturday evening, swamping the Hannibal Pirates 35-7.

Yates gave the Crimsons an early lead in the contest, scoring three touchdowns and three extra points in the first half, and added another pair of PATs to run his point total to 25 for the game.

The Hannibal offensive moved only once downfield during the game, as the stiff Crimsons defense continually broke through to throw the Pirates for losses. Unable to run, the Pirates took to the air, but found the going no easier, completing none of ten attempts.

The powerful Crimsons ground attack chewed up 319 yards rushing, including 232 in the first half on 23 plays from scrimmage. Halfback Willie Brown and fullback Larry Hacker ran well for the winners throughout the game, and picked up a touchdown apiece.

Jacksonville got the first break in the ball game on the opening kickoff, recovering on the Hannibal 29, and marched to the three yard marker where Yates lunged over for his first score of the night. He soon added the PAT on a boot.

90 Yards By Yates
Early in the second quarter, Yates took a pitchout from quarterback Greg Spangenberg and traveled 90 yards around end for the second score and added the PAT for the 14-0 advantage.

After holding the hosts to nothing on the ground, the Crimsons used a 15 yard penalty and runs by Brown and Hacker to move to the 12 where Yates once again carried over and added the extra point for a 21-0 lead.

Brown cashed in on an 18 yard scamper late in the first half, breaking away from a host of tacklers around left end, and Yates made it 28-0 at halftime.

After pushing the Pirates back again early in the second half, the Crimsons got the ball on their own 49 and marched down to the 16 where Hacker swung across and a 35-0 lead.

Numerous penalties and fumbles stopped both clubs in the remaining time until the Pirates took over on their own 37 and moved steadily downfield to the three where Joe Stewart plunged over for the only Hannibal score of the evening. Maurice Forte ran the extra point to tie the game.

The Crimsons got another scoring opportunity in the same quarter, but were stopped when an attempted field goal fell short of its mark with less than a minute remaining.

The win gives the Crimsons a respectable 8-1 season record and left the Pirates at 3-6 for the year.

MIZOU HANGS 57-0 LOSS ON COLORADO

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Johnny Roland scored three touchdowns as Missouri swept the bench and scored in every quarter to defeat Colorado 57-0 in a Big Eight Conference football game Saturday.

The victory gave the undefeated Tigers a 5-0 conference mark and set the stage for a showdown with Oklahoma, also undefeated in league play, at Norman next Saturday. The only blot in eight games for seventh-ranked Missouri is a scoreless tie with Minnesota.

Roland had touchdown runs of 14, 10, and 10 yards. The first two came in the opening period, the third just after the start of the second half. He also pitched a 2-point conversion pass to Ken Hinkley in the second period.

Roland also had a 75-yard punt return touchdown called back for clipping.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

The Legion Post's Drum & Bugle Corps Of 1926

This picture will hold many memories for viewers who recall the pride and dignity of the members of the Jacksonville American Legion Post Drum and Bugle Corps of 1926. The picture taken on the steps of the Courthouse, was on the occasion when the late Sergeant Alvin York of Tennessee, World War One hero, spoke in Jacksonville. Just 8 years after the declaration of Armistice of World War One patriotism was still a cherished characteristic. The glory and fervor of 'Armistice Day' has long faded with the passing of World War Two and the Korean conflict. The November 11th memorial observance is now Veterans Day with veterans of all wars, and those serving in all branches of the military, being honored.

Mrs. Del Roman, 215 East Pennsylvania, recently found an old book in her attic that contained the picture shown above. Her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hauser, were contacted because the former was a member of the group. Between the two families the correct identity of all the men was established.

Cancer Crusade For Morgan Over Expected Goal

The executive board of the Morgan county chapter of the American Cancer society met at the board room of the Farmer's State Bank, with Mrs. Robert Manlove, president, presiding.

The highlight of the many committee reports was the report of the treasurer, G. William Schildman, that the final Crusade showed a grand total of $6,610.78 collected for the fight against cancer. This was considerably above the goal of $5,800 set for the society.

Also Schildman reported that the entire Cancer Crusade this year was carried out with the expense of only $20.36 locally.

The executive board then passed unanimously the motion expressing a vote of thanks to Don W. McCongia, Crusade chairman, for the year 1962. Also thanks were expressed by the board to the Journal-Courier, radio station WJLS and radio station WJIL for the cooperation the chapter received during the year and especially during the Crusade.

The board decided to purchase a new loan bed which will be available to cancer patients free of charge.

Mrs. Manlove announced that the nominating committee, composed of Dean Welsh, Marianne Kaufmann, Dr. Paul Norris, Mrs. I. Garrison, and Don McCongia, would be ready to report at the annual meeting which will be held Tuesday, Nov. 13, at the Passavant School of Nursing building. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

Article Ties Up Morgan History With Debutane

King of this city and the late Mr. King.

The material reads: "Some interesting lore is revived in discussing ties of Miss Elizabeth King Cluxton, one of those who will bow in this year's Passavant Debutante cotillion, with the hospital."

Miss Cluxton's great grandfather, Dr. W. H. H. King, was a close friend and associate of the Rev. William Alfred Passavant, the Lutheran minister who founded the hospitals which bear his name here (Chicago) and in Jacksonville, Ill.

"But her Illinois roots go even deeper, back to her great, great grandfather, Dr. John Allen of New Salem, a graduate of Dartmouth College and the only college graduate in that settlement. In addition to his professional duties, says his great granddaughter, Mrs. Harley E. Cluxton, Jr., mother of the debutante, Dr. Allen was also the intellectual leader of the community and physician as well as personal friend of Abraham Lincoln."

One tablespoon of water is usually added to a slightly beaten egg when this mixture is to be used as a dip in breading chops or similar foods. But if there isn't enough of the egg to go around, you can add a teaspoon or two of water for dipping the last pieces of food.

No Walls Around Freedom

The United States has its deep divisions, underscored as always in the stridency of its election campaigns.

Differing attitudes toward our cherished freedom lead to some of these cleavages. Men disagree as to what freedom really is, how it shall be exercised, and how protected.

Very few among us are believed to want some kind of authoritarian rule, whether Communist or any other, in place of what we have. Indeed, one of our great splits developed over the matter of preventing just such rule from being imposed.

Many ultraconservatives feel that this danger lies as much within our borders as beyond them. They believe that in our midst are not only foreign agents but many Americans who are either conscious servants or dupes of communism.

And they think that this country's 30-year trend toward more heavily centralized government plays directly into the hands of the authoritarian cause.

A good number of those who believe thus seem to conceive of freedom principally as a bastion to be defended.

The visiting Archbishop of Canterbury may or may not have had such Americans in mind when he talked of freedom recently in the nation's capital. But what he said bears directly on the conflict in this country over how to safeguard freedom.

It does not survive, he said, by

"being protected behind a rampart." Freedom finds its greatest, its only safety in "going forth and doing creative work" in areas that need its rich sustenance.

"Freedom is a deep and difficult thing," he added. "It is a very spiritual thing. It has to be growing, deepening and widening all the time. If it is not, then it is declining."

There is no suggestion in this that freedom should not be defended against its enemies—only the notion that this posture is not enough to assure its survival.

Perhaps many of those who appear primarily concerned with this defensive posture would quickly say they are as eager as anyone for aggressive extensions of freedom. Maybe it is mainly a question of emphasis which is involved here.

If this is so, then it is not unreasonable to expect from them a warm sympathy for those Americans who like to stress the other side of the coin—taking risks with freedom by offering its material and spiritual benefits in regions of the world where it is now either thwarted or viewed with doubt and even contempt.

When we come to feel that the defense of freedom at home is more important than the creative enlargement of it everywhere, then, if the Archbishop of Canterbury should happen to be right, we may not really be defending liberty at all.

Democratic Gains Project Kennedy as '64 Candidate

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — With returns not yet official as this is written and some detailed revisions possible, the Kennedy administration can claim a qualified mid-term victory.

This will be true even if the Democrats do no better than hold their own in the House of Representatives, or even if they lose a few. For they still retain control of Congress.

To do this they overcame for the first time since 1934 the historic loss of from 25 to 30 House seats for the party in control of the White House at a mid-term election. In the last five mid-term elections this loss has averaged 36 seats. Anything better than that is an upset.

In the Senate, the Democratic victory was even greater. By increasing their majority several seats, the Democrats overcame a traditional mid-term election loss of eight seats for the party in control of the White House. The principal consolation for the Republicans seems to be that they made slight gains in the South, winning in new congressional districts in Florida, Texas and Tennessee.

More numbers do not tell the real story, however. It will take a test vote in the House on a key domestic issue in the Kennedy administration program to show the strength of the conservative coalition of Republicans and Democrats.

Indications are that the division in the next Congress will not be much different from the last. So, although the President made gains he did not gain enough to overcome the handicap to his programs.

The all-important committee chairmanships remain in the same conservative hands, every Democratic chairman having been re-elected.

From the Republican point of view, a lot of things that could have made the going tougher for the Democrats didn't happen. Even Republican National Committee Chairman William E. Miller conceded early that the Cuban issue which the GOP hammered so hard was not a decisive issue. But the fact that the Cuban situation did not materially affect election results bears out the experience of the mid-term battle of 1950, after the Korean War outbreak and the mid-term battle of 1942, after the outbreak of World War II.

Continued high unemployment, which hurt the Republicans greatly, did not seem to have brought out a protest vote against the party in power this year.

The business recession, the stock market break and the steel price freeze earlier this year were either too far in the background or did not affect enough voters to be a factor.

There was no apparent farm revolt. The farm belt is normally Republican territory and that's the way it went predominantly this year. Democratic victories here were for other reasons.

Organized labor issues were far less a factor in this election than in past campaigns. Though union leaders complained bitterly that the last Congress did not pass enough of the Kennedy domestic program, the activities of COPE, the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education—went practically unnoticed this year.

Finally and perhaps most significantly, the extreme right wing opposition which has made so much noise in the past few years proved to be a political dud. The three John Birch Society members of Congress from California were defeated in their bids for re-election. Elsewhere, the rightists showed no political organizing ability and no strength whatever.

Looking ahead to 1964, this election has put the Democrats in control of 68 per cent of the governorships, 68 per cent of the Senate and about 60 per cent of the House.

Though President John F. Kennedy was not himself a candidate in this election, his program and his conduct of the White House were the issues. The result of the election insures that he will be the Democratic candidate to succeed him.

And he will be an awfully tough man for any Republican to beat, whether his name be Rockefeller or Romney or Scranton or Goldwater or even Nixon.

NEW YORK (AP) — Thanks to a growing trend toward shatterproof and translucent fiber glass in place of glass, a generation of window breakers may be standing on the brink of frustration.

New York City in 1960 and 1961 spent $1,349,680 to replace 340,811 panes of broken glass in school buildings. Now the city has approved use of the new material for replacement of window panes in older schools, after a year of testing in a Brooklyn school.

The manufacturer, Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corporation, says before installation at a school on Long Island, the custodian conducted his own test. When the steel shot from his rifle ricocheted off the fiber glass windows, he approved their purchase and installation.

Nondishwashing Husbands May Not All Be Scoundrels

By RUTH MILLETT.

A recent news item says that "a stubborn 28 per cent of American husbands absolutely refuse to help their wives with the dishes."

Before that 28 per cent are labeled stubborn some more facts about them ought to be uncovered. Does the husband who refuses to help with the dishes have children who are old enough to help out in the kitchen? If so, perhaps he rightly thinks that they, instead of he, ought to be mama's little helper.

Has the husband who shuns dishwashing provided his wife with a dishwasher? If so, he probably considers that he is "helping" with the dishes when he provides his wife with an electric helper.

Is the wife of the husband who won't either wash or dry the dishes a full-time homemaker? If so, her husband may quite naturally feel that if he doesn't expect his wife to bring home a pay check she shouldn't expect him to wear an apron around the house.

Is the husband who reads the paper while his wife does the dishes alone still working as hard as ever at his job while his wife, with the children grown and gone from home, has had her job considerably lightened? If so, the

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon carried two slogans around in his head for years: Be careful about a battle; and a good loser never gets angry at anyone but himself.

This week he disregarded both of them after he lost in his election bid to unseat California's Democratic governor, Edmund G. Brown. It was a defeat which probably ends his political career.

A few minutes after admitting defeat, Nixon walked into a conference of about 100 newsmen and, in a rambling, bitter and sometimes almost incoherent way, denounced them for what he claimed was unfairness in covering his campaign.

Yet, 75 per cent of the California newspapers which took sides endorsed him.

The fear that sometimes after the battle he might be so tired that he would make a mistake in judgment has been on Nixon's mind for years. It comes out in the book he wrote this year about the "Six Crises" in his life.

But the book also shows that his feeling of unfair treatment by the press also goes away back. There is even an indication in it that he thinks newsmen are only fair to him when they are on his "team."

He repeats the following statement in one form or another: "The point of greatest danger for an individual confronted with a crisis is not during the period of preparation for battle, but in the period immediately after the battle is over."

"Then, completely exhausted and drained emotionally, he must watch his decisions most carefully. Then there is an increasing possibility of an error because he may lack the necessary cushion of emotional and mental reserve which is essential for good judgment."

He even quotes his old college football coach, Chief Newman, on how to be a good loser. He considered Newman a "talented molder of character" and has him saying in the book:

"You must never be satisfied with losing. You must get angry, terribly angry, about losing. But the mark of a good loser is that he takes his anger out on himself, and not on his victorious opponents or his teammates."

Nixon said: "I take the responsibility" for losing, when he walked into the news conference but then, after praising his 100,000 volunteer workers, blamed them for not getting out enough votes. This, he said, cost him the election.

Nor was he gracious to Brown or President Kennedy who beat him for the White House in 1960. He called Brown the "people's choice" and said he hoped Brown's "leadership will now become more decisive."

He said he thought Kennedy could do all right in foreign policy "if he has his own way" but suggested the President get rid of those "woolly heads around him."

Nixon's greatest bitterness was towards the newsmen who, he said, kicked him around.

But in his book he complained about unfair treatment even in 1952 when, running with President Eisenhower, he won the vice presidency.

He complained that while the top-flight newsmen go around with presidential candidates, only the lesser-known ones follow the would-be vice presidents. And he threw this complaint into his book, too: "While most newspaper publishers are Republicans, the majority of the working reporters are Democrats."

He indicated in his book his idea of how reporters should act when assigned to him, citing that 1952 campaign: "Going through the fire of crisis together had welded the members of my staff and several of the reporters into a high-spirited united team."

This could be taken to mean that unless reporters want to be on his team they must be against him. It doesn't seem to occur to him that a lot of newsmen wouldn't, and don't, play on anybody's team.

FINDING THE WAY

Get Out of Neutral

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

No man should be pushed around nor should any group be exploited. Strangely enough, an age which boasts of freedom now discovers this moral problem. It happens when mobs break loose and individuals discover that they cannot speak. It happens when ears and eyes and minds are turned to appeals to follow the crowd. It happens when tyrants enslave—whether that be in an economy, in a family circle, or in an office, as well as behind an Iron Curtain.

A few years ago a janitor celebrated his 60th anniversary at his place of employment. When a reporter inquired how he had managed to survive a variety of bosses he replied, "Oh, I just shifted into neutral and went where I was pushed."

Yet it is a principle of civilization that slavery enslaves. Just as no man desires to be a slave, so no man is ennobled when he enforces. The same principle works in the business of manipulating people.

No man enjoys discovering that someone has exploited his friendship. The fellow who joins the group, the club or the church to get a good name on a reference blank participates in a dishonesty which undercuts integrity. The "persuaders" who distort values are guilty of this same "pushing change came into his own life when he began acting on his faith instead of worrying about his doubts. The tragedy of so much of our shifting into neutral is simply that we refuse to think, act and live in terms of that which we already believe.

We are meant to be human beings, not things, redeemed souls, not Social Security numbers, men of responsible freedom, not neutral automatons.

When a man decides not to be pushed around he becomes a person who pushes people up. The value of true greatness is always in the ability to lift the values of all people. When Jane Addams was buried, some of the nation's great leaders came to praise this simple lady of foreign birth who insisted on speaking the eulogy which is best remembered from the events of that day. Said she, "She pushed me up."

This is far better than pushing people around. It brings a person out of an immoral neutrality to that place of integrity where he understands the challenge of Jesus. "Set your heart on his kingdom and his goodness, and all these things will come to you as a matter of course."

FOOD FOR AMERICANS
Turkey Meat Is Nutritious

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q—We use a lot of turkey for economy reasons. But is turkey as high in food value as meat?

A—Yes. It supplies large percentages of many of the essential nutrients recommended for the daily diet. Turkey meat is especially valuable for the body-building proteins it provides at relatively low calorie levels. It heads the list of lean meats for high complete protein content. It is also highest in the B vitamins, niacin and riboflavin. Its low fat content, unsaturated, and its cholesterol content is among the lowest in meats. It ranks high for calcium and other necessary minerals.

Q—Is it all right to thaw a several days at room temperature?

A—No. Frozen turkeys should "never" be thawed at room temperature or warm water. In thawing, follow package direction or thaw by one or a combination of these methods—slowly.

1. Place bird, still in its original body wrap, under running cold water. Allow 2 to 6 hours.

2. Leave bird in its original wrap. Place on tray in refrigerator.

Prompt cooking of a fresh or thawed turkey is preferable. A thawed, ready-to-cook or a fresh turkey can be kept for 2 to 3 days in a refrigerator at 38 degrees F. or less. Wrap bird loosely in foil or moisture-proof paper for refrigerator storage. Do not refreeze poultry.

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't pass over this problem as trivial. I need help.

My boy friend and I are both 17. The trouble centers around the telephone. Seymour calls me every afternoon after school. We talk about an hour. Sometimes I want to get off because I have other things to do or someone else wants the phone, but Seymour insists on staying on. When I ask him to please hang off he becomes annoyed and keeps right on talking.

The other evening I lost my temper when he refused to say goodbye. I shrieked, "If you insist on tying up the line for hours?" He hung up on me. Five minutes later he called back and I hung up on "him."

Seymour is a perfect gentleman in every other way. How can I solve this telephone problem?—BUSY SIGNAL.

Dear Signal: Seymour has black cord fever, for which there is no known cure. If I were you I'd say, "Look, Seymour, from now on you've got to call 15 minutes telephone dead-line. If you can't meet it, don't call." Put an alarm clock by the telephone and set it. When the bell goes off—you go, too.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 34, no kid, and at the moment I am torn to pieces trying to decide between my parents and the man I love. When I was 18 I made a bad marriage. I stuck it out for ten years for the children's sake—hoping I could make it work, but it was impossible.

I've been divorced almost five years and I want to remarry. The man is 38 and wonderful. He gets along well with my children and is eager to be a father to them. But my parents will not even meet the man because he has lived half of his life in another country.

They say no one from that country can be any good.

I hate to go against my parents as they have been very generous to me and the children. I don't know what I would have done without them. Is there any word of help you can give me?—TORN BETWEEN

Dear Torn Between: Unless your parents can come up with a better reason, my advice is to go ahead and marry the man. It's unfair of you folks to pass judgment on a person they've never met. Every man has the right to be judged on the basis of his own merit as an individual. Obviously they are prejudiced against him because of his nationality. Don't allow your feelings of gratitude to blur your thinking.

Dear Ann Landers: I wish the husband of "Miserable" and all people who are afraid of former tuberculosis patients could realize that "they" are a greater menace to "us" than we are to them. To begin with, no patient is ever released from a T.B. sanitarium until the disease has been arrested and there is no chance of passing it on.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

REDUCING GRAIN SURPLUSES SLOW AND EXPENSIVE

Progress in cutting surplus grain stocks is slow. It is also expensive—with present "voluntary" programs. This is why some government officials want compulsory production controls.

Total carryover stocks of corn were reduced from an all-time high of 2,008 million bushels on October 1 last year to 1,613 million bushels on the same date this year. The latest carryover represented 44 per cent of the 1961 crop.

Surplus Corn. Not all of the carryover of old corn can be counted as surplus. Before the government began to store corn, farmers and commercial firms carried over about 10 per cent of a crop from one year to the next. At the production levels of recent years, that would be about 400 million bushels. Subtracting 400 million bushels of corn from the total carryovers would leave about 1,200 million bushels of surplus corn on October 1 compared with 1,600 million bushels last fall. The reduction is 25 per cent.

Some people say that we should carry over more than 10 per cent of a crop—maybe 20 to 30 per cent. Perhaps so, but it costs money to store corn. Costs run up to 20 cents per bushel per year, and this expense is part of the costs of the "farm program." We cannot expect big reductions in costs of storing farm products if the government keeps large stocks on hand.

Sorghum Grain. During the same period—that is, in the year ended October 1—carryover stocks of sorghum grain were reduced from 702 million to 658 million bushels. Per acre yields vary considerably from year to year, so we might say that a normal carryover would be 20 per cent of a crop, or about 110 million bushels. This would place surplus stocks of sorghum grain on October 1 at about 550 million bushels, or just 7 per cent less than one year before.

Other Grains. Stocks of oats on October 1 were listed at 974 million bushels, practically the same as last fall. Stocks of barley were 448 million bushels, up 3 per cent. The carryover of old soybeans on October 1 was listed at 58 million bushels, up from just 6 million bushels a year earlier. The increase in stocks of soybeans and barley partly offsets the decreases in corn and sorghum grain.

Adding Up. To put all the pieces together, we counted the sorghum grain and barley as equal to the same weight of corn, and a bushel of soybeans as equal to 2.4 bushels of corn. Stocks of corn decreased 396 million bushels in the year ended October 1. The decrease in sorghum grain stocks was equivalent to 39 million bushels of corn. These decreases add up to 435 million bushels of corn equivalent.

The increase in soybean stocks was equivalent to 124 million bushels of corn, and the increase in barley to 12 million bushels. These increases in stocks add up to 136 million bushels of corn equivalent. Subtracting increases from decreases shows that the net reduction in surplus stocks was equivalent to about 300 million bushels of corn.

Costs. Direct cost of this reduction was reported to be about $770 million. This cost was in payments to farmers who reduced acreages. Indirect costs, such as losses on corn taken over from farmers at $1.20 a bushel, may add considerably more to the total bill.

ADVERTISE — IT PAYS

Annual Meeting Of New Co-Op Held In Iowa

Melvin E. Sims of Liberty, Adams county, was reelected president of FS Services, Inc., when the farm business cooperative held its first annual meeting in Davenport, Iowa.

Everette Phelps of Rockton and Albert Penning of Appleton, Iowa, were reelected vice presidents and Russell M. Gordon of Palmyra was reelected secretary.

The cooperative was formed last summer by the merger of Illinois Farm Supply and the Farm Bureau Service Company of Iowa. It distributes plant food, feed, petroleum products and other farm supplies to 141 member companies who operate 1,200 supply outlets manned by 3,000 employees.

In the last fiscal year the new corporation handled a combined wholesale business of more than $100 million.

Attending the meeting from Morgan county were Director Delegate Frank Flynn and Mrs. Flynn of Jacksonville; Roy Nickel of Concord, Farm Bureau president; Everett Reynolds, president, Illinois Farm Bureau Serum association; J. D. Bunting, Morgan Service Co. manager; Alfred Enke, assistant manager, and Edward Dirksmeier, sales manager.

University of Illinois agricultural engineers advise farmers to select their drain tile very carefully. Like the proverbial link in a chain, a tile system is no better than the weakest piece of tile. Inspect the tile as delivered, and cull out those that have deep cracks, large checks and honeycombed walls. Also reject tile that is out-of-round or warped and that has ragged ends. Be sure that concrete tile is cured before you lay it in the trench.

Vermilion Socrates Crescent

With dairy cows disappearing like the morning dew it is surprising to learn that two Morgan county men are developing a purebred Guernsey herd. Dairying in this county — it never was a prime milk producing area — has been on the skids since 1936. That year the township assessors found 9,800 milk cows in the county.

The number dropped steadily year by year until there were only 3,200 in 1956, and then it fell off at a dizzy rate. There's about 1,500 cows in the county today.

The "milk mess" is giving the boys in Washington plenty of trouble. Cow numbers are away down from what they were 30 years ago, and the population has boomed, but there is definitely too much milk that can be sold at what can be termed a profitable rate to the producer.

Demand Down. Practically nobody buys butter today. Weight watchers, eager but naive, shy away from milk in any form. Fluid milk consumption has dropped alarmingly, as some "experts" found it a factor in the increasing incidence of heart disease in the United States and other "experts" found some milk carries an alarming amount of radioactive strontium.

Overlooked is that most heart disease hits older people and never before has older people constituted such a large section of the total population. Overlooked, also, is that many other foods often contain more radioactive strontium than milk.

Ice cream consumption is about the only bright light in the milk picture.

So the price of milk has been unfavorable, and the number of dairy cows has been whittled.

Hence, it's surprising to learn of a new Guernsey milking herd being established on a farm three miles south of Rees.

The partners in the venture are William W. Seymour and Ernest Mabel Hamm.

They got into the business in August, 1961: are now milking 25 cows, and they're rather proud of their young herd bull, Vermilion Socrates Crescent.

"Practically By Accident" Asked how they happened to get into Guernsey business Seymour replied:

"Well, it was practically by accident! Ernie and I were down in Jefferson county looking for some gradually. Dr. Helper says, 'He's trading stock that we could buy plain. An unconditioned dog right and we ran across a fine old man work until he collapses from gentleman. He said that he had exhaustion if he's run with other some mighty good Guernsey cattle conditioned dogs.'"

Dr. Helper also stresses these

He said he'd like to sell them all in a bunch to somebody who would keep them together.

"We were touched by his story and asked him to price them. He did so, and we were in the dairy company in Decatur."

"I've enjoyed this venture much more than I imagined I would," Seymour says. "The purebred business is more complicated than I thought, but the people interested in it are the finest people I ever met. I've been to several of the big sales in the north end of the state in recent weeks and it is a joy and a pleasure to make fellowship with them."

"I'm going to the Guernsey show at the International Exposition in Chicago late this month—just to meet the folks and learn what I can."

Proposed Clear Creek Watershed In Cass

Clear Creek is mighty muddy sometimes. After heavy rains this small Cass County stream carries tons of top soil off of cultivated upland acres and deposits the silt in the ditches of the Clear Creek Drainage district.

Then the district must clean out the ditches so they can do the job they were constructed for. Ways to improve the situation have been discussed for many years.

A plan for a total watershed development program under Public Law 566 was requested by the drainage district commissioners in October, 1960. The Cass County Soil Conservation district developed a preliminary survey which was completed last April. The survey indicated a structure impounding a 150 acre permanent pool with additional storage of 200 acres would reduce downstream sediment damage by 88% and reduce floodwater damage by 80%.

The estimated cost of the structure was put at $170,000, exclusive of right-of-way. Local funds would be required to obtain right-of-way and easements.

West Of Virginia. This structure would create a lake about three miles directly west of Virginia and a little more than a mile south of Route 67. It would be approximately a mile long and a half-mile wide, with a maximum depth of 18 feet.

The project was given a boost in the closing days of the last Congress when additional federal funds were designated for taking land out of production by creating recreation areas. Under the law, federal funds could be allocated to qualify watershed projects to pay half the cost of acquiring the necessary rights-of-way and easements.

The project has been approved by Gov. Kemmer and has been submitted to the federal government.

Will Take Time, Effort. The two major hurdles, according to Cass county promoters of the plan, are:

Hurdle No. 1 is that at least 50% of the land above any detention structure must be under basic conservation agreement with the Soil Conservation district before further action is taken. This will require considerable time.

Hurdle No. 2 is the watershed project will then be given a priority rating which determines when construction may begin. The calculated guess is that two to four years will be required before construction.

Under present plans rights-of-way and easements must be secured from eight Cass county landowners.

Karl Munson, resource development adviser; A. R. Allen, agricultural law extension specialist, and Robert Walker, extension soil conservation, met recently with Cass county groups to explore the possibilities of outdoor recreation.

Munson was enthusiastic about the possibilities, pointing out that the project would provide public access to the lake and to its shores, up to a two foot ground elevation from the normal water line. Some of the land is very sandy, which would provide a good swimming area. The land to be flooded is now used for crops, but much of the surrounding territory is rough and timbered.

"Would Attract Many." Munson predicted that it would attract many persons who would like to build cabins and that camping and picnic sites would be well patronized. He pointed out that three-quarters of a million people live within 50 miles of the proposed pool, and that half of the families presently spend $100 annually for outdoor recreation.

The final survey will be run early in 1963.

Chester Heidbreder, who operates the Gem theatre in Virginia, will join the Cass soil conservation staff in a non-technical position. He will start in a few weeks and will devote his time in helping the upland acres into basic conservation agreements with the Cass County Soil Conservation district. He will assist John Pierce, Jr., county technician, and his aide, John Babbs.

The commissioners of the drainage district are Russell Nordiek, Homer Schneider and Bob Hardwick.

Illinois contains nearly four million acres of forest lands. If all the timber areas in the state were grouped together, they would cover 22 of the smallest counties.

TO ATTEND LAND BANK MEETING

CARROLLTON—Stockholders of the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis will hold their annual meeting at the Sheraton-Jefferson hotel Nov. 19-20.

The Federal Land Bank association of Carrollton will be represented by the five directors: Robert L. Best of Eldred, R. K. Egelhoff and Pearl E. Johnson of Jerseyville, George Cummings of White Hall and Alfred Pluester of Hardin.

Don Allen is manager of the local association, which provides long-term credit to the farmers of Greene, Jersey and Calhoun counties.

Colorful First Lady Is Again JB Seal Chairman

Mrs. John F. Kennedy will serve as the 1962 National Honorary Chairman for the Christmas Seal Campaign announces Mrs. Verne Anderson of Jacksonville, secretary of Morgan County Tuberculosis Association. Word of Mrs. Kennedy's acceptance came to Mrs. Anderson from William J. Martin, president of the National Tuberculosis Association.

At the age of 18 she was presented to society in a glittering affair at Newport's Clambake Club. One columnist wrote, "Queen Deb of the year is Jacqueline Bouvier, a regal debutante who has classic features and the daintiness of Dresden porcelain. Jackie enjoyed the parties, but wanted more from life than the froth of Society. In 1950 she went to Paris for a year's study at the Sorbonne. Her fluent French has been an asset ever since."

On her return, she lived with her mother and stepfather, Hugh D. Auchincloss, at their Virginia estate near Washington, D. C., and completed her studies at George Washington University.

Nineteen fifty-one, the year her Christmas cards bore a jolly Santa Claus Seal, was eventful for Jackie. She went to work as an Inquiring Photographer on the Washington Times-Herald. She also met the most eligible bachelor in Congress Representative John Fitzgerald Kennedy of Massachusetts.

When their engagement was announced in 1953, Jack Kennedy had just been elected to the Senate. They were married September 12, at Newport. There were twenty-six bridesmaids and groomsmen and 700 wedding guests. A mob of 3,000 spectators broke through police lines and nearly crushed the bride.

From a personal viewpoint the first Christmas Seal in the life of Mrs. Kennedy pictured a merry little minstrel ringing a Christmas bell and carried the message, "Health Greetings, 1952." Jacqueline Lee Bouvier was born on July 28th of that year, daughter

Christmas tree, but Jackie and Jack Kennedy did no dancing that year. The spinal injury Jack had suffered during the torpedo boat crash in World War II again turned serious. A delicate operation was needed to correct it.

They held their heads high the night Jack entered a hospital in New York. Jackie wore a smart dinner dress and carried a milk stool. Jack, though on crutches, forced a smile.

There were no smiles when they left the hospital to spend Christmas at his father's Florida home. Jackie's eyes were wide and stark and her face drawn. Jack was flat on a stretcher. Out of that experience came Jack's best selling book, "Profiles in Courage," and Jackie's enduring sympathy for those who suffer long sieges of illness.

A new name, Caroline, was added to the Kennedy's 1958 cards and the Christmas Seals Jackie affixed to them could be regarded as prophetic. A little girl was shown writing "Christmas Greetings," on a blackboard, and she looked very much as Caroline does today.

The 1960 Christmas Seal pictured choir boys lifting their voices in joyous song and the Kennedys, too, had cause for rejoicing. Unto them a son was born—and Jack had been elected President of the United States.

The world quickly fell in love with the new First Lady. Her charm, grace and wit were never more evident than when she launched the 1961 Christmas Seal Drive. The National Chairman, Charles O. Finley, a recovered TB patient who owns the Kansas City baseball club, presented the seals to her. Dr. Stuart Willis, then president of the NTA, was also present.

She had fun with the news photographers. As she fanned out the sheets of Seals, one man called out, "Hold them higher." Remembering her own days behind a camera, Jackie's eyes danced. She raised the Seals squarely in front of her face. Everyone laughed. The stiffness of a White House Presentation was broken.

Morgan County Schools Meet Challenge Of Change—

WHAT IS AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK?

American Education Week is the special week of the year during which the nation's schools report to their owners — the general public — about their purposes, methods, achievements, needs, and problems. It is sponsored by the National Education Association, American Legion, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education.

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF ALL THE PICTURES OF SCHOOLS?

Morgan County, not large in population, is unusual and fortunate in the number and variety of its schools. It can boast of two liberal arts colleges: Illinois College and MacMurray College; a business college, Hardin-Brown; two state schools of special education: the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School and the Illinois School for the Deaf; and four parochial schools: Our Saviour's Grade School, Routt High School, Salem Lutheran School, and Trinity Lutheran School. Of public high schools there are five: Franklin High School, Jacksonville High School, Meredosia-Chambersburg High School, Triopia High School, and Waverly High School. There are twenty public grade schools.

HOW MANY MORGAN COUNTY RESIDENTS ARE DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY INVOLVED IN OUR SCHOOLS?

Altogether, there are 6,684 students, 345 teachers, and 26 administrators in our public schools. The whole population of Morgan County is but less directly involved in our schools as parents and relatives of the students, as taxpayers and property owners, and as citizens in a democracy. All those who own property are part-owners of our schools. They form something of a community corporation and as such can circumscribe or free the schools for their necessary growth during this decade. Property tax gives local control of schools, and the property tax that supports the public schools to a great extent determines how good the local schools are or can be.

WHAT DOES "CHALLENGE OF CHANGE" MEAN?

"Education Meets the Challenge of Change" is the theme for American Education Week this year. Why? Man perhaps has never so seriously threatened himself in all his long, difficult, and frequently menacing history as in these years since the end of World War II.

He threatens himself with swift and mass self-destruction by the arms he now creates. He threatens himself with a slower and more agonizing death by hunger and thirst in a crowded world. He threatens perhaps even more the status of his soul — its honor and valor and goodness — by his barbarous cruelty and rank intolerance toward other men of other races. He compounds the ever-increasing complexity of his social and political and economic world with high nationalism and racial conflicts, a cold war and a space age, automation and inflations.

Against this perilous background we have a new world that calls for a tremendous variety of talents. The volume of the world's knowledge is doubling every ten years. Ninety percent of all scientists who have ever lived in the entire history of the world are alive today. Not only has more mathematics but more profound mathematics has been created since the beginning of the twentieth century than in all the rest of history combined. Ninety percent of all the drugs being prescribed by physicians today were not even known 10 years ago. Three-fourths of all people who will work in industry in 1975 will be producing goods and products that haven't been invented or discovered as yet. By the time today's Morgan County high school graduates see the year 2000, they will probably have been retrained vocationally once or twice because their old jobs will have become obsolete.

This then is the challenge: an explosion of knowledge and techniques in a world of complex and pyramiding problems demands a fast and efficient, a disciplined and a hard-cored education of its youth. It may well demand new approaches in teaching.

HOW ARE THE SCHOOLS IN MORGAN COUNTY MEETING THE CHALLENGE OF CHANGE?

In our public schools we are committed to accept all educable children and youth. State law requires that our youth stay in school until the sixteenth birthday.

Since we must educate and guide students of widely varying abilities and backgrounds, we can not offer the same education to all. We must educate each child and youth in the community in consonance with his ability. This is education in a democracy.

One approach to such education is the use of different forms of grouping and sectioning in both the grade schools and the high school. Grouping is done within the classroom and sectioning is done by classroom. Both grouping and sectioning are based upon intellectual ability. Ability grouping is practiced almost universally in our grade schools here in the county and ability sectioning is carried out in many of the major subjects in the high schools. Obvious forms of long-range sectioning are the classes for the educable mentally handicapped and the class for the physically handicapped.

In the high school in Jacksonville there are sections of advanced college entrance English in each of the four years, an advanced second-year Latin class for the abler second-year Latin students, advanced sections in American history and in world history, a geometry section for freshmen, a section of college-level mathematics for the more gifted mathematics students, sections in the physical sciences for the freshmen college-bound students, and a section in personal typing and notehand for those who plan to go on to college.

In addition, there are English sections geared for college preparatory students and still other sections for those for whom the high school is a terminal school. There are sections in English, in general mathematics, and in American history that are remedial.

A pre-algebra section in seventh grade and an algebra section in eighth grade at Jonathan Turner are two important sections at this level. Intellectually gifted students in both seventh and eighth grades meet in a special class three days a week.

In the grade schools ability grouping within the classroom is almost universally maintained in the language arts (reading, spelling, and written language), is frequently carried on in arithmetic, and is sometimes extended to science and to social studies. Such grouping is flexible and the groupings themselves often change in different subject areas.

In the grade schools of District 117, intellectually gifted children meet in building grade-level groups with a special teacher for briefing in research and for individual and group enrichment programs. Small groups of remedial readers leave the classroom to attend special classes under a remedial reading teacher. Children with speech difficulties are given special training by speech correctionists. School social workers confer with the individual child who has emotional problems.

Teacher observation, classroom work, the results of I.Q. tests and achievement tests determine grouping and sectioning to a great extent. Individual testing by a state psychologist is mandatory before a child is placed in a classroom for the educable mentally handicapped. An individual I.Q. test is administered by a state psychologist or by Miss Evans to children or youth in the program for the intellectually gifted. Our high schools are comprehensive schools. They offer a program for the student who plans to go to college and one for the student for whom the high school is a terminal school. Vocational agriculture, vocational machine shop, vocational business, and vocational woodshop are all part of the vocational part of the Jacksonville high school. The Diversified Occupations Program is an on-the-job-training program for those juniors and seniors who elect it.

ARE THERE ANY NEW OR UNUSUAL FEATURES OR PROGRAMS IN OUR SCHOOLS?

We are experimenting in some of our schools of District 117 with new approaches to reading. These approaches are carried on in addition to the usual methods in the classroom. The Joplin Plan in which students of fourth, fifth, and sixth grades in a building are sectioned in the reading period according to reading level, not age or grade, is one such method. A new phonics method, the Economy, is being tried in another school or so. SRA reading laboratories are being tried in other schools. Others experiment with machines and techniques to increase reading speed.

Some of our schools, too, have extended the school year by voluntary or special programs. Voluntary art and science classes of grade school and junior high school levels have met on Saturday mornings and during some weeks in the summer. A program for the intellectually gifted has been carried on for a month in the summer. This last summer remedial classes were offered.

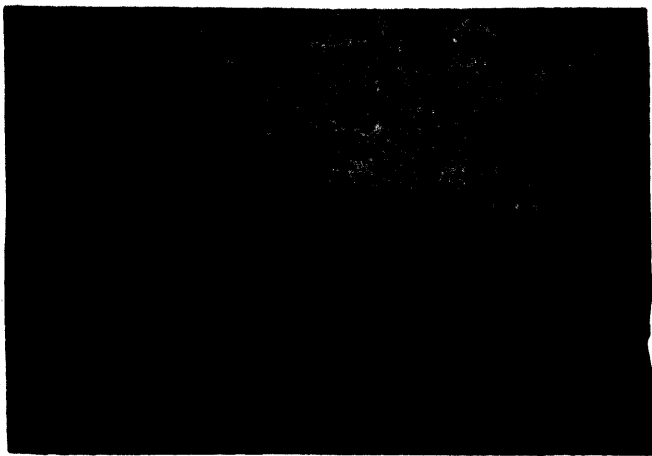

Curriculum planning has been a strong part of the system in recent years. A science guide, planned and created by teachers and principals in the district, is used in the grade school classrooms. This year a physical education guide based on practices in our own schools was written and distributed. At present a committee is working on a language arts guide that will articulate the language arts program from kindergarten through the twelfth grade.

WHAT ARE SOME OF THE TRENDS IN EDUCATION THAT OUR SCHOOLS MIGHT LIKE TO ADOPT?

The public schools in our county have either pioneered or been quick to incorporate and follow new trends in education where practicable. This is not the decade for our schools to lag and fall behind.

Highlighted by the continuing challenge of a changing world, the increased content, the new techniques, and the vital approaches in education are exciting and almost mandatory possibilities to both administrators and teachers.

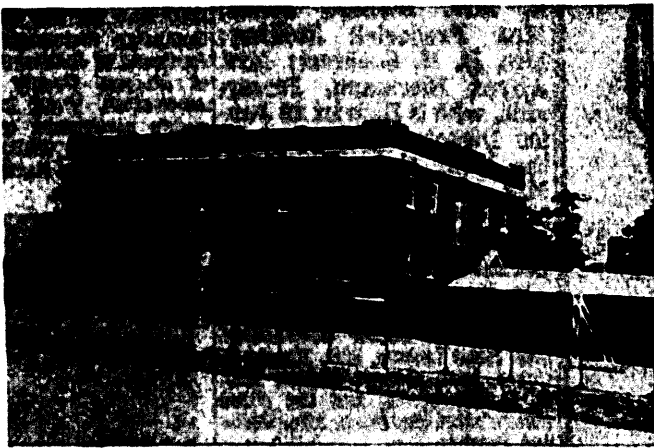

Language laboratories, a reading clinic, closed circuit educational television, team teaching, the use of ungraded primary classrooms, teaching machines, better facilities for training vocational students, the teaching of a foreign language in the upper grades, the expansion of the audio-visual department, multi-text classrooms — these are some of the techniques and means by which our schools might better teach our children and our youth.

The Civil War --- 100 Years Ago

The PX Of 1862

This sketch from Harper's Weekly shows a typical sutler's tent during the Civil War.

The sutler was a civilian who was attached to a regiment or brigade for the purpose of handling small items necessary to the "general welfare" of the soldier that were not ordinarily available through the Quartermaster department.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Journal:
SAD DEATH OF A MUTE—On Monday afternoon last, a Mute by the name of Henry W. Craig, an inmate of the Deaf and Dumb Institution in this place, came to his death under the following circumstances:

There has recently been built on the Institute grounds, a large vegetable cellar, spanned over by a heavy brick arch. Young Craig and another boy were engaged in taking away the wooden supports of the arch, when the entire structure gave way, burying both of them some three feet beneath a pile of brick, dirt and mortar.

Luckily, there were witnesses to the accident, who gave the alarm, and a large force of teachers, pupils and workmen were soon at work digging out the boys. Craig was found dead, but the other boy (whose name we did not learn) escaped with a few bruises.

Upon learning of the accident, Coroner Sutton summoned a jury and repaired to the Institute. After taking the testimony of several witnesses, a verdict was given in accordance with the above facts.

The Baptist church has engaged as their pastor, for the present, the Rev. W. G. Pratt. He enters upon his labors one week from next Sabbath.

Our friend, S. H. Hamilton, is closing out his stock of groceries. He will sell his stock of groceries, consisting of Fancy Groceries, Confectionery and Baking utensils. Any person wishing to start business would do well to call, as he has a good stand, and a good run of business.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:
DEATH OF IRA DAVENPORT—The gentleman whose name appears in the above caption, of the firm of Davenport & Co., one of the earliest settlers in Morgan county, died at his residence in this city on Monday evening last. The deceased has been afflicted for some time past with an internal cancer, which caused his death. For a number of years past, Mr. Davenport has been engaged in the milling business in this city, and was well known throughout the county as an old citizen and correct business man.

Improvements—The new business houses being erected by Adams & Dayton and David A. Smith, on the site of Sigler's and Catlin's old stand, north side of the square, are progressing toward completion. The new buildings are being ornamented with handsome open iron fronts, and will add much to the good appearance of the north side.

FROM SANDY—Our old friend, Albin Sheppard, who lives on Sandy, presented us this week with two enormous heads of cabbage, one of which measured three feet in circumference. Judging from the specimens before us, the soil of Sandy must be equal to that of the famed Kindehook for raising large specimens of this garden edible.

THE NESHANOCK POTATOE—We received last week from D. B. C. Bayless, Superintendent of the poor farm, some specimens of the Neshanock Potatoe, of extraordinary size and quality. Mr. Bayless informs us that he has raised the present season, on the poor farm, about 400 bushels of the same kind and quality of potatoes. The specimens we received would average about eight inches in length, and are of delicious flavor.

The sutler's stock comprised such things as candy, fruit, cheese, crackers, sardines, sausages, tobacco, cigars, pipes, matches, writing paper, pens, pencils and ink, stamps, canned condensed milk, canned oysters, cookies, gingerbread and pies.

Most of them were also privileged to sell beer and whisky, and this part of the business was extremely profitable. Robert Pollock of Exeter was the sutler of the Morgan County Regiment, while it was stationed in Cairo 100 years ago. At that time he had barrels of his famous Pollock's Double-Distilled Pure Corn Whisky, 100 Proof, in the hands of St. Louis commission men. They couldn't sell it even for 31c a gallon.

But in Cairo he was doing a landoffice business dispensing it at a bit a drink, nearly all of "on dit."

The chaplains and surgeons agreed that the sutler's tent was one thing the army could get along without.

Both complained of the drunkenness brought about by a plentiful supply of drink on credit. The sutler was permitted to sit next to the paymaster to collect his money and in a high percentage of cases the paymaster used the sutler's tent as headquarters.

The surgeon especially complained of the habit of the men munching on practically anything they weren't hungry at chow time, and their usual diet brought about much sickness and contributed to many deaths.

The sutler charged varying prices, depending entirely upon the supply. A 400% mark-up was about normal and where the sutler was able to keep his stock safe from fire, pillage or capture and where he was able to collect money from the soldiers before they became sick or killed he made a pile of money.

Of course, the unlucky ones went broke. Pollock did. Veterans of the 101st recalled in later years that "we didn't do much in Cairo." They guarded Confederate prisoners who had no desire to run away, unloaded box cars and loaded boats.

They also recalled that whenever they wanted the advice of the colonel or lieutenant colonel these gentlemen were always to be found at the sutler's tent.

Letters from the boys disturbed Horatio Barden, editor of the Journal, abolitionist and prohibitionist.

The Morgan County Regiment
This regiment is still at Cairo, engaged in performing guard and garrison duty. It has been especially retained there for that purpose.

We hear from good authority that the Col and Lt. Col. are not favorably distinguishing themselves. It is not thought that the regiment will see much active service while these officers remain in their present positions.

Damaging reports are quite current, both here and at Cairo, concerning them, but how much truth there is in them we are not well advised enough to speak.

—Cecil Tendick.

LAND OF OPPORTUNITY
ELIZABETHPORT, N. J. (P)—Henry Orenstein at 38 is the head of a manufacturing firm that sold $30 million in dolls and toys last year.

When he came to America 18 years ago, a refugee of German slave camps and Communist domination in Poland, he spoke no English, never had had a job in his life and had no business experience.

He is now president of the De Luxe Reading Corporation, one of the nation's largest toy manufacturers, which he formed several years ago.

Emerald Point Forms Society To Aid Union

The people of Emerald Point, Indian Creek precinct, Morgan County, got solidly behind the Union war effort a hundreds years ago yesterday.

They heard the story of a Scott county army captain who had been captured at Shiloh and who spent several months in Southern prisons before he was exchanged and sent home.

The First Income Tax Law

The Civil War cost an unprecedented amount of money and the people were wondering where they'd ever get the dollars to pay for it. The Union was spending more than a million dollars a day. Southern sympathizers living in the North screamed for peace and lower taxes and the strongest Union man blanched considerably when he thought of the new tax schedule.

The Western man had never gotten accustomed to the "foreign" idea that he owed "The Government" anything, least of all money. But, 100 years ago, he discovered that he was going to have to pay a lot of taxes.

The tax on whisky had been raised to $1 a gallon. This had the earmarks of complete foolishness to the people of this area, for the local distilleries depended solely on the Southern market for its excess production. The Mississippi river had been closed by the war and there literally wasn't a market for whisky 100 years ago. The price in St. Louis had dropped to 31c per gallon, nominal, which meant you couldn't sell it for that.

Many Fire Losses
And when the government slapped a $1 tax on something that wouldn't bring 31c most of the distilleries went broke.

So did some of the fire insurance companies—before they got around to cancelling policies on "still" houses, breweries and high wine manufacturers.

But there was still to be another tax. It was called the "income tax" and it had to be paid at the end of the year whether you had any money left or not.

At this date the tax does not seem burdensome. Basically it provided for a non-graduated 5% levy on net income, less an exemption of $600. Interest and dividends were not counted as income.

This seems most generous to us today, but the people screamed a hundred years ago. The tax brought in so much money that it was soon repealed; the boys on Capitol Hill, Washington, D. C. had not yet learned the art of spending money.

Here's a summary of the new tax law published in the Jacksonville Sentinel:

The following convenient summary of the tax law is given in Thompson's Reporter.

Bankers pay a license of $100.
Brokers pay a license of $50.
Land warrant dealers pay a license of $50.

The income tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1, 1862, so that on the evening of the 31 of December everybody should have a very clear record of their income, gains or profits for the year. And as many sources of income, such as dividends and railroad stocks and bonds, insurance stocks, saving bank interests, etc., (they having already paid the income tax), are not again taxed, it, therefore, becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the assessor.

A man in business must make up the net profits of the business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount, less $500.

With a salary, all over $500 must be taxed, though personal, or family, expenses consume it all.

Certificates of deposit, for any amount, require stamps; two cents for $100 and under, five cents for all over $100.

All checks and sight drafts for sums over $25 require only two cents for any amount.

After naming a few "certificates," such as shares of stock, deposits, etc., etc., the law says, "certificates of any other description than those specified, ten cent stamps."

A great many papers in common use will be necessarily changed in form, from a certificate to an assertion of facts. In other words: A thousand and one dodges to avoid the new tax law will be adopted; but as a general thing, good business men will pay the tax on their money transactions rather than trust to a dodge that may not stand in law.

The "thousand and one dodges" developed. Many people never paid a cent of income tax and got away with it.

But the tax was always disliked, and Congress repealed it just as soon as the country got half-way back on its feet after the war.

—Cecil Tendick.

The people of that small, but apparently thriving, community north of Jacksonville knew that some of the families of the men who had gone to war faced a bleak winter. Something had to be done to help them.

The following communication appeared in the Jacksonville Journal: Editor—Journal:

Sir: Captain R. E. Haggard of the 61st Reg. Illinois Volunteers, a citizen of Winchester, Ill., who has been a prisoner in the South, in company with Gen. Benj. Prentice and others, for the last six months, having returned home, came into this neighborhood to visit his old friends. They being very anxious to hear him tell of his imprisonment, requested him to deliver a lecture upon the subject, to which he consented.

The appointment was circulated on the morning of the 16th, for the night of the same day. The Christian Church was crowded with anxious listeners, and the Captain gave a brief but interesting history of his capture and imprisonment.

At the close of his address, he recommended the organization of a Society for the purpose of supplying the wants of the families of Soldiers in the service. There was a lively interest manifested in the crowd, and a proposition to proceed at once and organize, was received with considerable enthusiasm.

The Captain also recommended an organization of a Society among the ladies for the relief of Soldiers in the service, which was also received with enthusiasm by the ladies, and the afternoon of the 13th inst. was appointed as the time for them to meet and organize.

The meeting then proceeded to the organization, by electing a committee whose business it is to look out the families in need, and supply their wants.

Joseph Green was chosen as chairman of the committee. The following are the Committee:

Harrison Robinson Wm. Short
A. H. Rice Dr. J. W. Cox
A. G. Short George Virgin
Isaac Short H. Walker
Samuel Short

A. H. Rice was chosen Secretary, and Dr. J. W. Cox, Treasurer.

Donations to the amount of $17.00 was pledged, besides some work and labor.

Dr. J. W. Cox pledged his services as Physician during the absence of the Soldiers.

Ordered that the proceedings of the meeting be sent to the Journal for publication.

Adjourned to meet on the evening of the 13th inst.

A. H. Rice, Secretary
Emerald Point, Nov. 10, 1862.

Capt. Robert E. Haggard of Winchester commanded the Scott county company of the 61st Illinois Regiment, which was mostly made up of Greene county men, with one company from Jersey.

Haggard helped organize Co. F, composed of men from Winchester, Exeter, Manchester and Glasgow—plus a few from Iatan, as some people called Murrayville in those days.

Haggard later returned to his regiment but due to ill health he resigned April 2, 1863. He was succeeded by William L. Stewart, also of Winchester, and he remained the captain until the regiment was mustered out Sept. 8, 1865.

Now that we have established who Capt. Haggard was, where was Emerald Point?

There were many projected towns in Morgan county that simply withered away. Some of them filed plats with the circuit clerk; others never got around to doing this. Emerald Point was evidently one of the latter.

It had a postoffice a hundred years ago. Also a hotel, a stage coach office, a general store and a wet grocery (as the saloons were known in those days).

J. D. Stacy of Jacksonville assistant U.S. marshal, took the census there in 1860.

He listed two preachers, Christian and Baptist; two merchants, one wet grocer, three physicians, five blacksmiths, three carpenters, four wagonmakers, and one harnessmaker, miller, cooper, potter, chairmaker, shoemaker and palter.

Neither the U.S. Postal Guide nor the Census of 1870 mentions Emerald Point.

Where was the town? On Indian Creek? When did it start and when did it disappear? And why did it disappear?

HUMORS of the day

We learn that the Butternuts are likely to be very badly frost-bitten this season.

John Morgan is a bad example. But we hope our troops will follow him.

The Virginians are adopting a new form of abolitionism. They are hanging all their negroes to prevent them from rising.

The rebels are full of admiration of their Gen. Stuart, who made the late raid through Maryland and Pennsylvania. He is certainly no common character. He is the most splendid horse thief in the country.

Sportsmen tell us that the hunting season has at last come. The bagging of game is now in order. Our Generals will please take notice.

—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

DOMESTIC

On Saturday, Nov. 11, there were over 40,000 persons on the Central Park, the carriages numbering 5,417, the largest number ever on the Park in one day.

A Mr. Lyon, member of the rebel Congress, at the late session of that body, proposed a resolution offering $30 to every Negro who should kill a white Union soldier.

The farmers about Savannah, N. Y., are using six cent papers of turpentine as a circulating medium, in the absence of all. They pass readily among agriculturists.

Squirrels swarm in the woods of Western Virginia and come down in droves to the corn fields. The Wheeling Intelligencer says, in numerical strength, they may be likened unto the frogs of Egypt.

The price of gas in Philadelphia has been reduced from $2.25 to $2 per 1,000 feet. The excellence and cheapness of the coal oils now in the market have doubtless operated to diminish the consumption of gas, and the gas companies generally will probably have to reduce their prices in order to compete with the new illuminating agent, in these times when economy is a general necessity.

—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

CHICAGO — Nearly every one has heard the story of the discouragement, not to say shock, which one of our merchant princes experienced when searching out his genealogy, with a view to an illuminated "family tree" for his spacious library, on finding that his great-grandfather was a tinker, who emigrated to America on the occasion of the hanging of his father as a footpad. Something similar must have been the feelings of that inquiring citizen of Chicago who sought information of the Historical Magazine as to the origin and etymology of the name of the city of his love and adoption, on finding that it comes from the Cree word Chikakok, the place of the skunk! By any other name it would smell so sweet.

ADVANCE IN GOLD — A gold dollar in this city is worth $1.30; in Richmond, Va., it is worth $2.50. The advance in gold in the loyal States is 30 per cent; in the so-called Confederacy 150 per cent.

BETTER THAN AUTHORSHIP — Mr. Whyte Melville, the writer, has just had a property of 120,000 pounds left him. He can now afford to write for nothing, and dedicate his brain to the public.

—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

AT TIFFIN, Ohio, the other day, Van Amburg's trained elephant, "Hannibal," broke open the wagon of a candy pedlar who followed the show, and gobbled down in less time than it takes to read this paragraph, 6,000 gingerbread cakes, 70 pounds of assorted candy, and 20 pounds of French kisses. It is a curious among eye witnesses which was the most sublime spectacle, the complacency of Hannibal after going through the establishment, or the frantic despair of the candy pedlar upon discovering the extent of his loss, computed to something over $80.

THE COMMISSIONERS upon the emancipated slaves in the District of Columbia expects to finish their business next month. The number paid for by the Government will be about three thousand.

THE MONITORS — The new Monitors are not up to time. They should all have been afloat before now, according to contract. Nor do those afloat answer to specifications, in many particulars. They are under power and slow. They are not sea-going vessels, whatever may be alleged to the contrary, and is doubtful if they can be got down to Charleston or Mobile in winter weather.

—From Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

DOGS WILL PAY
MIAMI (P)—Dade county officials are going to the dogs—every single dog.

County manager Irving McNay said only 20 to 30 per cent of the canines in greater Miami are being licensed.

So county employees this fall will make a door-to-door check for unlicensed dogs. McNay said the anticipated additional revenue should put the county's animal control program on a self-sustaining basis.

IS A
REALLY IMPORTANT?

The funeral ceremony is a service for the living as well as a tribute to a departed loved one. It is essentially a religious rite, commemorating the end of earthly life, just as baptism marks its spiritual beginning, and the marriage vows its fulfillment.

Since America is overwhelmingly a religious nation, the funeral rite is reaffirmation of faith in the immortality of the soul and eternal life. Thus the funeral service has become an important part of the American way of life.

And the funeral director, in addition to the duties prescribed by law for the proper preparation and care of deceased persons has an important duty and responsibility in helping to arrange the religious ceremony.

Tiger Recognized As Middleweight Boxing Champion

NEW YORK (AP)—Nigeria's Dick Tiger was recognized as world middleweight boxing champion in place of Paul Pender Friday by the New York State Athletic Commission in concurrent action with European, British, Oriental and California commissions. Pender remains champion only in Massachusetts.

Tiger won the World Boxing Association's version of the crown Oct. 23 by beating Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, at San Francisco.

Pender, Brookline, Mass., boxer, won a share of the title Jan. 22, 1959, by beating Ray Robinson in London, lost 10 to 11 to Terry Downes in London, July 11, 1961 and won it back by beating Downes in London, April 7.

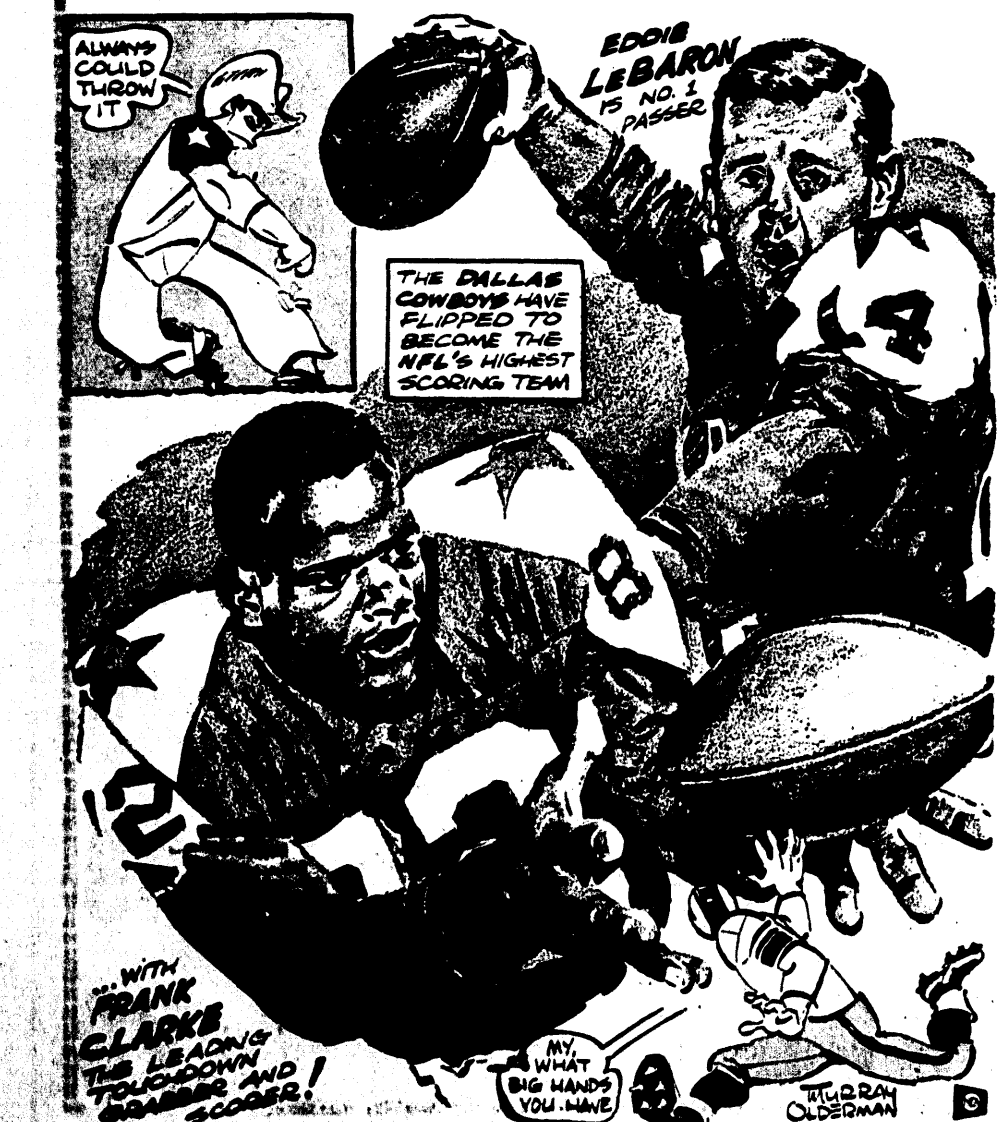

Malvin Krulwich, chairman of the New York commission, made the announcement of the decisions which he said had been made after careful deliberations and consultations with the European Boxing Union, the British Boxing Board of Control, the British Commonwealth championship committee, the Oriental Boxing Federation and the California commission.

Krulwich said Pender had been notified in September, through his attorney, of the serious consequences of failure to "enter into articles of agreement with a suitable contender."

In Boston, Massachusetts State Boxing Commission Chairman Herman Greenberg said he was calling Pender to the office next Friday.

"It is ridiculous to call Pender a champion if he is considered the titleholder by Massachusetts alone," Greenberg said. He indicated the Bay State would go along with the withdrawal of recognition from Pender. Previously, the ex-Brookline fireman had been recognized as champion in New York, Massachusetts and Burma. Pender was not available for comment.

Rushville Gains Midwest Loop Tie In 27-14 Victory

RUSHVILLE — Rushville defeated Beardstown, 27-14, Friday night to tie the Pittsfield for first place in the Midwest conference behind the scoring of Larry Grier, Don Shaw, and Paul Runkle in a hard fought contest.

Beardstown, with good play by Tom Lloyd and Mike Smith, failed to get into the win column in the last game of the season for both teams. Beardstown is 0-9 for the season, while Rushville claims a 4-2-2 record.

Rushville's right tackle Larry Grier, early in the first period, blocked a punt on the Beardstown 10 yard line and ran it in for the Rockets' first tally. Don Shaw added the PAT.

Tom Lloyd came back for Beardstown later in the first quarter with a 20 yard scramble into the Rushville end zone. Lloyd kicked the PAT seconds later to tie Rushville, 7-7, at the end of the period.

Rushville roared back in the second quarter with Don Shaw punting for a TD from two yards out to climax a long Rocket drive. Paul Runkle added the PAT on a quarterback sneak.

Jim Crum added six more points to the Rushville effort in the third period on a 37 yard run. Shaw made good the PAT. Crum threw a long pass covering 45 yards to Dennis Wells later in the period to add another TD. The PAT failed, giving Rushville a 27-7 lead at the end of the quarter.

Beardstown's Mike Smith added the final Tiger score in the last quarter on a plunge from three yards out. Lloyd kicked the PAT, his second of the evening, to end the scoring for both teams, with Rushville ahead, 27-14, at the game's end.

Scoring by quarters:

Carrollton Snags IVC Second Place

CARROLLTON — Carrollton ran over Greenfield, 26-0, Friday night to snag second place in the Illinois Valley conference in a game that saw Carrollton dominate play throughout.

Neither team could move the ball in the first period, with each club punting twice. Carrollton drove 60 yards midway through the second quarter before quarterback Kenny Stander sneaked over from the two yard line to score, and added the PAT on another sneak.

Left halfback Bob Candan ran 26 yards around right end to put another Carrollton score on the boards, and Ron Hetelle caught a pass from Stander to add the PAT.

In the third period Stander set up Jim Stuart with a 39 yard run. Stuart scored the TD from two yards out. The PAT attempt failed.

On the first play after the kickoff linebacker Mike Kania intercepted a Greenfield pass and raced 30 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed, giving Carrollton the 26-0 victory.

Berry Scores 33 As Triopia Dumps Industry By 59-7

ARENZVILLE — Fullback Jim Berry scored 33 points and broke two school records in leading the Triopia Trojans to a 59-7 dubbing of Industry.

Berry scored five touchdowns and three extra points, breaking the school record for single game scoring and most TDs scored in a game.

Industry's Tom Runkle took the opening kickoff and raced 70 yards unimpeded for the only score by the visitors in the season's final game for both clubs.

Berry ran 15 yards through the middle shortly thereafter and soon added another from 10 yards out. Quarterback Dave Roegge threw PAT passes to Roy Halstenberg for both extra points. Roegge scored from 4 yards away for the 20-7 first period advantage.

Triopia scored twice in the second quarter, from 25 and 20 yards, and Berry added an extra point for a 33-7 halftime margin.

Berry scored again in the third quarter from 25 yards out, and twice more in the final stanza, both from five yards back. He also scored another pair of PATs.

NEW YORK (AP)—Milt Woodward, assistant commissioner of the American Football League, said Friday the league had loaned the New York Titans enough money to meet the player payroll through Sunday's game with the Dallas Texans.

Woodward also said the league expected the franchise, owned by Harry Wismer, would be sold within a week.

Wismer, who has lost a great deal of money trying to compete with the New York Giants of the National League, is asking $2.5 million for the franchise.

The Titans have a lease to play in the new stadium in Flushing that will be the home of the New York Mets next season. Reports that Wismer has been in contact with the Mets' owner, Mrs. Joan Whitney Payson, have not been confirmed.

Woodward said he came to New York to make sure that the players were paid in full before this week's game.

Woodward said the money had been loaned to Wismer from a special league fund and would be returned to the league when the sale was completed.

The assistant commissioner said the league was putting up "about $40,000" to take care of salaries through this Sunday.

Asked if he would continue this policy indefinitely, Woodward said, "No. We trust the affair will be completely settled by another week."

Meredosia Upset By Bluffs, 27-14

MEREDOSIA — Bluffs ended their season on a winning note Friday afternoon with a 27-14 upset of rival Meredosia, in a PMSC conference tilt at Meredosia.

Halfback Jerry Sapp got the Bluejays off on the right foot in the first quarter on an 11 yard scoring jaunt around right end, and Mike Moore added the PAT.

The two clubs traded a pair of touchdowns in a wild second quarter. Bluffs' quarterback Deny Gregory passed to end Fred Noack for the first Bluejay score in the period, the play covering four yards.

Jack Easley got the Indians on the scoreboard with a two yard sneak, and also added the extra point. Gregory added another for Bluffs on a quarterback sneak from two yards away, and Sapp ran the PAT over.

Sid Hegner scored the final Meredosia tally in the same quarter on another quarterback sneak, and Easley added the extra point. The final score in the game came on a recovered fumble by Bluffs in the Meredosia end zone, and Sapp added the extra point. Meredosia was assessed 85 yards in walkoffs, and the Bluejays 47. The Indians finished out the year with a 4-4 record with a 3-3 loop record, and the Bluejays finished at 2-6 and 2-4 in the PMSC.

Scoring by quarters:
Bluffs 7 13 7 0-27
Meredosia 0 14 0 0-14

Brannan's 2 Tallies Crimp Tigers' Bid

REDBIRDS Rally In Second Half

Virginia rallied with Jim Brannan scoring two touchdowns and a pair of extra points in the second half Friday afternoon here, to take a 14-13 thriller from ISD and a share of the PMSC conference crown from the Tigers.

Trailing 13-0 at halftime, the Redbirds came back with a forceful running attack in the second half and stopped the Tigers twice in the closing minutes inside the 20, once on an intercepted pass and once on a fumble.

The Tigers held their opponents to 19 yards rushing in the first half and ground out 88 yards on the ground and 50 in the air for their early lead. Bruce Jackson and Warren Miller dove and swept the Redbird defense for good yardage throughout the game, but the Tigers failed to capitalize on several key scoring opportunities.

PMSC KNOTTED Two Ways

The win leaves the conference standings knotted between the two clubs at 5-1, the loss, the first for ISD in the loop this season, and snapped a six game winning streak for the hosts.

ISD marched 75 yards for a quick score in the opening period, although interrupted by an exchange of fumbles on consecutive plays on the Redbird 12 yard line. Jackson scored on the third play from eight yards out, and Miller carried the extra point over for the 7-0 lead.

Jackson intercepted a pass on the 37 to give the Tigers another scoring shot, but a fumble handed the ball back to the visitors as the first period ended. After the Redbirds advanced to the 19 of the Tigers, a stiff defense stopped them with a minus 20 yards on the next two plays.

A pair of passes from quarterback Charles Jordan to end David Reed and Jackson moved the Tigers from their own 20 down to the Virginia 12 late in the second quarter, and a final one to Reed accounted for the second ISD touchdown, the play covering 25 yards. The running attempt for the extra point was stopped.

Brannan and halfback Don Bell moved the Redbird offense in the third frame, and they moved down to the two, where Brannan juggled the ball around left end and the remaining distance and also added the PAT on the same play to pull within 13-7.

Wild 4th Quarter

The Redbird duo also ran wild in the final quarter as the Redbirds marched from their own 40 and picked up three clutch first downs, by inches each time. Brannan swept left end again for the second Redbird score from 13 yards away with five minutes remaining in the game. The elusive back this time booted the deciding margin on the PAT effort.

Three quick ISD passes carried the length of the field down to the Redbird 20, where Will Norris grabbed possession of the ball for the Redbirds. The Tigers held, and got another shot at the go-ahead touchdown, marching from their own 41 to the visitors' 13, but Redbird quarterback Dave Jokisch picked off a Jordan aerial and Virginia ran the remaining time out.

ISD outgained the Redbirds in both offensive departments, picking up 162 yards on the ground and 80 in the air, while holding the Redbirds to 109 rushing and 12 passing.

The Tigers closed the season with a respectable 6-3 record, and the Redbirds at 6-4 for the year.

Jerseyville Raps Pike Eleven 20-6

PITTSFIELD — Jerseyville's Bill Powers scored a pair of touchdowns and Warren Anderson added another, as the Panthers rolled over the Pittsfield Saukees 20-6 Friday evening, in a nonconference finale for both clubs.

Powers ran off tackle for a three yard tally in the second quarter, and ran the same hole for the extra point and the 7-0 lead. Anderson got loose in the same period, and carried 18 yards for the second score. Powers passed to John Munsterman for the PAT.

Pittsfield got into the scoring act in the third period when Dan Boyd passed 20 yards to Bill Hammit for the lone Saukee score.

Powers picked off a Pittsfield pass in the third quarter and raced 32 yards for the final score of the game.

Rockets Own PMSC Cellar In 1-8 Year

Ferry Collapses On Playing Field

PETERSBURG — Petersburg scored twice in the second and third quarters Friday evening to hand Routt a 26-6 dumping, and doom the Rockets to the cellar of the PMSC conference.

Pushed all over the field in the first quarter, Routt was able to contain the Bluejays from scoring, but succumbed twice in the second period.

Junior halfback Bunkie Ferry was carried from the field after collapsing in the third frame and was rushed to Our Saviour's hospital in a semi-conscious condition. He was reportedly suffering from painful contusions and sprains of his back. He remained a patient there overnight.

Wallace Man Again

Wallace got loose again in the period, this time scampering 63 yards over tackle in the closing seconds of the half. Larry Smith booted the extra point.

The Rockets struck early in the second half for their only touchdown, with quarterback Leo Carroll gathering in the opening kickoff and breaking loose for an 81 yard scoring run. The run for the extra point failed.

Petersburg quarterback, Don Brauer, threw a 16 yard touchdown pass to end Dave Thomas in the quarter and pushed the lead to 20-6. Again in the same quarter, Brauer intercepted a Tom Eoff pass and returned it to the Rocket 16, where Smith scored from 14 yards out. The try for the point after failed.

The win gives the Bluejays an overall 2-7 record and a 2-4 mark in the conference, and leaves Routt at 1-8 and 1-5 in the loop.

Seniors Bow Out

The game marked the final tilt for Rocket seniors Chuck Newport, Eoff, John Knepler, Paul Casey, Petersburg will lose Bill Babin, Bob Todd, Jim Tibbs, Bill Severns, Ed Clark, Gene Dowell, and Dick Cheaney through graduation.

Newport and Ryan paced the Rocket defensive efforts, and Carroll and Jerry McGinnis sparked an offense.

Lewistown Ties Spoon Lead 14-13

LEWISTOWN — Lewistown did all their scoring in the third quarter to tie for first place with Macomb in the Spoon River conference by edging Havana, 14-13, Friday night.

Mike Conklin plunged from the Lewistown four yard line to give the Ducks an early lead in the first period to climax a 50 yard drive. The all important PAT attempt failed.

The Ducks fell apart on defense in the third period, with Lewistown scoring both their touchdowns, and with Louis Hunter kicking both PAT points.

Lewistown recovered a Duck fumble on the Havana 19 yard line, and drove to the four yard line before halfback Bob Bainter went over for the first tally. Hunter kicked the PAT. Hall ended an 80 yard drive to score from two yards out later in the third quarter, and Hunter kicked his second PAT.

In the fourth period Havana came back to score on a 32 yard pass play from Conklin to right end John Steiter. The PAT attempt was successful, but on the short end of a 14-13 decision for the ball game.

Havana clipped off 127 yards rushing, and Lewistown got 166 yards. Havana passed for 113 yards, Lewistown collected 20 yards.

Scoring by quarters:
Lewistown 0 0 14 0-14
Havana 6 0 0 7-13

Astoria Blanked By Hornets 20-0

MT. STERLING — Larry Moore scored twice as Mt. Sterling grabbed a 20-0 non-conference game from a powerful Astoria team Friday here to end their football season.

Moore took a pitchout from Mike Galloway to score on a 32 yard run and went 20 yards for the score. A Galloway pass to Ernie Fluckey countered the seventh point.

Scoring again in the first stanza, on the same play Moore went in from nine yards away as a Galloway pass to Pete Henricks gave the Hornets a 14-0 lead.

In the second period, Bobbie Wilson went 67 yards on a trap play for the final score.

Mt. Sterling rang up 237 yards rushing and was penalized 45 yards to their opponent's 15.

Scoring by quarters:
Mt. Sterling 14 6 0 0-20

Wrigley Gums Up On New Manager

Says He Was Not In '62 Baseball

CHICAGO (AP)—Owner Philip K. Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs, who Thursday fired Charlie Metro as head coach, said Friday he had a new candidate in mind to be "in charge" of the Cubs next season.

"I can't tell you who he is, but he was not in baseball last season," said Wrigley.

"There will be no announcement until we find out whether we can get this man."

Asked if the new man would be a manager in baseball's accepted terminology of the head field boss, Wrigley replied:

"If it makes you happy, call him that."

Wrigley said Metro, who was the Cubs' head coach on Wrigley's novel college of coaches from June 5 until the end of the season was dismissed because "he didn't get along with the players."

Metro Disagreement

The outspoken Metro, regarded the strong man of Wrigley's 12-man coaching board, reportedly failed to get a new contract because he disagreed over the club's rotating system of coaches.

Wrigley said Friday: "We've been looking for a take-charger guy. We thought from Metro's past experience that he was the man. You can lead a man to water, to paraphrase the old saying, but you can't make him drink. Players don't have to love the man in charge, but they should respect him."

Wrigley said the proposed new Cub leader had been contacted. "I'm not going to tell you who the man is," said Wrigley, "but we have been negotiating with him." The chewing gum magnate said he could not guess when, or if, the proposed new field boss would be available.

Wrigley said his experiment of rotating coaches, with a head coach in charge over various periods, would not be abandoned entirely if the new "manager" is signed.

Rotation Only Temporary

"The system never was supposed to rotate after things once settled down," said Wrigley of the two-season old fling at eliminating the traditional manager.

"The rotation was planned to continue in our minor league system, but at the top level we were trying to find the right man—give him a whirl at it and see what happened."

Metro, who had a 43-69 record, wanted to win, Wrigley said. The Cubs now have finished in the National League's second division for 16 straight seasons.

METRO SAYS JURGES

DENVER (AP)—Charlie Metro, deposed as head coach of the Chicago Cubs Thursday night, says Billy Jurges "is a cinch" to become the next pilot of the National League team.

Metro spoke in an interview Friday night after Cubs owner P. K. Wrigley said in Chicago that he was set to name a new head coach shortly—if the candidate he has in mind is agreeable.

Wrigley didn't identify his choice, but 1 said the man was not in organized ball last season.

He's A Cinch

"I'll tell you who the man is," Jurges is a former standout shortstop for the C's, and once managed the Boston Red Sox.

Of Wrigley's claim that Metro "he didn't get along with the players" the deposed coach said: "So they're slinging a little mud? Well, I'll hold my comment and wait and see what develops."

"I could tell him (Wrigley) some things he isn't aware of," some things that would curl his hair.

"In my whole managing career," Metro continued in an interview, "players I've had respect for my ability to run a ball club. That's all you can ask of anyone. I could tell Wrigley plenty about his organization."

"Talk about loyalty — man alive!"

Report Required On All 'New' Wheat Fields Farmers who grow wheat for the first time in 1963 should notify the county ASCS office as soon as seeding is finished. Wallace T. Hembrough, office manager in Morgan County, announces. The change in the wheat program this year permits any producer to grow as much as 15 acres without penalty; however, the acreage must be determined before a marketing card can be issued. Since penalties apply if a farm without an allotment grows more than 15 acres, it is necessary for both the farmer and the county office to have a record of the wheat produced on the farm. A 1963 wheat marketing card will be required before the crop can be marketed. Hembrough urges new wheat growers to report their acreages this fall and avoid delays which might result next summer. If there are questions about the 1963 wheat program, farmers should contact the county ASCS office.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman disagrees with Shuman and other critics of his soybean policies. He says that in troubled times like these, government holdings of 70 million bushels of soybeans are needed. He says that's not much more than a month's requirements. During the last 25 years the number of chick hatcheries in the United States has nosedived from 11,465 to 3,513. At the same time the capacity of the average hatchery has zoomed from 4,000 chicks to 140,000.

Farm Roundup

Income Increase For Some Commercial Types By RICHARD P. POWERS WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department study shows new farm incomes were higher in 1961 than in 1960 on 27 of 39 important types of commercial farms in 21 major farming areas in the United States. Net farm incomes in 1961 were lower on seven types of farms and about the same on the other five. Returns were higher in 1961 on the dairy farms in the Midwest and Northeast, the Corn Belt farms, the western cattle ranches, the tobacco farms in the coastal plains of North Carolina and the tobacco-livestock farms in the Bluegrass area of Kentucky. They were lower on the poultry farms and the western sheep ranches. Changes in prices received for farm products was the most common factor contributing to changes in net farm income. Higher crop yields in 1961 were also a factor contributing to higher incomes compared with a year earlier on some types of farms.

Funeral Services For Carl Sieber Funeral services for Carl Sieber were held at 2 p.m. Friday from the Williamson Funeral Home with Reverend Henry Spencer officiating. OK WLDS, WLDS-FM CONTROL TRANSFER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission approved this application Friday: Jacksonville, Ill. — WLDS and WLDS-FM, transfer of control from Jacksonville Journal-Courier Co. to Jacksonville Newspapers, Inc. U.S. use of cigarettes, including that of overseas forces, is estimated at 512 billion, up about 9 billion from 1961. Although total output and use of cigarettes in 1962 will be above that of any previous year, the rate of gain may be smaller than for several years. WASHINGTON (AP)—A slight increase in acreages for 1963 early and late spring potatoes is recommended by the Agriculture Department. An acreage guide suggests a total spring crop of 138,850 acres or 3 per cent more than the 135,000 acres planted in 1962. With average yields, the probable production from this acreage would be 28.5 million hundredweight. This compares with the 1962 harvest of 24.1 million.

India To Get Soviet Jet Fighter Planes

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Reporting a slight shift in Soviet attitude, Prime Minister Nehru said Saturday the Russians will send MIG21 jet fighter planes for India's possible use in the undeclared border war with Red China.

Nehru told a closed session of a consultative committee of Parliament that a number of the jets would arrive in mid-December.

India put in the order for the jets long before the Red Chinese opened an offensive Oct. 20 on two fronts in the Himalayas along India's northern frontiers. Six jets were believed to have been ordered for December and six more for delivery at an unspecified later date.

Nehru's statement on the jets, reported to newsmen by committee members, was the latest from the government on the long-secret jet deal.

The Russians, faced with wounding their Chinese ally, were at first reported to have reneged on the order. Moscow newspapers sympathetically supported the Red Chinese in their drives to occupy disputed border areas in the Himalayas.

But Nehru told the meeting there had been a shift in Kremlin thinking in India's favor. Committee members did not elaborate on what Nehru had to say about this. There was speculation he was basing his remarks on editorial in Soviet newspapers which have taken a more neutral attitude recently.

The Chinese have seized all but 500-square miles of the 15,000-square mile zone on India's northwest border in the Ladakh area. Military activity was building up there around a strategic airfield at Chushul.

India has flown light tanks into Chushul to counter a Communist tank and troop buildup in the region. The Chinese troops were reported carrying Russian-made AK47 automatic rifles. The United States has sent India M14 automatic rifles.

The Indian Defense Ministry reported the Red Chinese launched new attacks over the past two days in the northeast sector, 1,400 miles from Ladakh.

A spokesman said, however, Indian forces held their positions and repulsed the advances. He said the attacks were carried out around Walong, 15 miles from the Burma border, and at Jang, just outside the Chinese held town of Towang, near the Bhutan border. Both towns lead to easier invasion passages down into the plains of India's Assam State.

Indian commanders were reported confident they could hold the line in the northeast front.

Open Differences Between Castro, Kremlin Detected

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's ire over Soviet missile withdrawal appeared spreading Saturday into the field of ideology. Highly informed sources reported he has told Cuba's old guard Communists to forget the party line, saying: "Only Cuba matters now."

Diplomats here detected open differences between the Castro regime and the Kremlin behind the tinkling of glasses raised last week in toasts to the 45th anniversary of Russia's Communist revolution.

Castro is said to be irked by the Kremlin's decision to pull out the medium and long-range ballistic missiles it had planted here. Premier Khrushchev's Cuban troubleshooter, Anastas I. Mikoyan, (Continued On Page Seven)

Believe Mr. K Intends To Keep Strong Military Base In Cuba

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) —

In spite of his withdrawal of nuclear missiles from Cuba, Soviet Premier Khrushchev evidently intends to maintain the strongest military position possible for Soviet-Communist power in the Caribbean island.

U. S. officials reporting this Saturday said it leads to several other conclusions about the importance to the United States and its allies of Russian behavior in the Cuban crisis:

1. Khrushchev is giving up in his Cuban position only what he felt absolutely compelled to yield in face of the danger of nuclear war. This suggests that the belief held by Western leaders that he does not want war and will go to considerable lengths to avoid it is correct.

2. Because Khrushchev did only what he felt he had to do, the Russian nuclear retreat from Cuba does not provide any basis for hope that great new agreements on disarmament, nuclear testing, Berlin or other world problems may follow in the wake of the Cuban crisis. In this sense the crisis has the character of an incident in the cold war rather than a turning point in world history.

3. Cuba under the Castro regime is a base for Communist political assault on other American nations and is a center for exporting indirect aggression in the form of arms and agents and money to Central and South America. It will be restored to what it was before the missile storm blew away, if Khrushchev can get his way.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is due in Washington Tuesday night for two days of talks with President Kennedy and one of their major topics will be to try to estimate the impact of the Cuban showdown on Khrushchev's Berlin policies.

Adenauer, long an advocate of a tough line on Berlin, may urge Kennedy to harden his over-all Berlin policies against any kind of U. S. adjustments in the Berlin situation.

Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, however, are understood to feel that this country and its allies must pursue flexible policies where possible and it seems certain that if Khrushchev is interested in further U.S.-Soviet exploratory talks on Berlin issues Kennedy will instruct Rusk to go ahead.

U.S. Defense Against Bomber Attack From Cuba Mounts

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. defense against bomber attack from Cuba is mounting as the Communists persist in refusal to remove a score or more of Ilyushin 28 medium jet bombers with nuclear-strike capability.

The bombers, together with Russian-made MIG jet fighters which also can be used for bombing purposes, remain a menace, even though the Russians appear to have dismantled and shipped out medium and intermediate-range ballistic missiles.

Army Nike-Hercules missiles—capable of hurling atomic warheads up to 100 miles—obviously have been placed in southern Florida where batteries of shorter range Hawk antiaircraft missiles already were arrayed.

A published photograph of one position shows two Nike-Hercules, one in vertical position, the other still on a transport beside it. This is the first disclosure that Hercules missiles have been placed in southern Florida—the tip of which is 90 miles from Cuba.

Until now, Nike weapons had been deployed in other areas of the country, primarily around big metropolitan areas and airfields.

The missile defenses are in addition to swarms of Air Force and Navy jet interceptors poised for swift take off from runways and carrier decks.

The radius at which the IL28 can operate is considerably less than that for the intermediate-range ballistic missiles which the Russians had been putting into place before U. S. reaction brought Russian agreement to withdraw the nuclear rockets.

The IL28 is shown in U. S. data to have an estimated range of 1,200 miles. The useful radius (the distance out from take off) would be less than half that, with allowance for maneuvering and time over target. The full range could be used to reach more distant targets, if it were a suicide, one-way trip.

Speed of the IL28 is estimated at about 540 miles per hour, the maximum useful altitude at about 50,000 feet.

To deal with IL28s, the super-sonic missiles and interceptors of U. S. air defenses would seek intercept at the earliest possible moment, before the invading aircraft had reached U. S. shores. Speeds of some of the more recent fighters are as high as 1,200 miles per hour, their useful altitude well above the 50,000-foot level.

The Nike-Hercules missile, lofted at super-sonic speeds, is reported to be capable of altitudes of about 150,000 feet, although this presumably would be reduced at the extreme, 100-mile range.

The MIG jet fighters, which Russia delivered to the Cuban gov-

Bombers, Means To Hinder Return Still Pose Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The count of Soviet nuclear missiles leaving Cuba aboard Russian vessels continued Saturday with 36 of the listed 42 apparently checked out.

The U. S. Navy made close-up examinations of two merchantmen following inspection of three other ships Friday — with six to eight missiles identified on the decks of each.

When the destroyer Barry was inspecting the freighter Anosov at dawn Saturday the Soviet skipper refused repeated requests to completely uncover missiles lashed to the deck. But there seemed no doubt that they were rockets and the Pentagon said the encounter was carried out without incident.

Much the same thing happened when the destroyer leader Norfolk looked over the Soviet freighter

Leninsky Komsomol for the first time Friday. The Russian skipper showed the nose and tail sections of two missile-like objects but balked at uncovering the rest.

The Russian said he would have to radio his government to get authority to show more. Thus, it appeared this might be a pattern set by the Kremlin.

U. N. Acting Secretary-General U. Thant reported conditional agreement on detailed arrangements for the International Committee of the Red Cross to take over the inspection of Soviet ships bound for Cuba. He said a final, conclusive agreement between Cuba, the U. S., the United States and the committee would be made early next week, probably on Tuesday.

But even as the nuclear threat to the Americas receded there was nagging at the United Nations—with no agreement in sight—over Soviet and Cuban threats to pull its jet bombers out of Cuba and (2) allow on-site inspection of the Cuban missile bases to guarantee they have been dismantled and that no nuclear equipment has been hidden away in caves or elsewhere.

U. S. officials forecast that, despite his agreement for inspection that when Soviet Premier Khrushchev has checked all his missiles through the U. S. warship picket line he will declare that any U. N. inspection or other international verification is unnecessary. (Continued On Page Seven)

A mother and daughter drowned at Charlotte, N.C., when their car plunged into a rain-swollen stream. Rescue workers were unable to locate the car for two hours.

The storm area extended from Eastern Tennessee through New England, covering most of the eastern third of the nation. It whirled around an almost stationary center positioned on the Ohio-West Virginia border Saturday morning, then drifted northeast.

The storm weakened in its northward movement and sunshiny returned to New England Saturday afternoon.

Winds reached a peak of 66 m.p.h. at Norfolk, Va., as the storm swept northward across that area Friday night. Maryland recorded wind gusts up to 60 m.p.h.

Tides headed for four feet above normal along the New England coastline, and were about three feet above normal in New York. Gale warnings flew from Eastport, Maine to Cape May, N.J., for easterly winds up to 50 knots. The high tides caused some flooding.

Torrential rains drenched many parts of the storm area. Parkersburg, W. Va., measured 3.21 inches in 24 hours; Raleigh, N.C. 3.2 inches, and Roanoke, Va., 2.94 inches.

Great, Humble Pay Final Respects To Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was laid to rest Saturday beside her husband in the rose garden of his ancestral estate high above the east bank of the Hudson River. The rites included a final prayer for a world of peace, of faith, of hope, of light and joy.

"The entire world becomes one family orphaned by her passing," said the Rev. Gordon L. Kidd, the Episcopal rector who conducted the funeral. The kiddan casket was covered with pine boughs gathered on the estate.

All three of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's White House successors attended the funeral of his 78-year-old widow, who died Wednesday in New York.

There was Harry Truman, the Democrat who succeeded to the presidency upon Roosevelt's death in 1945. Mrs. Truman was with him.

And there was Dwight D. Eisenhower, Roosevelt's only Republican successor. His wife did not attend the funeral.

Finally, there was Democratic President Kennedy, who wasn't even born when Roosevelt first brought his bride to his Hudson valley village after their marriage in 1905. Jacqueline Kennedy, in severe black, accompanied the President.

Outside the ivy-towered 118-year-old St. James Episcopal church several thousand neighbors of the Roosevelts stood behind police lines during the private funeral service. There were children among them, bound together in silence by the aura of history that clung to the tall, regal woman, who shared with her husband more years in the White House than any other couple.

Mrs. Roosevelt's personality, forceful and far-reaching in life, was all-pervading, even in death. A congregation of some 200 dignitaries inside the church heard a reading of 1 Cor. 15:54-58 from a French-language Bible that once belonged to Mrs. Roosevelt. At the age of 12, while a student in France, she underlined these words that were read Saturday: "Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?"

Then the Rev. Mr. Kidd departed from the Episcopal ritual for a prayer that was Mrs. Roosevelt's favorite. It is the prayer of St. Francis of Assisi. She had a copy on her bedroom wall. She had asked that it be recited at her funeral. It reads:

"Lord, make me an instrument of Your peace.
Where there is hatred, let me sow love.
Where there is injury, pardon.
Where there is doubt, faith.
Where there is despair, hope.
Where there is darkness, light.
Where there is sadness, joy."

Despite Wins In Big States GOP Faces Uphill Fight In '64

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic control of governorships in 14 states that voted Republican in 1960's presidential race indicated Saturday the GOP faces an uphill fight in challenging President Kennedy's re-election.

Besides holding on to the governorship of California, which went for Nixon in 1960, the Democrats won in Hawaii, Iowa, New Hampshire and Vermont, all of which voted for the GOP nominee two years ago.

Including holdovers, the Democrats have governors in these additional states that supported Nixon: Florida, Indiana, Kentucky, Nebraska, North Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington and Wisconsin.

While it doesn't hold true in every state, governors generally are credited with being able to assemble party organizations that can have an impact on the presidential vote outcome in their states.

The political rule of thumb says that the party which has its man in the executive chair of the capitals of key states has a leg up in the national contest.

Republicans in 15. These figures include holdover state executives and the unofficial election of a Republican in Maine and a Democrat in Massachusetts, either of which could be contested.

He wasn't wise enough to make it. He won the heart opening.

played two rounds of trumps and three rounds of diamonds, then led his ace of clubs. The second club lead disclosed the bad break and South had to give up two club tricks.

"Well," said North, "football season is in full swing and you just missed a nice field goal. That was a laydown slam contract."

North was right. South had a safety play at his disposal that would have guaranteed the slam against any break in clubs. All South had to do was draw trumps and strip the hand of diamonds just as he did, then lead a low club from either hand. Suppose that he led the deuce from his own hand. West would play his four and South should then play the nine from dummy.

East would win with the ten, Jack, or queen. Then East could not afford to lead a red card. South would trump in one hand and discard a losing club from the other. East would have to lead another high club. South would win in dummy and have a proven finesse against East.

I leave you to work out the ways this play would succeed against any other possible club breaks.

Second, a permanent that's a complete wave, not just curly ends... This gives more control. Third, develop the art of brushing your hair... Man-Made Glamellia

Man-Made Glamellia

Glamorizes Fall And Winter Wedding For The Bride

Lovely flowers are a must with all brides and weddings planned for the fall and winter will want that extra 'something' to take away the 'chance' of bad weather. Nothing is more exciting and glamorous than the man-made 'glamellias.' The arrangement pictured includes a lovely creation of the blossoms as a headdress for the bride's veil; a cascade bouquet, her going away corsage, table or mantle setting and even 'finishing' her formal gloves.

The glamellia is made of gladiolus petals and formed like a camellia, and logically enough, called a 'glamellia.' The Society of American Florists notes the enterprising florists of today were not content with nature and have invented their own blossom, much to the delight of brides.

WEEK'S GRAIN PRICES SHOW LITTLE CHANGE

CHICAGO (AP) — Activity in the grain futures market never reached more than a moderate pace this week and prices on the Board of Trade ended generally little changed.

Extreme gains ran to three cents a bushel in soybeans while corn posted the broadest losses at slightly more than two cents. Wheat, oats and rye finished in a mixed range.

Trade factors were few and minor. Transactions fell to a low 51.9 million bushels on Thursday as the market drifted almost into a stalemate. December corn traded for a short time on Friday at its low level of the season without attracting more than a steady volume of support.

Speculators had little more than day to day commercial business to guide their activities in the grain. Early in the week, a private crop report proved to be at least a moderately bearish influence in the soybean trade. It estimated the 1962 yield at 888 million bushels, an increase of 13 million over the outlook a month earlier.

While a few analysts had expected some increase, the trade viewed the figure as bearish and a good deal of selling was linked with it.

Export sales held at a good rate most of the week and was credited with a good deal of the support in wheat, corn and soybeans. However, hedge selling was rather heavy at times in corn and soybeans and it offset the demand.

A few brokerage firms expressed belief the election results of Tuesday may become a factor in the trade later, probably when it becomes known what recommendations the administration might make toward a new program, but they were inclined to discount them for the present.

While movement of new crop corn and soybeans exerted a bearish influence at times, brokers said the reported shortage of railroad cars had not been entirely alleviated and that not extremely heavy shipments were likely for a while.

At the end of the week, wheat was 1/2 cent a bushel lower to 1/4 higher than a week ago, December 30.04 1/4; corn 1-3/4 cents a bushel lower, December 31.05 1/4; oats 1/2 cent higher to 1/4 lower, December 30.04 1/4; rye 1 cent lower to 1/4 higher, December 31.12 1/4; soybeans 1/2-3/4 cents lower, November 32.34 1/4.

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices in the butcher hog market showed little day to day change last week although offerings were the second largest of the year. At the close, barrows and gilts were steady to 25 cents a hundredweight lower with the decline mostly on weights over 220 lbs.

For the 12 major markets, the supply was almost 8 per cent above the previous week.

At Chicago, the top price ranged from $17.50 on Monday to $18 on Wednesday.

The higher trend for slaughter steers which began in trading a week ago carried into the early days of last week and prices closed strong to 50 cents higher. However, most of the advance was on offerings grading choice and below. The firmness was credited to continued lighter marketings.

The average price of slaughter steers for the week was estimated at or near the peak for the year although prime grade sold as much as 75 cents above the high.

Woolled slaughter lambs sold steadily all week with the top at $20 on each day. Supply was about equal to the previous week.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS
CHICAGO (AP) — Estimated livestock receipts for Monday are: 100 hogs, 14,000 cattle and 1,500 sheep.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market today stands on the crest of a two-week advance linked with improving international and economic news.

As last week ended, the Dow Jones industrial average was above the Aug. 23 recovery peak of 610.00 — the highest previous point reached in the recovery from the June bottom.

During the past week the Dow Industrials advanced 11.55 to 616.13. Based on closing averages, the Dow Industrials rose 47.11 from Oct. 26, when the Cuban crisis was still in doubt, to this week's close.

In addition to the reassuring fact that the Cuban crisis has passed with an apparent victory for the United States came some good news about dividends this week.

Chief among these tidings was the declaration by General Motors of a $1 extra dividend compared with 50 cents a year ago. Wall Streeters construed this as a sign of confidence in the economy by the nation's greatest manufacturing unit.

"As GM goes, so goes the market," they were saying in Wall Street.

Wall Street's morale also was fed by booming auto sales and production, a rise in steel output and a brighter outlook for that metal, and record totals for September in manufacturing, wholesale, and retail lines.

The picture was still not one of an untroubled economy. There still remained evidence of a profit squeeze; but some Wall Streeters were beginning to ponder whether the well-advertised recession expected for 1963 had not been over-discounted by the market.

The four-day trading week was cut short by Tuesday's election, but a bright outlook for that metal, and record totals for September in manufacturing, wholesale, and retail lines.

The fact is, however, that the market advanced on election eve. It advanced the day after election. It paused for profit taking Thursday, to nobody's surprise. It resumed its rally Friday.

In the past nine sessions, the market has rallied vigorously on all but two. The decline this Thursday and a mixed session Oct. 31.

In the week just ended, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 4.7 to 227.3.

On the bond market, government prices pushed to 1963 peaks in routine trading. Corporates registered a sixth advance in the past seven weeks, though the advance was moderate. Volume fell to $21,098,000 par value from $23,899,000 in the previous five-day week.

19 Injured As Trains Collide Near Belleville

Leo Yates, a mail clerk on the passenger train, said, "Suddenly there was a tremendous jolt. I was thrown 20 or 30 feet down the car, along with other clerks."

A witness said 31 cars of the 70-car freight train were derailed and two cars of the passenger train left the track. Engines on both trains were derailed.

The Louisville and Nashville train was using the Illinois Central tracks to detour around an earlier freight train derailment on L & N lines near Belleville. The derailed freight train was en route to Nashville, Tenn., by a freight train derailment near Chattanooga, Tenn.

Among those injured were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Love of Sedalia, Mo. He is vice president and business manager of the Sedalia Democrat. Mrs. Love suffered a cut on the head and was admitted to the hospital.

Others admitted to the hospital included Edward Overby, engineer, and Nick Frankenberg, fireman, both of Evansville, Ind., and N. R. Crowell, an Illinois Central engineer serving as a pilot engineer on the L & N train.

an, seemed to have made no headway in soothing him. Mikoyan's extended stay in Cuba—now more than a week—strong indication that he has been unable to make any headway with Castro on the Kremlin's solution to the problem.

Castro is reported to be holding firm to his five demands for settling the crisis with the United States. These include the surrender of the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay, the lifting of all U.S. trade embargoes on Cuba, and trilateral guarantees against invasion.

While the five demands got mild support in the Kremlin, Communist China quickly embraced them. The Red Chinese are seen here as making a big play as an unconditional friend of Cuba. Eastern European Communist sources here now describe the Cuban government as having its hand in Moscow and its heart in Peking, the Red Chinese capital.

Diplomats scanned with interest a speech by ranking Cuban Communist Carlos Rafael Rodriguez this week, admonishing the Russians that Cuba was not a 1938 Czechoslovakia, ready to be sacrificed for the sake of appeasement.

Rodriguez, head of the National Institute of Agrarian Reform, is viewed as the No. 2 man among old guard Communists. He is credited with being the first in Red to make contact with Castro while the revolutionary was fighting dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Eyewitness Describes Interception

The Barry asked the commander of the Atlantic Fleet at Norfolk, Va. for further instructions, and continued to cruise in tandem with the Anosov.

There appeared to be no doubt that the eight oblong objects on the deck of the freighter were missiles. They were 60 to 70 feet long and about a dozen feet in diameter. Two Navy antisubmarine planes with newsmen aboard hovered over the scene. It was the first time newsmen have been allowed to witness the inspection techniques used to verify the removal of Soviet missiles.

The two planes ran low on fuel and were forced to return to base before the destroyer completed its mission.

Later, a Pentagon spokesman said, the inspection was completed without incident.

The Barry, commanded by Cmdr. Marshall D. Ward, Mt. Airy, N.C., pulled to within 100 yards of the Anosov, on the starboard side at 6:33 a.m.

The scene was about 750 miles northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Journal Sports COURIER

Sidelines

by ART HARRIS

Seventy-three years ago the Jacksonville Journal looked at sports this way: Sunday, October 13, 1889—"The college nine arose from its intercollegiate lethargy yesterday and won a close game from Lynnville by the score of 12 to 10. Lynnville was assisted by a battery from Winchester and came off the worse in consequence. . . . The behaviour of the home crowd was ungentlemanly in the extreme, and if it is not changed at once the faculty will have something to say about playing match games with out of town clubs."

Thursday, October 17—"Mr. Cornelius Goltra killed eight quails in his yard Thursday. He declares it is not necessary to go beyond the city limits for good hunting."

Friday, October 18—"Four or five Jacksonville wheelmen intend to pedal it over to Quincy on Sunday. The distance is about 80 miles, but nothing under a century run can satisfy the crowd of hard riding and ambitious bicyclists."

Tuesday, October 22—"The redoubtable Jack Dempsey champion middle weight prize fighter was in the city Monday. What his business in Jacksonville was we were unable to learn. The gentleman was non committal on the subject. He left on the afternoon train for the east. Dempsey is a finely built, well muscled fellow and seemed to be in a first-class condition. The local sports were ignorant of the fact that the noted pugilist was in town or he would no doubt have been besieged by callers."

(This last notation reminds one of the happenstance that put Stan Musial in town last spring. Seems as tho Mr. M. stopped at a spa on North Main street. While walking to this place he passed three teenagers who never batted an eye at the famous St. Louis veteran slugger.)

Saturday, October 25—"The Lynnville shooting grounds was the scene of a match on Thursday which had been arranged between the crack shots of the district. J. Z. Scott and J. A. Groves were pitted in a team shoot against J. T. Ranson and F. T. Gordon. for a purse and the championship of the southwestern section of the county. . . . The contest was easily won by Scott and Groves who killed ten more birds than their opponents."

Tuesday, October 29—"An exciting prize fight occurred north of the city limits on Sunday afternoon. The principals were a white man and a colored man, who had got into a dispute over a game of craps and resolved to settle their quarrel by recourse of the manly art. The fight which was for the magnificent sum of 50 cents, lasted for three-fourths of an hour. The colored bruiser was almost gloriously whipped."

Thursday, November 7—"How is this for a lie? A gentleman sends in the following communication: Jos McGamon and Chas Jackson killed on election day 19 squirrels, 42 quails, 28 prairie chickens, 49 rabbits, 1 pair of snipe, 9 pheasants, 3 wild turkey, 7 wild geese, 1 fox, 2 raccoons and 1 opossum. Jackson had no firearms but his dog."

Wonder why these two renowned hunters claimed no kill of ducks? Could it have been that this toothless bird was scarce in those times too?

Y PROGRAM AT IC AGAIN THIS YEAR

Through the cooperation of Illinois College, the YMCA is again this year conducting a recreation night for adults at the Illinois College gymnasium.

This activity will start Monday, Nov. 12, and will continue every Monday thereafter with the exception of nights that the college is closed during holidays or when college basketball conflicts.

Each session will be scheduled for 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. with coed activities including volleyball, basketball, badminton, handball and individual exercise.

The only equipment required by the individual is proper gym attire. All balls and other equipment will be furnished by the YMCA. These activities are played on an informal basis and are open to any adult at no charge.

George Wingler and YMCA board member Robert Spink will be supervisors of all activities. Further information may be obtained by calling the YMCA at 243-1016.

Alabama Rolls On In 36-6 Decision

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (P) - Sophomore Joe Namath took some passing lessons from Miami's brilliant George Mira in the first half Saturday, then applied them with punishing fury and guided nationally ranked Alabama to a 36-6 football victory.

Namath ran and passed Alabama to 23 points in less than nine minutes of the third period after Mira had led Miami to a 3-0 halftime on a 40-yard field goal by Bobby Wilson. It was Alabama's 19th consecutive victory, and the defending national champions ran their unbeaten string to 26 games.

Alabama, currently No. 3 in the nation in The Associated Press top 10, turned the heralded Mira-Namath duel into a rout in the second half.

Namath triggered the first touchdown deal Miami its second defeat in eight games, but Namath and Alabama were far from finished.

Wipe Out Deficit In Second Half

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (P) - Michigan, aroused by Bob Chandler, wiped out a 10-point deficit within three minutes Saturday with two second-half touchdowns for a 14-10 victory over Illinois.

Chandler passed for one touchdown and scored the other on a quarterback sneak as the Wolverines gave coach Bump Elliott his third straight victory over his brother, Pete.

Pete, whose Illini ended a 13-game losing streak last week with an upset of Purdue, never has been a winner in the Big Ten's battle of brotherly coaching.

1st Win In Fire
Michigan had lost all four of its previous Big Ten games until its 14-point explosion gave the Wolverines only their second victory of the season.

But it took an alert defense to forestall the Illini, who had made scoring look easy with their 10 points in the second quarter.

Ben Farabee's pass interception and his 44-yard return to the 1 set up Michigan's winning touchdown in the second minute of the final quarter.

Before the Wolverines could claim their victory, they had to stop three Illinois thrusts. Tom Keating did it once with a fumble recovery. Jim Green stopped the Illini the next time with a pass interception at the Michigan 30. And the next time Michigan held for downs at its 20.

Michigan looked feeble in the first half, making only three first downs and gaining just 12 yards rushing. When the Wolverines returned to the field for the second half, they were greeted by scattered boos from the crowd of 49,756.

Illinois made great use of miserable weather conditions to score its 10 points that came within four minutes. Two weak Michigan punts into a strong wind that gusts up to 36 miles an hour set up the Illinois scores.

30-Yard Field Goal
Jim Plankenhorn set the Illini ahead 3-0 with a 30-yard field goal.

Michigan's next punt carried only to the 27 and the Illini scored their touchdown in six plays. Mike Summers scored from the 1 after Mike Taliaferro passed 20 yards to Thurman Walker, who made a one-hand pull-in while falling at the 6.

But in the third quarter, after the rain had let up, the wind came to Michigan's aid. The Wolverines took over at Illinois' 46 after a poor punt.

Dave Ralmy did most of Michigan's work on the ground and caught a 17-yard pass from Chandler to set up the score. On Thursday, Chandler passed the final three yards to Bob Timberlake.

So. California Triumphs By 39-14

STANFORD, Calif. (P) - Quarterback Pete Beathard scored two touchdowns which he set up with passes Saturday, leading undefeated Southern California to a 39-14 triumph over Stanford that kept the Trojans in front of the Rose Bowl race.

Ranked No. 2 nationally going into the game, the Trojans' stars built a 25-0 lead in the third quarter.

Tom Lupo started the Trojans toward their third Big Six Conference triumph, and seventh of the season, with a 32-yard field goal. Beathard followed with touchdown runs of four and one yards, culminating drives in which he passed 27 and 37 yards to end Hal Bedsole provided the key gains.

Bill Nielsen, who alternates with Beathard at quarterback, threw 29 yards to John Brownwood and 10 to Phil Hoover for second half touchdowns.

Sophomore quarterback Craig Fertig tallied the final Trojan touchdown on a five-yard run, but Southern California 0 10 15 14-39

Claim Bork Best Passer Of All Time

DE KALB, Ill. (P) - Based on statistics, junior quarterback George Bork of Northern Illinois University became the greatest collegiate passer in football history Saturday.

The 6-foot, 170-pounder, from Mount Prospect, Ill., wound up Northern's 8-1 season by tossing 5 touchdowns passes in a 50-0-7 rout over La Crosse (Wis.) State College.

Bork fired the ball 56 times and made 33 completions for 433 yards.

Another junior and basketball teammate of Bork's, 6-foot-6 High School senior of Burlington, Ill., snared 13 passes for a season total of 76, erasing the national record of 74 set in 1960 by Ken Gregory of Whittier, Calif.

61 Completion %
Bork completed the campaign with these aerial accomplishments: 232 completions, 356 attempts, a 65.1 completion percentage, 2,494 yards, and 22 touchdowns.

Earlier in the season, Bork had set a single game completion mark of 37 against Omaha.

This rubs out all major season passing records, for university or college divisions with the exception of the touchdown mark of 26.

The records that fell were 159 completions by Don Klosterman of Los Angeles Loyola in 1951, 315 attempts by Klosterman in 1952, 2,325 yards gained by Don Gotlob of San Houston State in 1952, and an accuracy percentage for 150 or more attempts of 64.1 set by Paul Larson of the University of California in 1954 and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist in 1957.

Bork's touchdown passes Saturday included tosses of 15 and 34 yards to Gary Stearns, 14 and 31 yards to Rich Bader and 35 yards to Jack Dean.

Four Top Games In NFL Showdown

(P) - The title race in the National Football League's Eastern Conference reaches its next showdown stage Sunday with the top four teams paired.

The New York Giants, in first place, put their 6-2 record on the line at Dallas against the Cowboys 4-31. The Cowboys are tied for third with the Cleveland Browns, who battle the second-place Washington Redskins (4-2-2) in the nation's capital.

Pittsburgh (4-4), fifth in the east, also can stay in the title fight if it gets by the Cardinals (2-5-1) at St. Louis.

The Western Conference race, all but wrapped up by the defending NFL champion Green Bay Packers (8-0) continues to be a battle for the also-ran spots. The Packers are in Philadelphia against the Eagles (1-6-1).

In other Western Conference action, second-place Detroit (6-2) plays at San Francisco (3-5). Baltimore's Colts (14-4) are at Los Angeles (1-7) and the Minnesota Vikings (2-6) meet the Bears (4-4) in Chicago.

In the American League, Western Division-leading Denver is host to Eastern Leader Boston. Dallas plays at New York. Houston is at Oakland and Buffalo at San Diego.

The smallest bird in New Zealand bears the militant name of rifleman. Only three inches long, the rifleman is a poor flyer and it prefers climbing trees to flying to the top.

CREWMAN SPLASHES TO GARDEN VICTORY

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (P) - Crewman, an appropriately named chestnut son of Sailor, splashed over the water-soaked track Saturday like a gob on shore leave and won the $273,530 Garden State Stakes by 6 lengths at Garden State Park.

It was a stunning climax in the 2-year-old championship struggle of 1962, as Never Bend—the overwhelming favorite—straggled home a poor third. He was the 1-2 choice, first odds-on favorite in the race's history.

Crewman, ridden confidently over the sloppy strip by Willie Shoemaker for his second straight victory in this rich event, took the lead almost at once. He whirled around the 1 1/4 miles without once taking back and barged home with plenty of daylight over the second horse, Chicagoan Robert F. Beninger's In the Pocket.

Purdue Hex Stops Michigan S. 17-9 In Rose Bowl Bid

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P) - Purdue, which for the past decade has exercised a football hex over Michigan State, defeated the favored Spartans 17-9 Saturday in a bruising Big Ten defensive battle.

Purdue's Omer Ohi converted the Boilermakers' first touchdown in the third period and then added a 27-yard field goal in the fourth to keep the Boilermakers in the race for a possible Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Purdue got an insurance touchdown with only 38 seconds left to play.

Michigan State's lone touchdown, scored in the third period, came on Sherman Lewis' 54-yard run on the first play after Don Underwood had recovered a Purdue fumble. But the Spartans' try for the extra point went wrong with a bad pass from center.

Breaks were decisive in all the early scoring except for Ohi's field goal. Purdue's first touchdown came when Tom Bloom streaked 47 yards down an aisle near the sidelines after intercepting a Pete Smith pass.

The last-minute Purdue marker involved a lurching 50-yard run by Ron Walker and then a 1-yard plunge by the fullback.

Michigan State started the scoring when Underwood recovered a Purdue fumble in the second period on the Purdue 20-yard line and three plays later Jim Bobbitt knuckled a field goal from the 27.

Spartan Trouble
The final Purdue touchdown also stemmed from a fumble.

Michigan State was making a desperate drive to pull the game out and had worked the ball to the Purdue 32. Charles Migyanka, Spartan quarterback, went back to pass but was dumped so hard by Don Brumm, Purdue's All-America tackle candidate, that he dropped the ball. Brumm recovered.

Gary Hogan slugged into the line for a yard and then on the next play to Walker burst through the line and wove his way for 50 yards to the Michigan State 7.

Two plays later, the ball was on the 1, from where Walker crashed over.

Michigan State, the nation's leading rushing team only 10 days ago, now has been held to two touchdowns in its last two games.

WHITE HALL MAROONS

WHITE HALL - After Saturday, the score now stands at 1,120 to 389 as the Roodhouse Railroaders downed the puncheon White Hall Maroons 13-0 in the 59th meeting between the two clubs.

With both clubs out of the running in the Illinois Valley, the game was none the less spirited before a huge White Hall homecoming crowd.

Roodhouse held the Maroons on the ground throughout most of the game, and got away with mainly a nine man line. With a quick touchdown coming in the first quarter, and another in the second on an intercepted pass, the Railroaders continually thwarted Maroon offensive thrusts in the second half.

No Place For Mouse
With both clubs sporting huge lines up front, the game saw numerous bruising tackles and good line play by both clubs. Roodhouse was able to throw over the hosts in several tight spots, and this proved to be the difference.

With halfback Ron Burton pushing the Railroaders' ground attack and quarterback Mike Shepard connecting on three straight passes for good gains, the guests received the opening kickoff and marched downfield with Burton going over from the one for the opening score.

The pass for the extra point was ruled out of bounds.

White Hall missed several scoring opportunities in the first half, once getting the ball as a result of a blocked punt on the Railroaders' 45, but couldn't move the ball.

The Railroaders were greatly hampered throughout the game with costly penalties, killing scoring drives, once getting four straight walkoffs in a series.

LAST PASSES AWAY
Taking to the air for the first time in the second half, the Maroon quarterback Neil Fansler had a flat pass picked off by corner man Bill Garner who raced unmolested the remaining 60 yards for the final score in the game. Joe Admire ran the extra point over for the 13-0 halftime lead.

Fumbles stopped several White Hall thrusts in the second half, that plus a stubborn Roodhouse defense deep in their own territory. The Maroons got to the Railroader 11 before a fumble ended the threat, and once, behind three fine carries by Bob Willis, marched to the six before a 15 yard penalty pushed them back and three passes fell incomplete.

Roodhouse finished with a 5-3-1 season record and a 3-3-1 mark in the IVC, while White Hall ended at 1-7.

The winning coach, Diz McCarthy, graduated from and coached at White Hall before becoming head Railroader mentor this season.

Blueboys End Schedule 6-2 At Central Mo.

FAYETTE, Mo. - Illinois College scored once in each quarter Saturday afternoon, to hand Central Methodist a 25-6 thumping, and finish with the best Blueboy record since 1939.

Fullback Tom Francis scored a pair of touchdowns, and quarterback Ken Mock and halfback Chancey Whitaker one apiece in allowing the Blueboys to pick up their sixth win in eight outings this season.

IC thwarted the potent Central Methodist offensive game, which had beaten Principia, one of the two clubs to down the Blueboys this year.

Whitaker broke loose off right tackle on the Blueboys' third play from scrimmage and scampered 66 yards for the initial score in the first period, coming in the first five and a half minutes of the game.

Mock Hits Receivers
The Blueboys put on a sustained drive early in the second period, carrying from their own 47, with the march highlighted by three passes from Mock to end Bill Baker.

The passes chalked up 50 yards, and the last one gave the Blueboys the ball on the four, where Francis scored his first TD of the game off right tackle. Mock bootied the extra point for the 13-0 halftime advantage.

Central Methodist marched to the IC eight yard marker in the quarter, but Billy Nunn picked off an aerial on the goal line and put the visitors out of danger.

Difficult Staves Off Threat
Another intercepted pass, by Gary Duffield, set up the third IC score, as he returned it 25 yards to the hosts' 37. Mock bootlegged 14 yards around left end for the score several plays later.

Central Methodist accounted for their only score late in the final quarter, with quarterback Bob Bryant plunging over from the one yard marker.

Illinois College, marched from their own 42 to the 19 where Francis racked up the final Blueboy score of the year and the 25-6 win.

The Blueboys outgained the hosts on the ground, 280 yards to 140, but fell back in passing yardage, 81 to 53.

Notre Dame Rips Into Pitt, 42-33 Behind Lamonica

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, playing the brand of football with which they once terrorized the nation, crushed Pittsburgh 42-33 Saturday behind the superb passing of quarterback Daryle Lamonica.

Packing 22 points in the first quarter, Notre Dame scored its third victory in seven games and rolled up its highest point total in the four-year reign of Coach Joe Kuharich.

Lamonica, the 21-year-old senior from Fresno, Calif., who apparently found himself in last week's 20-12 victory over Navy, tossed four touchdown passes, three of which went to his favorite target, end Jim Kelly.

Combo Clicks 11 Times
The Lamonica-to-Kelly combination clicked 11 times for 127 yards while Lamonica, enjoying the finest day of his career, connected on 17 of 28 passes for 214 yards.

Notre Dame took command from the opening kickoff and left little doubt of the outcome after the first 12 minutes of play. Lamonica took to the air after the kickoff and the Irish pounded 58 yards in 10 plays for a touchdown with sophomore Don Hogan carrying for the final 6 yards.

Before the first quarter ended with Notre Dame ahead 22-0, the Irish gambled and won on a fourth-and-3 situation, faked a point-after-touchdown kick into a two-point run and scored two touchdowns on Lamonica-to-Kelly passes.

Pitt Fights Back
Despite this awesome display of power, Pitt kept fighting and left the field at halftime trailing Notre Dame 29-14. Jim Traficant capped a 60-yard march with a 4-yard touchdown run and halfback Ed Clark raced 56 for a touchdown on a snappy double-reverse play.

In addition to this, the Panthers scored on a 93-yard kickoff return in the fourth quarter by Fred Mazurek but it simply wasn't Pittsburgh's day.

Notre Dame scored one of its touchdowns after recovering a fumble, another after blocking a punt and still another with Penn State's Pete Billey failed to get a kick away after fumbling the ball.

It was Notre Dame's greatest scoring surge since the Irish smashed Southern Methodist 54-21 in 1957.

Palmer-Snead Duo Keep Canada Cup, U.S. Hopes Alive

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—Sam Snead and Arnold Palmer of the United States clung to their lead in the Canada Cup Golf Championship Saturday after Argentina's Fidel de Luca threatened it with a sensational string of five straight birdies before blowing up.

At the end of 54 holes, the favored Snead-Palmer combination was still out in front with an aggregate score of 414, four strokes ahead of Argentina, with the final 18 holes scheduled for Sunday.

The day's play over the Jockey Club's 6,746-yard course near Buenos Aires was marked by numerous bogeys as tricky greens tripped up top professionals from 24 nations.

Snead's game came apart as he racked up four bogeys and a double bogey to wind up with a damaging 2-over-par 37-35-72.

But as Slammin' Sammy faltered, Palmer steadied, and came in with a 1-under-par 69, despite three bogeys, to save the day for the United States.

De Luca threw a scare into the U.S. camp when he birdied the first five holes of the front nine for the first time in the Canada Cup's 10-year-old history.

But the swarthy Argentine double-bogeyed the sixth, bogeyed the seventh and double-bogeyed the eighth to lose back in three holes the five strokes he picked up.

De Luca finished up with a 34-38-72 and his partner, Roberto de Vicenzo wound up with a 34-35-69.

Australia's Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson, who were in second place at the end of the halfway mark, slipped to third place with an aggregate of 426.

Barnum Burns Up Cajun Tourney

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—John Barnum, who started playing golf before most of today's fairway aces were born, burned up the rolling Oakbourne Country Club course Saturday with a record-equalling 63 to jump into a 3-stroke lead at the end of the third round of the $17,500 Cajun Classic Golf Tournament.

The 52-year-old Barnum—a transplanted Texan—fashioned a 31-32 on his round and finished with a 54-hole total of 201.

Already 15 strokes under par, his round was one stroke lower than the record for 72 holes set last year when Doug Sanders won the Cajun Classic.

Barnum, a teaching pro from Blythesfield, Mich., a suburb of Grand Rapids, collected nine birdies in his torrid round.

His 63 equaled the mark set at Oakbourne last year by pudgy Bob Rosburg, the Portland Ore., swinger with the unorthodox grip. Rosburg is not competing here this year.

Barnum forged ahead of Gay Brewer—19 years his junior—on the ninth hole when he pushed his tee shot within 18 inches of the pin and then holed it for a birdie 2.

Brewer, a Kentuckian who plays out of Tequesta, Fla., shot a 69 for a 54-hole total of 204, three strokes behind Barnum.

In third place was Bo Winingler of Odessa, Tex., who blasted a 66 Saturday for a 207.

Texas Jolts Baylor Behind Wade 27-12

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Lightning streaked through cloudless skies Saturday in the form of quarterback Tommy Wade and the jolt carried nationally-ranked Texas to a 27-12 victory over Baylor's Bears.

Wade, locked in a passing duel with Baylor's Don Trull, fired two touchdown bolts, dove one yard for another and directed the undefeated Longhorns to their seventh victory of the year.

With only a 14-14 tie marring their record, the Steers moved a step nearer their second straight Southwest Conference championship.

Wade hurled passes of 54 and 14 yards for the first two Texas touchdowns, spotting Tommy Lucas on the first and Sandy Sands on the second.

Tailback Jerry Cook scampered eight yards for the third and Wade closed out the Longhorn scoring with five minutes left on a plunge from the 1. Shoeless kicker Tony Crosby converted after the first three.

Baylor scored first early in the initial quarter as Trull moved the Bears through the air to the 1, from where he sneaked in. Halfback Ronnie Goodwin sailed an 18-yard payoff pitch to end James Ingram for the final Bear marker.

HANNIBAL, Mo.—Jacksonville High and Ron Yates ended their season and high school careers, respectively, in grand style Saturday evening, swamping the Hannibal Pirates 35-7.

Yates gave the Crimsons an early lead in the contest, scoring three touchdowns and three extra points in the first half, and added another pair of PATs to run his point total to 26 for the game.

The Hannibal offensive moved only once downfield during the game, as the stiff Crimson defense continually broke through to throw the Pirates for losses. Unable to run, the Pirates took to the air, but found the going no easier, completing none of ten attempts.

The powerful Crimson ground attack chewed up 319 yards rushing, including 232 in the first half on 23 plays from scrimmage. Halfback Willie Brown and fullback Larry Hacker each ran well for the winners throughout the game, and picked up a touchdown apiece.

Jacksonville got the first break in the ball game on the opening kickoff, recovering on the Hannibal 29, and marched to the three yard marker where Yates lunged over for his first score of the night. He soon added the PAT on a boot.

99 Yards By Yates
Early in the second quarter, Yates took a pincushion from quarterback Greg Spangenberg and traveled 90 yards around end for the second score and added the PAT for the 14-0 advantage.

After holding the hosts to nothing on the ground, the Crimsons used a 15 yard penalty and runs by Brown and Hacker to move to the 12 where Yates once again carried over and added the extra point for a 21-0 lead.

Brown cashed in on an 18 yard scamper late in the first half, breaking away from a host of tacklers around left end, and Yates made it 28-0 at halftime.

After pushing the Pirates back again early in the second half, the Crimson got the ball on their own 49 and marched down to the 18 where Hacker swung across and a 35-0 lead.

Numerous penalties and fumbles stopped both clubs in the remaining time until the Pirates took over on their own 37 and moved steadily downfield to the three where Joe Stewart plunged over for the only Hannibal score of the evening. Maurice Forte ran the extra point over.

The Crimsons got another scoring opportunity in the same quarter, but were stopped when an attempted field goal fell short of its mark with less than a minute remaining.

The win gives the Crimsons a respectable 8-1 season record and left the Pirates at 3-6 for the year.

MISSISSIPPI RAPs Tiny Chattanooga

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP)—Fourth-ranked Mississippi toyed with little Chattanooga Saturday and rolled to a 62-7 victory.

The Rebels, who outclassed Chattanooga in every department, marched almost at will and scored in every quarter. Mississippi amassed 545 total yards from scrimmage to 129 for Chattanooga.

Ole Miss starters played seldom after the opening minutes and substitutes had a field day against the porous Moccasin defenses. Seven Rebel backs scored touchdowns and Ole Miss added two safeties and six conversions.

Chattanooga showed its only threat in the second period as quarterback Ron Ekanan completed four passes to carry the team 61 yards for its touchdown. The final six yards came on a toss to halfback Jim Bradshaw.

Chattanooga 0 7 0 0-7

PRIN TOPS ELMHURST
ELSAH, Ill. (AP)—Principia College closed out its season with a big score and 4-4 record Saturday by defeating Elmhurst College, 47-0, in a non-conference football game.

Principia turned over recovered fumbles and an intercepted pass into five of its seven touchdowns.

BRADLEY TROUNCED 42-22
MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—Ball State, putting the clamp on ace passer Bob Cares, bounced back from a 14-0 deficit Saturday to trounce Bradley 42-22 in a non-conference college football game.

Cares, one of the nation's top small college passers, could complete only five of 16 passes for 99 yards. In addition, Ball State defenders grabbed off three Cares tosses.

Veterans' Day Parade Monday At 11 O'Clock; Ceremonies In Park

Official observance of Veteran's Day will be Monday, November 12, in Jacksonville with a parade scheduled to wind its way through the business district at 11 o'clock. Memorial services and a brief program honoring veterans of all wars will be held in Central Park immediately following the parade. The parade and ceremony is expected to be completed by noon.

American Legion Post 279 is in charge of the Veterans Day celebration in Jacksonville. The parade will form at the corner of Church and West State streets at 11 o'clock, march around the Square and then to the center of the park where the bands will form for the short ceremonies.

Rev. William J. Boston will give the invocation and the principal address by Rev. Alvin Campbell, assistant at Our Saviour's Parish. American Legion Commander Fred Daniels said that several bands had been secured to take part in the parade. The American Legion Auxiliary will serve a smorgasbord in the Legion home from 11 to 1:30 on Monday.

Commander Daniels urged members of all veterans organizations and their auxiliaries to participate in the parade and services on Monday. Business houses in Jacksonville will be open as usual but all governmental offices, city, state and county, will be closed. The post office will handle mail on regular holiday schedules and no deliveries will be made except to patrons who have boxes at the post office.

Justice Of Peace Court Fines For Several Charges

Justice Richard Doyle presided over Justice of the Peace Court last week at the court house. Justice Harry Timmons handled cases outside regular business hours.

Those defendants fined for various charges included: Samuel Easley of Meredosia, failure to yield right of way causing an accident and drag racing, $150; Stephen Irving of Chambersburg, drag racing, $25; Henry Medlock of Jacksonville, reckless driving, $50; Melvin LeMay of Springfield, speeding, $15.

Gerald Taylor, Arenzville, disobeyed stop sign, $5; Orville Abbey of Jacksonville, disobeyed stop sign, $5; Walter Hinman, 1043 North Diamond, failure to dim lights, $5; Robert Hoster, Bradley, Illinois, failure to reduce speed causing an accident, $5.

Raymond Brown, Jacksonville, U-turn in front of traffic, $15; Bobby Staats, White Hall, no valid license, $10.

L. F. Porter and William Porter were named in warrants charging battery in a complaint signed by George Seal in the court of Justice Richard Doyle. Seal is an employee of the Caldwell Engineering Company and both Porters are sub-contractors for the company, engaged in a street widening and surfacing project on East Michigan Avenue.

An altercation involving the three men reportedly took place Friday afternoon at the construction site, in which Seal was badly beaten. Bond was fixed by Justice Doyle at $1,000 each for appearance of the three Porters.

Woman Injured As Cars Crash

Mrs. Margaret E. Lahey, 535 Hooker street, sustained an injury to her left hip and two bumps on the head as the result of an automobile collision at 7:42 o'clock Saturday morning at the intersection of Center and Green streets.

She was taken to Our Saviour's hospital for emergency treatment and X-rays.

Mrs. Lahey was driving south in a 1965 Chevrolet, which received damage to the left front end.

The other car, a 1957 Chevrolet, was driven by Mrs. Dorothy G. Wilner, 1231 Center street, who was traveling west. The front end of the Wilner car was damaged. Both vehicles were towed to garages.

Funeral services for Mrs. Clara Ginder were held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday from the Williamson Funeral Home with Reverend William J. Boston officiating.

Eula Standley and Wilma Crum sang "In The Garden" and "Beyond The Sunset," accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Rexroat at the organ. Caring for the flowers were Prudy Ginder, Lucille Johnston, Margaret Weiss, Shirley Hanson, Sue Ginder, Marilyn Masten and Rosemary Finn, all granddaughters.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

The Legion Post's Drum & Bugle Corps Of 1926

This picture will hold many memories for viewers who recall the pride and dignity of the members of the Jacksonville American Legion Post Drum and Bugle Corps of 1926. The picture taken on the steps of the Courthouse, was on the occasion when the late Sergeant Alvin York of Tennessee, World War One hero, spoke in Jacksonville. Just 8 years after the declaration of Armistice of World War One a patriotism was still a cherished characteristic. The glory and fervor of "Armistice Day" has long faded with the passing of World War Two and the Korean conflict. The November 11th memorial observance is now Veterans Day with veterans of all wars, and those serving in all branches of the military, being honored.

Mrs. Del Roman, 315 East Pennsylvania, recently found an old book in her attic that contained the picture shown above. Her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hauser, were contacted because the former was a member of the group. Between the two families the correct identity of all the men was established.

Cancer Crusade For Morgan Over Expected Goal

The executive board of the Morgan county chapter of the American Cancer society met at the board room of the Farmer's State Bank, with Mrs. Robert Manlove, president, presiding.

The highlight of the many committee reports was the report of the treasurer, G. William Schildman, that the final Crusade showed a grand total of $6,610.78 collected for the fight against cancer.

This was considerably above the goal of $5,800 set for the society. Also Schildman reported that the entire Cancer Crusade this year was carried out with the expense of only $20.26 locally.

The executive board then passed unanimously the motion expressing a vote of thanks to Don W. McConiga, Crusade chairman, for the year 1962. Also thanks were expressed by the board to the Journal-Courier, radio station WLDS and radio station WJIL for the cooperation the chapter received during the year and especially during the Crusade.

Article Ties Up Morgan History With Debutane

The Chicago Tribune recently carried an article of great interest to Jacksonville residents. One of the paper's staff writers, Eleanor Page, tied up Morgan county history with the upcoming debut of a Chicago debutante, Miss Betty Cluxton, granddaughter of Mrs. Harrison W. King of this city and the late Mr. King.

The material reads: "Some interesting lore is revived in discussing ties of Miss Elizabeth King Cluxton, one of those who will bow in this year's Passavant Debutante cotillion, with the hospital."

Miss Cluxton's great grandfather, Dr. W. H. H. King, was a close friend and associate of the Rev. William Alfred Passavant, the Lutheran minister who founded the hospitals which bear his name here (Chicago) and in Jacksonville, Ill.

"But her Illinois roots go even deeper, back to her great, great grandfather, Dr. John Allen of New Salem, a graduate of Dartmouth College and the only college graduate in that settlement. In addition to his professional duties, says his great granddaughter, Mrs. Harry E. Cluxton, Jr., mother of Dr. Cluxton, Dr. Allen was also the intellectual leader of the community and physician as well as personal friend of Abraham Lincoln."

Grandmother Tales "When Ann Rutledge died of malaria, Lincoln was so upset that he became an atheist," says Mrs. Cluxton. "Dr. Allen rode with him for months persuading him to return to religious faith. My grandmother (Dr. Allen's daughter), who told me this, never would talk of it to Lincoln historians because she didn't think it would be good for young people to learn of this problem."

"Dr. Allen's log cabin home in New Salem State Park has been restored, and in it are many heirloom pieces that Dr. and Mrs. Cluxton had in their home."

"Dr. Cluxton is on the staff of Passavant hospital here (Chicago). His wife's grandfather, Dr. King, was chief of staff of the Jacksonville Passavant, 'now a modern, brand new hospital,' says Mrs. Cluxton, as well as chief surgeon for the Chicago and Alton (now the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio) railroad. In addition with the Rev. Mr. Passavant and his son, Dr. Passavant, Jr. Dr. King personally carried the Jacksonville hospital through many a financial crisis, and donated one wing."

"Despite his professional and administrative duties, he found time to travel extensively, collecting items for the establishment of a museum which at the time of his death was bequeathed to the state and is on exhibition in the State museum in Springfield. At that time, says Mrs. Cluxton, Dr. King's collection of butterflies was outstanding, and so was his tree of hummingbirds."

Mrs. Harry E. Cluxton, Jr. of Chicago is the former Elizabeth (Liddy) King of Jacksonville, daughter of Mrs. Harrison King.

No Walls Around Freedom

The United States has its deep divisions, underscored as always in the stridency of its election campaigns.

Differing attitudes toward our cherished freedom lead to some of these cleavages. Men disagree as to what freedom really is, how it shall be exercised, and how protected.

Very few among us are believed to want some kind of authoritarian rule, whether Communist or any other, in place of what we have. Indeed, one of our great splits developed over the matter of preventing just such rule from being imposed.

Many ultraconservatives feel that this danger lies as much within our borders as beyond them. They believe that in our midst are not only foreign agents but many Americans who are either conscious servants or dupes of communism.

And they think that this country's 30-year trend toward more heavily centralized government plays directly into the hands of the authoritarian cause.

A good number of those who believe thus seem to conceive of freedom principally as a bastion to be defended.

The visiting Archbishop of Canterbury may or may not have had such Americans in mind when he talked of freedom recently in the nation's capital. But what he said bears directly on the conflict in this country over how to safeguard freedom.

It does not survive, he said, by

"being protected behind a rampart." Freedom finds its greatest, its only safety in "going forth and doing creative work" in areas that need its rich sustenance.

"Freedom is a deep and difficult thing," he added. "It is a very spiritual thing. It has to be growing, deepening and widening all the time. If it is not, then it is declining."

There is no suggestion in this that freedom should not be defended against its enemies—only the notion that this posture is not enough to assure its survival.

Perhaps many of those who appear primarily concerned with this defensive posture would quickly say they are as eager as anyone for aggressive extensions of freedom. Maybe it is mainly a question of emphasis which is involved here.

If this is so, then it is not unreasonable to expect from them a warm sympathy for those Americans who like to stress the other side of the coin—taking risks with freedom by offering its material and spiritual benefits in regions of the world where it is now either thwarted or viewed with doubt and even contempt.

When we come to feel that the defense of freedom at home is more important than the creative enlargement of it everywhere, then, if the Archbishop of Canterbury should happen to be right, we may not really be defending liberty at all.

Neatest Trick of the Week

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon carried two slogans around in his head for years: Be careful after a battle; and a good loser never gets angry at anyone but himself.

This week he disregarded both of them after he lost in his election bid to unseat California's Democratic governor, Edmund G. Brown. It was a defeat which probably ends his political career.

A few minutes after admitting defeat, Nixon walked into a conference of about 100 newsmen and, in a rambling, bitter and sometimes almost incoherent way, denounced them for what he claimed was unfairness in covering his campaign.

Yet, 75 per cent of the California newspapers which took sides endorsed him.

The fear that sometimes after the battle he might be so tired that he would make a mistake in judgment has been on Nixon's mind for years. It comes out in the book he wrote this year about the "Six Crises" in his life.

But the book also shows that his feeling of unfair treatment by the press also goes away back. There is even an indication in it that he thinks newsmen are only fair to him when they are on his "team."

He repeats the following statement in one form or another: "The point of greatest danger for an individual confronted with a crisis is not during the period of preparation for battle, nor fighting the battle itself, but in the period immediately after the battle is over."

"Then, completely exhausted and drained emotionally, he must watch his decisions made carefully. Then there is an increasing possibility of an error because he may lack the necessary cushion of emotional and mental reserve which is essential for good judgment."

He even quotes his old college football coach, Chief Newman, on how to be a good loser. He considered Newman a "talented molder of character" and has him saying in the book:

"You must never be satisfied with losing. You must get angry, terribly angry, about losing. But the mark of a good loser is that he takes his anger out on himself and not on his victorious opponents or his teammates."

Nixon said: "I take the responsibility for losing, when he walked into the news conference but then, after praising his 100,000 volunteer workers, blamed them for not getting out enough votes. This, he said, cost him the election."

Nor was he gracious to Brown or President Kennedy who beat him for the White House in 1960. He called Brown the "people's choice" and said he hoped Brown's "leadership will now become more decisive."

He said he thought Kennedy could do all right in foreign policy "if he has his own way" but suggested the President get rid of those "woolly heads around him."

Nixon's greatest bitterness was towards the newsmen who, he said, kicked him around.

But in his book he complained about unfair treatment even in 1952 when, running with President Eisenhower, he won the vice presidency.

He complained that while the top-flight newsmen go around with presidential candidates, only the lesser-known ones follow the would-be vice presidents. And he threw this complaint into his book, too: "While most newspaper publishers are Republicans, the majority of the working reporters are Democrats."

He indicated in his book his idea of how reporters should act when assigned to him, citing that 1952 campaign: "Going through the fire of crisis together had welded the members of my staff and several of the reporters into a high-spirited united team."

This could be taken to mean that unless reporters want to be on his team they must be against him. It doesn't seem to occur to him that a lot of newsmen wouldn't, and don't, play on anybody's team.

Theodore White, who covered both Nixon and Kennedy in the 1960 presidential race, has a different view of Nixon's relations with the press. He wrote a book on the 1960 campaign, "The Making of the President," which won the Pulitzer Prize.

White says Nixon and his staff "abused" the "sense of dignity of these men (who covered him then) not by accident but by decision."

He said the Nixon group used a "punishment" policy—because they felt newsmen were against them—of holding back copies of Nixon's speeches.

FINDING THE WAY

Get Out of Neutral

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

No man should be pushed around nor should any group be exploited. Strangely enough, an age which boasts of freedom now discovers this moral problem. It happens when mobs break loose and individuals discover that they cannot speak. It happens when cars and eyes and minds are turned to appeals to follow the crowd.

It happens when tyrants enslave—whether that be in an economy, in a family circle, or in an office, as well as behind an Iron Curtain. A few years ago a janitor discovered his 60th anniversary at his place of employment. When a reporter inquired how he had managed to survive a variety of bosses he replied, "Oh, I just shifted into neutral and went where I was pushed."

Yet it is a principle of civilization that slavery ensues. Just as no man desires to be a slave, so no man is ennobled when he enslave. The same principle works in the business of manipulating people.

No man enjoys discovering that someone has exploited his friendship. The fellow who joins the group, the club or the church to get a good name on a reference blank participates in a dishonesty which undercuts integrity. The "persuaders" who distort values are guilty of this same "pushing change came into his own life when he began writing on his faith instead of worrying about his doubts. The tragedy of so much of our shifting into neutral is simply that we refuse to think, act and live in terms of that which we already believe.

We are meant to be human beings, not things, redeemed souls, not Social Security numbers, men of responsible freedom, not neutral automatons.

When a man decides not to be pushed around he becomes a person who pushes people up. The value of true greatness is always in the ability to lift the values of all people. When Jane Addams was buried, some of the nation's great leaders came to praise this gallant social worker. Yet it was a simple lady of foreign birth who insisted on speaking the eulogy which is best remembered from the events of that day. Said she, "She pushed me up."

This is far better than pushing people around. It brings a person out of an immoral neutrality to that place of integrity where he understands the challenge of Jesus. "Set your heart on his kingdom and his goodness, and all these things will come to you as a matter of course."

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Turkey Meat Is Nutritious

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—We use a lot of turkey for economy reasons. But is turkey as high in food value as meat?

A—Yes. It supplies large percentages of many of the essential nutrients recommended for the daily diet. Turkey meat is especially valuable for the body-building proteins it provides at relatively low calorie levels. It heads the list of lean meats for high complete protein content. It is also highest in the B vitamins, niacin and riboflavin. Its low fat content and its cholesterol content is among the lowest in meats. It ranks high for calcium and other necessary minerals.

Q—Is it all right to thaw a several days at room temperature?

A—No. Frozen turkeys should "never" be thawed at room temperature or in warm water. In thawing, follow package direction or thaw by one or a combination of these methods—slowly.

1. Place bird, still in its original body wrap, under running cold water. Allow 2 to 6 hours.

LANDERS

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers: Please don't pass over this problem as trivial. I need help.

My boy friend and I are both 17. The trouble centers around the telephone. Seymour calls me every afternoon after school. We talk about an hour. Sometimes I want to get off because I have other things to do or someone else wants the phone, but Seymour insists on staying on. When I ask him to please hang off he becomes annoyed and keeps right on talking.

The other evening I lost my temper when he refused to say goodbye. I shrieked, "If you have nothing to say why do you insist on tying up the line for hours?" He hung up on me. Five minutes later he called back and I hung up on "him."

Seymour is a perfect gentleman in every other way. How can I solve this telephone problem?—BUSY SIGNAL.

Dear Signal: Seymour has black cord fever, for which there is no known cure. If I were you I'd say, "Look, Seymour, from now on you've got a 15 minutes telephone deadline. If you can't meet it, don't call." Put an alarm clock by the telephone and set it. When the bell goes off—yoo-hoo, too.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 34, no kid, and at the moment I am torn to pieces trying to decide between my parents and the man I love. When I was 16 I made a bad marriage. I stuck it out for ten years for the children's sake—hoping I could make it work, but it was impossible.

I've been divorced almost five years and I want to remarry. The man is 38 and wonderful. He gets along well with my children and is eager to be a father to them. But my parent's will not even meet the man because he has lived half of his life in another country.

They say no one from that country can be any good.

I hate to go against my parents as they have been very generous to me and the children. I don't know what I would have done without them. Is there any word of help you can give me?—TORN BETWEEN

Dear Torn Between: Unless your parents can come up with a better reason, my advice is to go ahead and marry the man. It's unfair of your folks to pass judgment on a person they've never met. Every man has the right to be judged on the basis of his own merit as an individual. Obviously they are prejudiced against him because of his nationality. Don't allow your feelings of gratitude to blur your thinking.

Dear Ann Landers: I wish the husband of "Miserable" and all people who are afraid of former tuberculosis patients could realize that "they" are a greater menace to "us" than we are to them. To begin with, no patient is ever released from a T.B. sanitarium until the disease has been arrested and there is no chance of passing it on.

Anyone who has ever had T.B. knows the importance of periodic check-ups. His education along those lines is painfully complete. Yet when we are released we find ourselves surrounded by people who have never had a chest X-ray because they are certain "nothing is wrong with them."

So to of these people have active tuberculosis and don't know it. These careless and thoughtless individuals could re-infect "us." So, Ann, maybe the former T.B. patient should run from "them!"—DENVER J. H.

Dear Denver J. H.: Right you are. And this provides me with an excellent opportunity to remind all my readers to get a chest X-ray annually. I love you all and I don't want to lose any of you.

Democratic Gains Project Kennedy as '64 Candidate

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — With returns not yet official as this is written and some detailed revisions possible, the Kennedy administration can claim a qualified mid-term victory.

This will be true even if the Democrats do no better than hold their own in the House of Representatives, or even if they lose a few. For they still retain control of Congress.

To do this they overcame for the first time since 1934 the historic loss of from 25 to 30 House seats for the party in control of the White House at a mid-term election. In the last five mid-term elections this loss has averaged 36 seats. Anything better than that is an upset.

In the Senate, the Democratic victory was even greater. By increasing their majority several seats, the Democrats overcame a traditional mid-term election loss of eight seats for the party in control of the White House. The principal consolation for the Republicans seems to be that they made slight gains in the South, winning in new congressional districts in Florida, Texas and Tennessee.

More numbers do not tell the real story, however. It will take a test vote in the House on a key domestic issue in the Kennedy administration program to show the strength of the conservative coalition of Republicans and Democrats.

Indications are that the division in the next Congress will not be much different from the last. So although the President made gains he did not gain enough to overcome the handicap to his programs.

The all-important committee chairmanships remain in the same conservative hands, every Democratic chairman having been re-elected.

From the Republican point of view, a lot of things that could have made the going tougher for the Democrats didn't happen.

Even Republican National Committee Chairman William E. Miller conceded early that the Cuban issue which the GOP hammered so hard was not a decisive issue. But the fact that the Cuban situation did not materially affect election results bears out the experience of the mid-term battle of 1950, after the Korean War outbreak and the mid-term battle of 1942, after the outbreak of World War II.

Continued high unemployment, which hurt the Republicans greatly, did not seem to have brought out a protest vote against the party in power this year.

The business recession, the stock market break and the steel price freeze earlier this year were either too far in the background or did not affect enough voters to be a factor.

There was no apparent farm revolt. The farm belt is normally Republican territory and that's the way it went predominantly this year. Democratic victories here were for other reasons.

Organized labor issues were far less a factor in this election than in past campaigns. Though union leaders complained bitterly that the last Congress did not pass enough of the Kennedy domestic program, the activities of COPE—the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education—went practically unnoticed this year.

Finally and perhaps most significantly, the extreme right wing opposition which has made so much noise in the past few years proved to be a political dud. The three John Birch Society members were defeated in their bids for re-election. Elsewhere, the rightists showed no political organizing ability and no strength whatever.

Looking ahead to 1964, this election has put the Democrats in control of 68 per cent of the governorships, 68 per cent of the Senate and about 60 per cent of the House.

Though President John F. Kennedy was not himself a candidate in this election, his program and his conduct of the White House were the issues. The result of the election insures that he will be the Democratic candidate to succeed himself.

And he will be an awfully tough man for any Republican to beat, whether his name be Rockefeller or Romney or Scranton or Goldwater or even Nixon.

ESPECIALLY FOR ROCK THROWERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Thanks to a growing trend toward shatter-proof and translucent fiber glass in place of glass, a generation of window breakers may be standing on the brink of frustration.

New York City in 1960 and 1961 spent $1,349,680 to replace 340,811 panes of broken glass in school buildings. Now the city has approved use of the new material for replacement of window panes in older schools, after a year of testing in a Brooklyn school.

The manufacturer, Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corporation, says before installation at a school on Long Island, the custodian conducted his own test. When the steel shot from his air rifle ricocheted off the fiber glass windows, he approved their purchase and installation.

WE THE WOMEN

Nondishwashing Husbands

May Not All Be Scoundrels

By RUTH MILLETT,
(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

A recent news item says that "a stubborn 28 per cent of American husbands absolutely refuse to help their wives with the dishes."

Before that 28 per cent are labeled stubborn some more facts about them ought to be uncovered. Does the husband who refuses to help with the dishes have children who are old enough to help out in the kitchen? If so, perhaps he rightly thinks that they, instead of he, ought to be mama's little helper.

Has the husband who shuns dishwashing provided his wife with a dishwasher? If so, he probably considers that he is "helping" with the dishes when he provides his wife with an electric helper.

Is the wife of the husband who won't either wash or dry the dishes a full-time homemaker? If so, her husband may quite naturally feel that if he doesn't expect his wife to bring home a pay check she shouldn't expect him to wear an apron around the house.

Is the husband who reads the paper while his wife does the dishes alone still working as hard as ever at his job while his wife, with the children grown and gone from home, has had her job considerably lightened? If so, the poor husband probably needs his rest more than his wife needs help in the kitchen.

There are many reasons why a man might refuse to be a sink assistant that have nothing to do with "stubbornness."

In fact, there are probably as many reasons why one husband might think he isn't needed at the kitchen sink as there are reasons why another would feel guilty if he didn't lend a helping hand.

Soybeans Nearing Surplus?

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Since

World War II the soybean has been a Cinderella crop for American agriculture. In that brief period, it developed from an insignificant item of production to a major source of farm income.

But some farm leaders are expressing concern lest it be overproduced and incur the surplus label now being borne by wheat, feed grains, milk and cotton.

That could bring possible government restrictions on production, to say nothing of costs to taxpayers for buying and storing over-supplies.

When World War II broke out, soybean production in this country was about 90 million bushels a year. Since then production has increased nearly 750 per cent. Last year's crop set a record of 693 million bushels and this year's is indicated at close to 675 million.

In this brief period it has risen from a $5-to-$7 million-crop to a $1.5-billion crop. It is being produced in more than 30 states in the South, East and Midwest.

Helped Fill Void

More than that, it has helped to provide a use for acres being idled from grain and cotton at a time when much of such land would have been idle or would have been used to produce unwanted and uneeded crops.

From a broader standpoint, the soybean crop stepped in to fill a sharply expanding domestic and export need for food fats and a supplementary livestock feed rich in protein. The soybean is crushed for its oil and the solid material left is made into soybean meal for feed.

Among those concerned about the future of this crop is President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Others having similar feelings include some soybean producers and trade groups.

Their complaint is being directed at Kennedy administration policies relating to this crop, particularly price support policies.

"Horrible Example"

If there ever was a more horrible example of government meddling in the price and production of a farm commodity, I can't recall it," Shuman said in a recent speech.

"Prior to 1961, soybean growers were enjoying a good price with supply and demand in balance in a healthy market," the farm bureau leader said. "Then the Department of Agriculture raised the price support on soybeans for 1961 from $1.35 to $2.30 a bushel. The idea was to divert acreage from corn production."

Into Government Hands

The result, Shuman said, was a 24 per cent increase in production and movement of a part of the crop into government hands under price supports. Stocks held by the government at the end of the 1961 crop year were about 50 million bushels. At the end of the 1962 year they may be larger.

Shuman said the administration is trying to put soybeans in the same class with other surplus crops "in order to impose complete controls and make farmers dependent on government hand-outs for their livelihood."

ADVERTISE — IT PAYS

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

REDUCING GRAIN SURPLUSES SLOW AND EXPENSIVE

Progress in cutting surplus grain stocks is slow. It is also expensive — with present "voluntary" programs. This is why some government officials want compulsory production controls.

Total carryover stocks of corn were reduced from an all-time high of 2,008 million bushels on October 1 last year to 1,613 million bushels on the same date this year. The latest carryover represented 44 per cent of the 1961 crop.

Surplus Corn. Not all of the carryover of old corn can be counted as surplus. Before the government began to store corn, farmers and commercial firms carried over about 10 per cent of a crop from one year to the next. At the production levels of recent years, that would be about 400 million bushels. Subtracting 400 million bushels of corn from the total carryovers would leave about 1,200 million bushels of surplus corn on October 1 compared with 1,600 million bushels last fall. The reduction is 25 per cent.

Some people say that we should carry over more than 10 per cent of a crop — maybe 20 to 30 per cent. Perhaps so, but it costs money to store corn. Costs run up to 20 cents per bushel per year, and this expense is part of the costs of the "farm program." We cannot expect big reductions in costs of storing farm products if the government keeps large stocks on hand.

Sorghum Grain. During the same period — that is, in the year ended October 1 — carryover stocks of sorghum grain were reduced from 702 million to 658 million bushels. Per acre yields vary considerably from year to year, so we might say that a normal carryover would be 20 per cent of a crop, or about 110 million bushels. This would place surplus stocks of sorghum grain at October 1 at about 550 million bushels, or just 7 per cent less than one year before.

Other Grains. Stocks of oats on October 1 were listed at 974 million bushels, practically the same as last fall. Stocks of barley were 448 million bushels, up 3 per cent. The carryover of old soybeans on October 1 was listed at 58 million bushels, up from just 6 million bushels a year earlier. The increase in stocks of soybeans and barley partly offsets the decreases in corn and sorghum grain.

Adding Up. To put all the pieces together, we counted the sorghum grain and barley as equal to the same weight of corn, and a bushel of soybeans as equal to 2.4 bushels of corn. Stocks of corn decreased 396 million bushels in the year ended October 1. The decrease in sorghum grain stocks was equivalent to 39 million bushels of corn. These decreases add up to 435 million bushels of corn equivalent.

The increase in soybean stocks was equivalent to 124 million bushels of corn, and the increase in barley to 12 million bushels. These increases in stocks add up to 136 million bushels of corn equivalent. Subtracting increases from decreases shows that the net reduction in surplus stocks was equivalent to about 300 million bushels of corn.

Costs. Direct cost of this reduction was reported to be about $770 million. This cost was in payments to farmers who reduced acreages. Indirect costs, such as losses on corn taken over from farmers at $1.20 a bushel, may add considerably more to the total bill.

Annual Meeting Of New Co-Op Held In Iowa

Melvin E. Sims of Liberty, Adams county, was elected president of FS Services, Inc., when the farm business cooperative held its first annual meeting in Davenport, Iowa.

Everette Phelps of Rockton and Albert Penning of Appleton, Iowa, were elected vice presidents and Russell M. Gordon of Palmyra was named secretary.

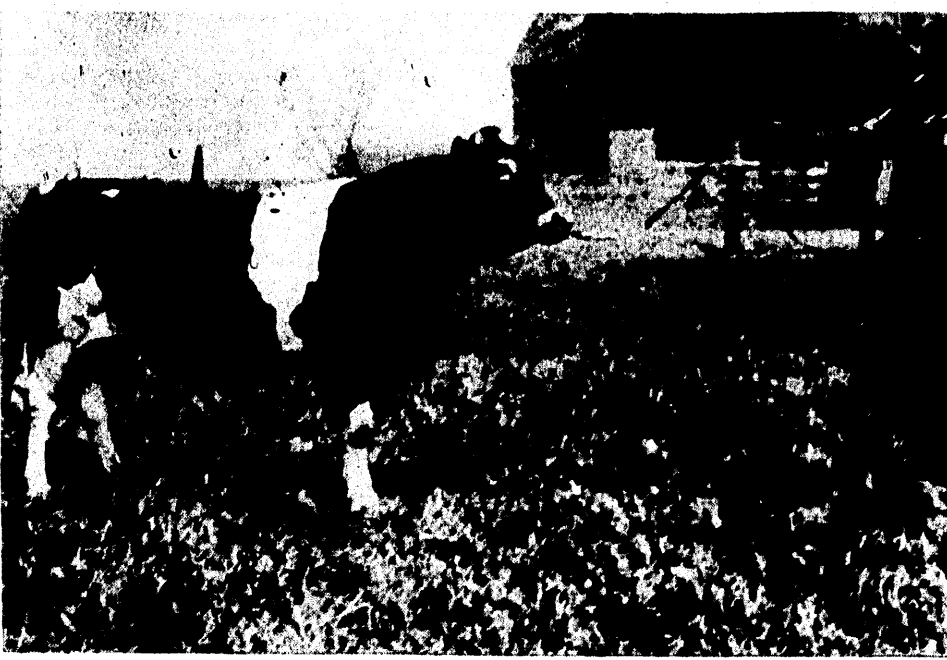

The cooperative was formed last summer by the merger of Illinois Farm Supply and the Farm Bureau Service Company of Iowa. It distributes plant food, feed, petroleum products and other farm supplies to 141 member companies who operate 1,200 supply outlets manned by 3,000 employees.

In the last fiscal year the new corporation handled a combined wholesale business of more than $100 million.

Attending the meeting from Morgan county were Director Delegate Frank Flynn and Roy Nickel of Concord, Farm Bureau president; Everett Reynolds, president, Illinois Farm Bureau Serum association; J. D. Bunting, Morgan Service Co. manager; Alfred Enke, assistant manager; and Edward Dierksmeier, sales manager.

University of Illinois agricultural engineers advise farmers to select their drain tile very carefully. Like the proverbial link in a chain, a tile system is no better than the weakest piece of tile. Inspect the tile as delivered, and cull out those that have deep cracks, large checks and honeycombed walls. Also reject tile that is out-of-round or warped and that has ragged ends. Be sure that concrete tile is cured before you lay it in the trench.

Vermilion Socrates Crescent

With dairy cows disappearing like the morning dew it is surprising to learn that two Morgan county men are developing a purebred Guernsey herd.

Dairying in this county — it never was a prime milk producing area — has been on the skids since 1936. That year the township assessors found 9,800 milk cows in the county.

The number dropped steadily year by year until there were only 3,200 in 1956, and then it fell off at a dizzy rate. There's about 1,500 cows in the county today, give or take a few.

The "milk mess" is giving the boys in Washington plenty of trouble. Cow numbers are away down from what they were 30 years ago, and the population has boomed, but there is definitely too much milk that can be sold at what can be termed a profitable rate to the producer.

Demand Down

Practically nobody buys butter today. Weight watchers, eager but naive, shy away from milk in any form. Fluid milk consumption has dropped alarmingly, as some "experts" found it a factor in the increasing incidence of heart disease in the United States and other "experts" found some milk carries an alarming amount of radioactive strontium.

Overlooked is that most heart disease hits older people and never before has older people constituted such a large section of the total population. Overlooked, also, is that many other foods often contain more radioactive strontium than milk.

Ice cream consumption is about the only bright light in the milk picture.

So the price of milk has been unfavorable, and the number of dairy cows has been whittled.

Hence, it's surprising to learn of a new Guernsey milking herd being established on a farm three miles south of Rees.

The partners in the venture are William W. Seymour and Ernest and Mabel Hamm.

"Practically By Accident"

Asked how they happened to get in the Guernsey business Seymour replied: "Well, it was practically by accident! Ernie and I were down in Jefferson county looking for some trading stock that we could buy plain. An unconditioned dog right and we ran across a fine old man who had a Guernsey cow and that he was wanting to retire. Dr. Helper also stresses these other points:

1. Vaccination. State law demands that all free-running dogs be vaccinated for rabies. Since rabies is present in Illinois wildlife dogs must be protected by vaccination. Dogs should also be vaccinated for distemper and hepatitis. Even though hunting dogs are pointed most of the year, they do contact other dogs while hunting. An unvaccinated dog exposed to an infected dog not only will become seriously ill, but will also transmit the disease to other dogs in the kennel.

2. Worms. Reduced stamina or poor performance may indicate heartworms or intestinal worms, a problem for the veterinarian.

3. Burns. These should be removed so that they will not cause skin irritation and pain.

4. Continuous care. Hunting dogs should be given proper care throughout the year, not just during the hunting season.

I.A.A. To Honor Ag Instructors Monday Night

Shaw Ferrellier of Virginia will be one of the 10 Illinois high school vocational agriculture instructors who will be honored at a special recognition program by the Illinois Agricultural Association at the Sherman House in Chicago Monday night.

M. J. Worthington of Petersburg high school will also be honored at the dinner meeting, and so will M. V. Heiderscheid of Auburn high school.

All three have taught agriculture for at least 25 years.

Most of the Farm Bureaus of Illinois will be recognized at the dinner meeting for securing their 1962 membership quotas. Among them are Adams, Brown, Cass, Greene, Jersey, Morgan, Sangamon and Scott.

Special recognition will be tendered Capt. Marion A. Huddleston of Somerville, Tenn., for his years of service as captain of the Farm Supply towboats on the Illinois, Mississippi and Gulf waterways.

Achievement Day For Cass 4-H Wednesday

VIRGINIA — The annual Cass County 4-H Achievement Day program will be held Wednesday at the Virginia high school, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Two Key Club winners will be announced by Mrs. Claude Potts, 4-H home economics committee chairman, and Farm Adviser Russell Meredith, who will be in charge of the program.

The event will conclude a successful 4-H year in Cass county. There was a 20% enrollment increase in agriculture club enrollment and three new clubs were organized.

Barbara Dodd, Virginia high school senior who toured Europe last summer as a member of the "School Band of America," will show slides and tell of her experiences on the trip.

Proposed Clear Creek Watershed In Cass

Clear Creek is mighty muddy sometimes. After heavy rains this small Cass County stream carries tons of top soil off of cultivated upland areas and deposits the silt in the ditches of the Clear Creek Drainage district.

Then the district must clean out the ditches so they can do the job they were constructed for. Ways to improve the situation have been discussed for many years.

A plan for a total watershed development program under Public Law 566 was requested by the drainage district commissioners in October, 1960. The Cass County Soil Conservation district developed a preliminary survey which was completed last April. The survey indicated a structure impounding a 150 acre permanent pool with additional storage of 200 acres would reduce downstream sediment damage by 80% and reduce floodwater damage by 80%.

The estimated cost of the structure was put at $170,000, exclusive of rights-of-way. Local funds would be required to obtain rights-of-way and easements.

West Of Virginia

This structure would create a swimming area. The land to be flooded is now used for crops, but much of the surrounding territory is rough and timbered.

"Would Attract Many"

Munson predicted that it would attract many persons who would like to build cabins and that camping and picnic sites would be well patronized. He pointed out that three-quarters of a million people live within 50 miles of the proposed pool, and that half of the families presently spend $100 annually for outdoor recreation.

The final survey will be run early in 1963.

Chester Heidbreder, who operates the Gem theatre in Virginia, will join the Cass soil conservation staff in a non-technical position. He will start in a few weeks and will devote his time in helping to get the upland acres into basic conservation agreements with the Cass County Soil Conservation district. He will assist John Pierce, Jr., county technician, and the commissioners of the drainage district are Russell Nordstiek, Homer Schneider and Bob Hardwick.

Will Take Time, Effort

The two major hurdles, according to Cass county promoters of the plan, are:

Hurdle No. 1 is that at least 50% of the land above any detention structure must be under basic conservation agreement with the Soil Conservation district before further action is taken. This will require considerable time.

Hurdle No. 2 is the watershed project will then be given a priority rating which determines when construction may begin. The rating will be based on the number of years that two to four groups together, they would cover 22 of the smallest counties.

Illinois contains nearly four million acres of forest lands. If all the timber areas in the state were grouped together, they would cover 22 of the smallest counties.

TO ATTEND LAND BANK MEETING

CARROLLTON — Stockholders of the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis will hold their annual meeting at the Sheraton-Jefferson hotel Nov. 19-20.

The Federal Land Bank association of Carrollton will be represented by the five directors: Robert L. Best of Eldred, R. K. Eggen and Pearl E. Johnson of Jerseyville, George Cummings of White Hall and Alfred Pluester of Hardin.

Don Allen is manager of the local association, which provides long-term credit to the farmers of Greene, Jersey and Calhoun counties.

Under present plans rights-of-way and easements must be secured from eight Cass county landowners.

Karl Munson, resource development adviser; A. R. Allen, agricultural law extension specialist; and Robert Walker, extension soil conservation, met recently with Cass county groups to explore the possibilities of outdoor recreation.

Munson was enthusiastic about the possibilities, pointing out that the project would provide public access to the lake and to its shores, up to a two foot ground elevation from the normal water line. Some of the land is very sandy, which would provide a good swimming area. The land to be flooded is now used for crops, but much of the surrounding territory is rough and timbered.

LET'S GO BIRDING—

Wintertime's Almost Here

By Emma Mae Leebard

It was a cool drizzly afternoon on October 24 when I went out into the garden to cut off the tops of the poinsettias and to rescue an armful of chrysanthemums from the possible wet snow that was predicted. Close by, the white-throat whistled, with a sweet plaintive yet clear drawl, "Oh, dear, dear, de-er!"

The Hemlocks soon grew alive with bird movements and calls. Tiny Golden-crowned Kinglets, sure harbingers of winter, flitted among the soft green needles, and almost continually poured out their thin little "see-see-see."

A Ruby-crowned Kinglet skipped almost at arm's length and flashed from its scarlet tuft of feathers its warning message that winter was approaching. And the white-throat agreed with its plaintive "Oh y-ee, y-ee, winter, winter, winter!"

Down the trunk of a Hemlock skittered, head first, a little grayish bird with a rusty breast, its bright eyes peering into every crevice of the bark. Then it reversed its movements and ran head first back up the trunk, dropped down on a branch, and skittered, again head first, on the under side of the branch.

And the white-throat murmured solemnly "Ohhh, watch out, watch out, watch out!" but the Red-breasted Nuthatch laughed its tiny "Ank, ank" and didn't fall.

All of a sudden I heard the prolonged buzzy "shreeeee" of the Pine Siskin, definitely a winter visitor. This heavily streaked finch was feeding on the little brown cones of the Hemlock.

Soon I saw a larger olive-gray bird with two broad white wing-bars crawling around the cone-filled branch of the same Hemlock. I watched it breathlessly for a short time before it flew away and knew that it was the female of the unexpected White-winged Crossbill, positively a rare winter visitor with us. And the White-throat musically warned, "Oh dear, de-er, de-er, winter, winter, winter-er!"

Three Slate-colored Juncos, our beloved Snowbirds, flitted through the autumn-colored shrub row, flashing their snow-white outer tail feathers that matched the snow-white throat of the White-throated Sparrow. A Downy Woodpecker, with a cocky red cap stuck on the back of his head, rapped on the dead branch of a lilac.

And the White-throat whistled plaintively and yet hopefully, "Yes, yes, winter winter, almost here!"

Note: This spasm of writing is non-fiction. Your author saw and heard these birds in her garden from 3:00 - 2:15 p.m., October 24.

DENVER (AP)—Maybe he likes the even-numbered years. Gene Mingo, Denver Bronco's halfback led the American Football League in scoring in 1960 with 123 points, an average of 8.5 for 14 games.

But in the 1961 season he dropped to 38 points. Only he became back this season. In the first 4 games Mingo scored an average of 11.7 points per game.

Whittling For Fun

By Joseph A. Smith

One of the oldest past-times we can think of is the old yet enjoyable one of whittling with an axe or pocket knife. In a constructive way, you can obtain a lot of enjoyment out of this type of spare-time occupation. No doubt many of you readers are well aware of this, and any truly good Scout knows how to care for his pocket knife or axe. He knows of its many uses and yet that it can be a dangerous thing if wrongly handled.

Let's see, though, just what might we do sometime when time seems to hang heavily on our hands. Perhaps we're resting up while on a hike, perhaps we just don't seem to be interested in most of the usual things we do, and yet we like to keep busy doing something constructive. Here whittling is a great idea for constructively passing time.

Of course, any outdoorsman knows his knife must be clean and sharp; he will retouch it up after each session of use with the proper stone piece, know his knife thoroughly, keep it lightly oiled at pivot points. He knows that sharpening stones are known variously as whetstones, oil stones, hones, or carborundum; that heavy coarse stones are used for heavy tools, that lighter stones plus oftentimes a little light oil on said light stone will aid in putting a "razor edge" on a whittling knife by reducing friction. He may even choose to carry a small pocket stone along with him on an outing and he passes some spare time touching up said knife while just sitting around.

But what are some ideas for the whittler? Just use your imagination; take your time—never hurry if you wish to do a neat looking job. You don't have to be an artist to do a quite acceptable job—at least from your own point of view!

Christmas Gifts? But what of constructive ideas you ask? How about any of these ideas (which only scratches the surface to be sure):

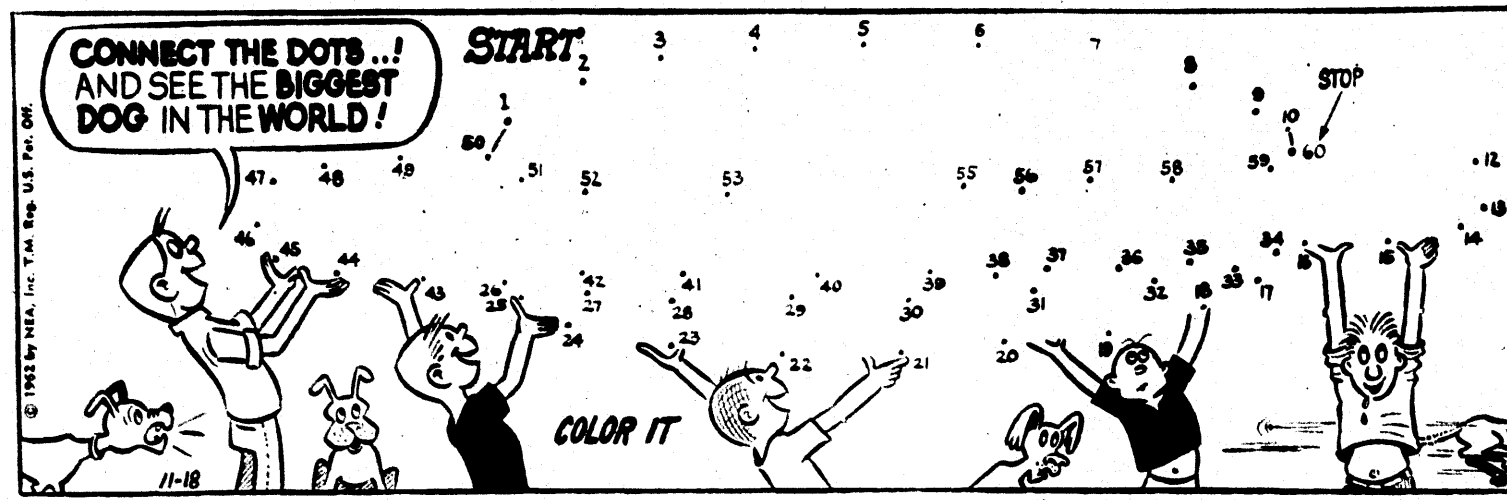

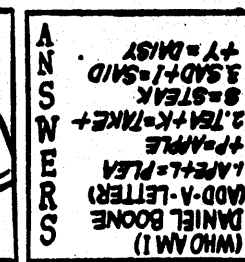

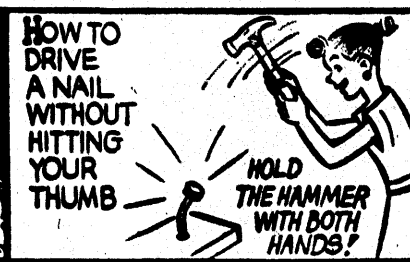

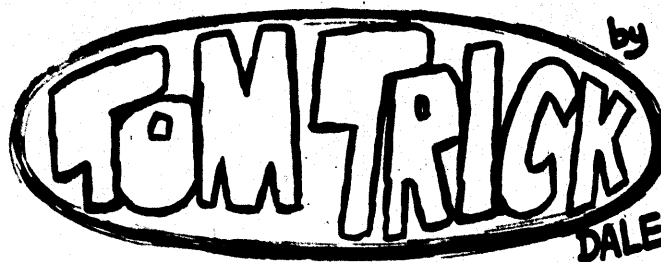

(1) A Letter Opener—Using natural wood, cut out into general oval shape such as in the shape of a small hunting knife properly balanced. Finish handle form first; then the single or double edge blade. When in rough shape, finish first handle nice and smooth (with any configuration as desired), and then patiently sand the knife edge to a relatively sharp edge. (With patience, edges of a letter opener, for example, can be made surprisingly sharp.) Lastly, finish with polishing wax or first stain as desired and then wax. The waxing will both protect the wood and bring out the grain of the wood as well.

(2) Spoons and forks are readily made from small pieces of wood too and are finished as above. Need a plate to eat out of? OK, whittle one out of a piece of wood, cut place base from a large branch at a 30 degree angle. Cut to what ever shape you wish, gouge out a sizable center hole, and smooth down to eliminate splinter dangers, and finally finish as above.

(3) Candlesticks or notebook covers are easy to make and useful too.

(4) Have a girl friend? Why not carve her out a neat looking pin of plain polished wood; carve in form of favorite leaves, initial, etc. When finished and polished, dig out a bit of the back, and install a small safety pin therein with plastic wood.

Yes, the possibilities are as wide as your imagination; the end results will depend upon the time and care that you exercise in preparing each thing. You need not be an artist to make a quite acceptable article (although admittedly it helps if you must be truly artistic). Practical, useful things can be readily made by almost anyone; so, next time out with idle time on your hands, try your luck. You might be surprised!

Rockets And Space—Photos From Tiros I

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.

The clouds Tiros I photographed include clouds in moist and dry air, thunderstorms and storm fronts.

As an experiment, the pictures taken by Tiros I were used for weather forecasting. The predictions made with these pictures proved much more accurate than other forecasts. This was especially so over the oceans where there are, of course, no fixed weather stations.

Tiros I took 22,952 pictures during its three months of working. Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, got 17,449 of these with 4,698 from the narrow angle camera, and 4,388 from the wide angle camera.

Kaena Point, Hawaii, got the other 5,503 pictures of which 1,117 were from the narrow angle camera, and 4,388 from the wide angle camera.

Fort Monmouth and Kaena Point are the two main receiving stations for the Tiros program. The satellites send data to them at their command.

Out of all the pictures sent by Tiros I 60% were good and useful for meteorological (weather study) purposes.

The scientists decided to stop asking Tiros I for any more pictures on Wednesday, June 29, 1961, as the satellite passed over Fort Monmouth in its 1,302 orbit. By this time the wide angle camera had stopped working because a broken relay had burned out its radio. This caused a short circuit which drained the power out of the storage batteries faster than the solar cells could replace it.

Although the telemetry (instrument radio) from Tiros I was no longer any good the tracking radio was still working. The telemetry radio was used a few times more just to see if the undamaged parts of the satellite were still working.

These spin rockets were originally intended to keep Tiros spinning at the proper rate to take pictures of earth. The last pair, however, was just fired to see if the system used to start them would work.

Tiros I is expected to stay in its orbit for 50 to 100 years.

True Story

Little Tinkle Toes

By Mary Pence Claywell

Part 3: New Home

When I was only three weeks old, a lady bought me, and then begged my first owner into letting her take me away, before I was even weaned; but it was quite alright.

I didn't even have time to say "Good-bye" to dear Mother, Spot, or little, old Tag. In fact, Mother was hustled into our people's own house . . . for she would have fought, or bitten anyone who tried to carry one of her babies away!

Mother dogs love their puppies very much, and without hesitation, my Mother would have nipped the gentle lady, who was snatching her only little "girl" away. I've always felt . . . I was her favorite, although she loved Spot and Tag a lot too.

I was frightened at first, but in a few minutes, I was very well satisfied, for the lady wrapped me in a little blanket and kept rubbing my head softly; and she talked all the time . . . in the gentlest voice I have ever heard . . . and it seemed I loved her from the very beginning.

I felt almost as secure as I did in my own bed, when she climbed into her car, and cuddled me in her lap, as she started away. I didn't have a chance to look back at my brothers, but the last I saw of them when we turned to go, they had hidden inside our little house, actually as scared as I was, and were peeping around the door facing with big startled eyes; and with a twinge of sadness, I felt like the little fellows liked me . . . after all!

I enjoyed riding in the car . . . I imagine it was something like my humans' big rocking chairs are to them, for in a short time, the movement of the car had put me to sleep, with the purr of the engine, my first lullaby.

The next thing I knew, I heard her saying, "Wake up, Tinkle Toes . . . we're home now!" And don't you know . . . when she hopped out the car, she took me right into her own big house!

The first thing she did was to set me on a big paper; and then she took a can of strange-smelling powder and peppered it all over me. My . . . how I did sneeze . . . and the next minute, those pesky little fleas were chasing all over me! In and out . . . in and out, they went!

But the strange-smelling powder was great stuff . . . for in another minute those fleas tumbled off my little body! The treatment lasted

My . . . but it seemed like a big world to me now . . . but I thought I would probably end up in another little dog house, which would have been alright, for I would have felt more at home.

Dogs really like a place of their own. But sometimes, they are blessed with a little box-bed, or basket . . . somewhere in a quiet, out-of-the-way corner inside their humans' home, which they can call their very own, too . . . and that is exactly what happened in my case. Oh . . . but it was lovely to feel so loved!

As for me, I was feeling a little hungry myself . . . and began thinking about my dear Mother's generous, little table . . . where milk flowed like gentle rain . . . the minute my brothers and I gathered to nurse.

But my new Mistress had different ideas.

Sneaky Powder

The first thing she did was to set me on a big paper; and then she took a can of strange-smelling powder and peppered it all over me. My . . . how I did sneeze . . . and the next minute, those pesky little fleas were chasing all over me! In and out . . . in and out, they went!

But the strange-smelling powder was great stuff . . . for in another minute those fleas tumbled off my little body! The treatment lasted

From Earth To The Stars

By Mike Miner

One morning bright, It was so light, I started to the stars. Way up above I went past the moon, the Sun, and Mars. To places where you see the stars.

Out of our galaxy, And still going fast! What do I see going past? Past a star and a comet, Watch out you don't plummet! Higher, higher, higher I go! I can't see Earth any more. But I'm still flying higher. Up, up, higher yet!

Then a voice rang loud and clear, "Oh, it's time for supper." "Coming, dear."

PRAYER POEM

God Rules The Winds

By MARY PENCE CLAYWELL

I see Thee in the storms, Lord, That sweep across the sky . . . Men say, and it is true, Lord, Thou art . . . the great Storm's Eye! I thrill to all its fierceness, Although, Dear Lord, I fear Thy Power and Might, but O it seems Thou art . . . so very near! Thy fiery chariots sweep across And streak the darkness when The blackness is unathomable.

And faint . . . the hearts of men! But there within, Thou ridest, And by one slight command . . . Thy Hand upon the reins, Lord, The sky steeds . . . quietly stand:

And the demon, limp and lifeless, Breaks up . . . and drifts away, And "Blue" replaces "Blackness," Where clouds were dark and gray! O Lord, how can I fear, yet love Thy great storms riding high: It is because Thou rulest . . . And Thy Power awes such as I!

Question: Why is a pig like a plant?
Answer: Because they both root.

In the smaller picture, L-R, Mrs. James Drogan of Virginia, 20th District Junior Clubmother; Mrs. Rene Lemme; Mrs. Harold L. Coker; Mrs. George Conlee; Mrs. E. H. Wiese, Jr., and the club's membership chairman, Mrs. Richard Pessina.

Mrs. Biermann read the induction service following presentation of the group to the general membership. Mrs. Dan Bahan, Jr., offered prayer and Mrs. Howard Hemmrough pinned corsages on the new members.

LYNNVILLE CWF AT HEMBROUGH HOME

The Lynnville CWF met Wednesday evening Nov. 7 at the home of Mrs. Wilma Hemmrough with Mrs. Mary Agnes Summers assisting. The president, Mrs. Virginia McNelly presided.

The lesson on N.E.A. was given by Mrs. Lorena Wynn. Mrs. Joan Mason was worship leader and gave very interesting devotions using the theme "do unto others." The meeting closed with the CWF prayer. Freda Gunnels was recreation leader. A Thanksgiving contest was won by Mrs. Joan Mason. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Colorful First Lady Is Again JB Seal Chairman

Mrs. John P. Kennedy will serve as the 1962 National Honorary Chairman for the Christmas Seal Campaign announces Mrs. Verna Anderson of Jacksonville, secretary of Morgan County Tuberculosis Association. Word of Mrs. Kennedy's acceptance came to Mrs. Anderson from William J. Martin, president of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Jackie attended three fashionable boarding schools and had two years at Vassar. Possessed of a keen, retentive mind, she effortlessly stayed in the top tier of her classes.

Jackie enjoyed the parties, but wanted more from life than the froth of Society. In 1950 she went to Paris for a year's study at the Sorbonne. Her fluent French has been an asset ever since.

On her return, she lived with her mother and stepfather, Hugh D. Auchincloss, at their Virginia estate near Washington, D. C., and completed her studies at George Washington University.

Nineteen fifty-one, the year her Christmas cards bore a jolly Santa Claus Seal, was eventful for Jackie. She went to work as an Inquiring Photographer on the Washington Times-Herald. She also met the most eligible bachelor in Congress Representative John Fitzgerald Kennedy of Massachusetts.

When their engagement was announced in 1953, Jack Kennedy had just been elected to the Senate. They were married September 12, at Newport. There were twenty-six bridesmaids and groomsmen and 700 wedding guests. A mob of 3,000 spectators broke through police lines and nearly crushed the bride.

From a personal viewpoint the first Christmas Seal in the life of Mrs. Kennedy pictured a merry little minstrel ringing a Christmas bell and carried the message, "Health Greetings, 1953." Jacqueline Lee Bouvier was born on July 28th of that year, daughter

Glittering Deb

At the age of 18 she was presented to society in a glittering affair at Newport's Clambake Club. One columnist wrote, "Queen Deb of the year is Jacqueline Bouvier, a social debutante who has classic features and the dauntlessness of Dresden porcelain."

Christmas tree, but Jackie and Jack Kennedy did no dancing that year. The spinal injury Jack had suffered during the torpedo boat crash in World War II again turned serious. A delicate operation was needed to correct it.

They held their heads high the night Jack entered a hospital in New York. Jackie wore a smart dinner dress and carried a mink stole. Jack, though on crutches, forced a smile.

There were no smiles when they left the hospital to spend Christmas, "Profiles in Courage," and Jackie's enduring sympathy for those who suffer long sieges of illness.

A new name, Caroline, was added to the Kennedy's 1953 cards and the Christmas Seals Jackie affixed to them could be regarded as prophetic. A little girl was shown writing "Christmas Greetings," on a blackboard, and she looked very much as Caroline does today.

The 1960 Christmas Seal pictured choir boys lifting their voices in joyous song and the Kennedys, too, had cause for rejoicing. Unto them a son was born—and Jack had been elected President of the United States.

The world quickly fell in love with the new First Lady. Her charm, grace and wit were never more evident than when she launched the 1961 Christmas Seal Drive. The National Chairman, Charles O. Finley, a recovered TB patient who owns the Kansas City baseball club, presented the seals to her. Dr. Stuart Willis, then president of the NTA, was also present.

She had fun with the new photographers. As she fanned out the sheets of Seals, one man called out, "Hold them higher." Remembering her own days behind a camera, Jackie's eyes danced. She raised the Seals squarely in front of her face. Everyone laughed. The stiffness of a White House Presentation was broken.

Morgan County Schools Meet Challenge Of Change—

WHAT IS AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK?

American Education Week is the special week of the year during which the nation's schools report to their owners — the general public — about their purposes, methods, achievements, needs, and problems. It is sponsored by the National Education Association, American Legion, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education.

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF ALL THE PICTURES OF SCHOOLS?

Morgan County, not large in population, is unusual and fortunate in the number and variety of its schools. It can boast of two liberal arts colleges: Illinois College and MacMurray College; a business college, Hardin-Brown; two state schools of special education: the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School and the Illinois School for the Deaf; and four parochial schools: Our Saviour's Grade School, Rount High School, Salem Lutheran School, and Trinity Lutheran School. Of public high schools there are five: Franklin High School, Jacksonville High School, Meredosia-Chambersburg High School, Triopia High School, and Waverly High School. There are twenty public grade schools.

HOW MANY MORGAN COUNTY RESIDENTS ARE DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY INVOLVED IN OUR SCHOOLS?

Altogether, there are 6,684 students, 345 teachers, and 26 administrators in our public schools.

The whole population of Morgan County is but less directly involved in our schools as parents and relatives of the students, as taxpayers and property owners, and as citizens in a democracy.

All those who own property are part-owners of our schools. They form something of a community corporation and as such can circumscribe or free the schools for their necessary growth during this decade. Property tax gives local control of schools, and the property tax that supports the public schools to a great extent determines how good the local schools are or can be.

WHAT DOES "CHALLENGE OF CHANGE" MEAN?

"Education Meets the Challenge of Change" is the theme for American Education Week this year. Why?

Man perhaps has never so seriously threatened himself in all his long, difficult, and frequently menacing history as in these years since the end of World War II.

He threatens himself with swift and mass self-destruction by the arms he now creates. He threatens himself with a slower and more agonizing death by hunger and thirst in a crowded world. He threatens perhaps even more the status of his soul — its honor and valor and goodness — by his barbarous cruelty and rank intolerance toward other men of other races. He compounds the ever-increasing complexity of his social and political and economic world with high nationalism and racial conflicts, a cold war and a space age, automation and inflations.

Against this perilous background we have a new world that calls for a tremendous variety of talents. The volume of the world's knowledge is doubling every ten years. Ninety percent of all scientists who have ever lived in the entire history of the world are alive today. Not only has more mathematics but more profound mathematics has been created since the beginning of the twentieth century than in all the rest of history combined. Ninety percent of all the drugs being prescribed by physicians today were not even known 10 years ago. Three-fourths of all people who will work in industry in 1975 will be producing goods and products that haven't been invented or discovered as yet. By the time today's Morgan County high school graduates see the year 2000, they will probably have been retrained vocationally once or twice because their old jobs will have become obsolete.

This then is the challenge: an explosion of knowledge and techniques in a world of complex and pyramiding problems demands a fast and efficient, a disciplined and a hard-cored education of its youth. It may well demand new approaches in teaching.

HOW ARE THE SCHOOLS IN MORGAN COUNTY MEETING THE CHALLENGE OF CHANGE?

In our public schools we are committed to accept all educable children and youth. State law requires that our youth stay in school until the sixteenth birthday.

Since we must educate and guide students of widely varying abilities and backgrounds, we can not offer the same education to all. We must educate each child and youth in the community in consonance with his ability. This is education in a democracy.

One approach to such education is the use of different forms of grouping and sectioning in both the grade schools and the high school. Grouping is done within the classroom and sectioning is done by classroom. Both grouping and sectioning are based upon intellectual ability. Ability grouping is practiced almost universally in our grade schools here in the county and ability sectioning is carried out in many of the major subjects in the high schools. Obvious forms of long-range sectioning are the classes for the educable mentally handicapped and the class for the physically handicapped.

In the high school in Jacksonville there are sections of advanced college entrance English in each of the four years, an advanced second-year Latin class for the abler second-year Latin students, advanced sections in American history and in world history, a geometry section for freshmen, a section of college-level mathematics for the more gifted mathematics students, sections in the physical sciences for the freshmen college-bound students, and a section in personal typing and shorthand for those who plan to go on to college.

In addition, there are English sections geared for college preparatory students and still other sections for those for whom the high school is a terminal school. There are sections in English, in general mathematics, and in American history that are remedial.

A pre-algebra section in seventh grade and an algebra section in eighth grade at Jonathan Turner are two important sections at this level. Intellectually gifted students in both seventh and eighth grades meet in a special class three days a week.

In the grade schools ability grouping within the classroom is almost universally maintained in the language arts (reading, spelling, and written language), is frequently carried on in arithmetic, and is sometimes extended to science and to social studies. Such grouping is flexible and the groupings themselves often change in different subject areas.

In the grade schools of District 117, intellectually gifted children meet in building grade-level groups with a special teacher for briefing in research and for individual and group enrichment programs. Small groups of remedial readers leave the classroom to attend special classes under a remedial reading teacher. Children with speech difficulties are given special training by speech correctionists. School social workers confer with the individual child who has emotional problems.

Teacher observation, classroom work, the results of I.Q. tests and achievement tests determine grouping and sectioning to a great extent. Individual testing by a state psychologist is mandatory before a child is placed in a classroom for the educable mentally handicapped. An individual I.Q. test is administered by a state psychologist or by Miss Evans to children or youth in the program for the intellectually gifted. Our high schools are comprehensive schools. They offer a program for the student who plans to go to college and one for the student for whom the high school is a terminal school. Vocational agriculture, vocational machine shop, vocational business, and vocational woodshop are all part of the vocational part of the Jacksonville high school. The Diversified Occupations Program is an on-the-job-training program for those juniors and seniors who elect it.

ARE THERE ANY NEW OR UNUSUAL FEATURES OR PROGRAMS IN OUR SCHOOLS?

We are experimenting in some of our schools of District 117 with new approaches to reading. These approaches are carried on in addition to the usual methods in the classroom. The Joplin Plan in which students of fourth, fifth, and sixth grades in a building are sectioned in the reading period according to reading level, not age or grade, is one such method. A new phonics method, the Economy, is being tried in another school or so. SRA reading laboratories are being tried in other schools. Others experiment with machines and techniques to increase reading speed.

Some of our schools, too, have extended the school year by voluntary or special programs. Voluntary art and science classes of grade school and junior high school levels have met on Saturday mornings and during some weeks in the summer. A program for the intellectually gifted has been carried on for a month in the summer. This last summer remedial classes were offered.

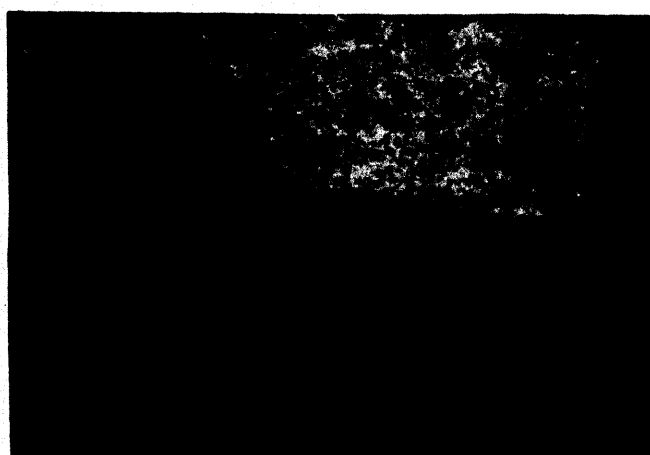

Curriculum planning has been a strong part of the system in recent years. A science guide, planned and created by teachers and principals in the district, is used in the grade school classrooms. This year a physical education guide based on practices in our own schools was written and distributed. At present a committee is working on a language arts guide that will articulate the language arts program from kindergarten through the twelfth grade.

WHAT ARE SOME OF THE TRENDS IN EDUCATION THAT OUR SCHOOLS MIGHT LIKE TO ADOPT?

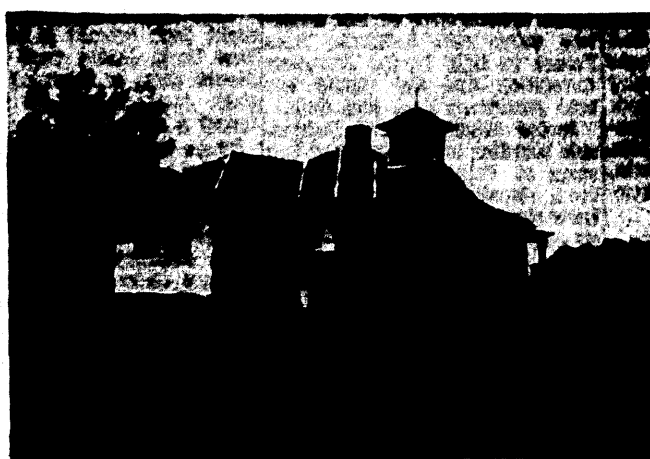

The public schools in our county have either pioneered or been quick to incorporate and follow new trends in education where practicable. This is not the decade for our schools to lag and fall behind.

Highlighted by the continuing challenge of a changing world, the increased content, the new techniques, and the vital approaches in education are exciting and almost mandatory possibilities to both administrators and teachers.

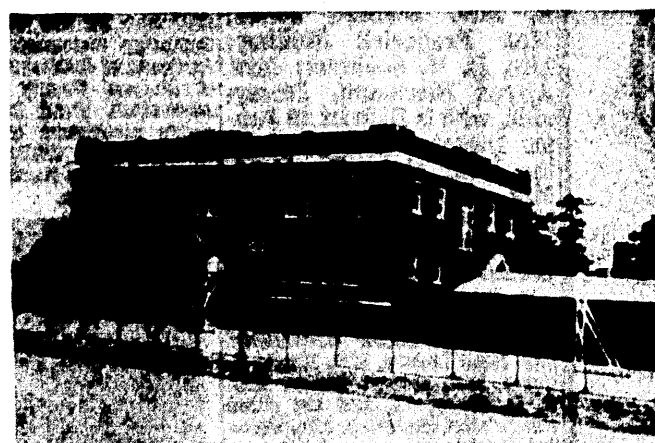

Language laboratories, a reading clinic, closed circuit educational television, team teaching, the use of ungraded primary classrooms, teaching machines, better facilities for training vocational students, the teaching of a foreign language in the upper grades, the expansion of the audio-visual department, multi-text classrooms — these are some of the techniques and means by which our schools might better teach our children and our youth.

The Civil War --- 100 Years Ago

This sketch from Harper's Weekly shows a typical sutler's tent during the Civil War.

The sutler was a civilian who was attached to a regiment or brigade for the purpose of handling small items necessary to the "general welfare" of the soldier that were not ordinarily available through the Quartermaster department.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Journal: SAD DEATH OF A MUTE—On Monday afternoon last, a Mute by the name of Henry W. Craig, an inmate of the Deaf and Dumb Institution in this place, came to his death under the following circumstances:

There has recently been built on the Institute grounds, a large vegetable cellar, spanned over by a heavy brick arch. Young Craig and another boy were engaged in taking away the wooden supports of the arch, when the entire structure gave way, burying both of them some three feet beneath a pile of brick, dirt and mortar. Luckily, there were witnesses to the accident, who gave the alarm, and a large force of teachers, pupils and workmen were soon at work in digging out the boys. Craig was found dead, but the other boy (whose name we did not learn) escaped with a few bruises.

Upon learning of the accident, Coroner Sutton summoned a jury and repaired to the Institute. After taking the testimony of several witnesses, a verdict was given in accordance with the above facts.

The Baptist church has engaged as their pastor, for the present, the Rev. W. G. Pratt. He enters upon his labors one week from next Sabbath.

Our friend, S. H. Hamilton, is closing out his stock of groceries. He will sell his stock of groceries, consisting of Fancy Groceries, Confectionery and Baking utensils. Any person wishing to start business would do well to call, as he has a good stand, and a good run of business.

For a nice article of fresh Oysters call at the U. S. Express Office.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: DEATH OF IRA DAVENPORT—The gentleman whose name appears in the above caption, of the firm of Davenport & Co., one of the earliest settlers in Morgan county, died at his residence in this city on Monday evening last. The deceased has been afflicted for some time past with an internal cancer, which caused his death. For a number of years past, Mr. Davenport has been engaged in the milling business in this city, and was well known throughout the county as an old citizen and correct business man.

IMPROVEMENTS—The new business houses being erected by Adams & Dayton and David A. Smith, on the site of Sigler's and Catlin's old stand, north side of the square, are progressing toward completion. The new buildings are being ornamented with handsome open iron fronts, and will add much to the good appearance of the north side.

FROM SANDY—Our old friend, Albin Sheppard, who lives on Sandy, presented us this week with two enormous heads of cabbage, one of which measured three feet in circumference. Judging from the specimens before us, the soil of Sandy must be equal to that of the famed Kinderhook for raising large specimens of this garden edible.

THE NESHAUOK POTATOE—We received last week from D. B. C. Bayless, Superintendent of the poor farm, some specimens of the Neshauok Potatoe, of extraordinary size and quality. Mr. Bayless informs us that he has raised the present season, on the poor farm, about 400 bushels of the same kind and quality of potatoes. The specimens we received would average about eight inches in length, and are of delicious flavor.

The sutler's stock comprised such things as candy, fruit, cheese, crackers, sardines, sausages, tobacco, cigars, pipes, matches, writing paper, pens, pencils and ink, stamps, canned condensed milk, canned oysters, cookies, gingerbread and pies.

Most of them were also privileged to sell beer and whisky, and this part of the business was extremely profitable. Robert Pollock of Exeter was the sutler of the Morgan County Regiment while it was stationed in Cairo 100 years ago. At that time he had barrels of his famous Pollock's Double-Distilled Pure Corn Whisky, 100 Proof, in the hands of St. Louis commission men. They couldn't sell it even for 31c a gallon.

But in Cairo he was doing a landoffice business dispensing it at a bit a drink, nearly all of 'on dit'.

The chaplains and surgeons agreed that the sutler's tent was one thing the army could get along without.

Both complained of the drunkenness brought about by a plentiful supply of drink on credit. The sutler was permitted to sit next to the paymaster to collect his money and in a high percentage of cases the paymaster used the sutler's tent as headquarters.

The surgeon especially complained of the habit of the men munching on practically anything practically all the time. Naturally they weren't hungry at chow time, and their unusual diet brought about much sickness and contributed to many deaths.

The sutler charged varying prices, depending entirely upon the supply. A 400c mark-up was about normal and where the sutler was able to keep his stock safe from fire, pillage or capture and where he was able to collect money from the soldiers before they became sick or killed he made a pile of money.

Of course, the unlucky ones went broke. Pollock did.

Veterans of the 101st recalled in later years that "we didn't do much in Cairo." They guarded Confederate prisoners who had no desire to run away, unloaded box cars and loaded boats.

They also recalled that whenever they wanted the advice of the colored or lieutenant colonel these gentlemen were always to be found at the sutler's tent.

Letters from the boys disturbed Howitt Barden, editor of the Journal, abolitionist and prohibitionist.

He wrote 100 years ago: The Morgan County Regiment. This regiment is still at Cairo, engaged in performing guard and garrison duty. It has been especially retained there for that purpose.

We hear from good authority that the Col and Lt. Col. are not favorably distinguishing themselves. It is not thought that the regiment will see much active service while these officers remain in their present positions.

Damaging reports are quite current, both here and at Cairo, concerning them, but how much truth there is in them we are not well advised enough to speak.

Emerald Point Forms Society To Aid Union

The people of Emerald Point, Indian Creek precinct, Morgan County, got solidly behind the Union war effort a hundred years ago yesterday.

They heard the story of a Scott county army captain who had been captured at Shiloh and who spent several months in Southern prisons before he was exchanged and sent home.

The First Income Tax Law

The Civil War cost an unprecedented amount of money and the people were wondering where they'd ever get the dollars to pay for it. The Union was spending more than a million dollars a day. Southern sympathizers living in the North screamed for peace and lower taxes and the strongest Union man blanched considerably when he thought of the new tax schedule.

The Western man had never gotten accustomed to the "foreign" idea that he owed "The Government" anything, least of all money. But, 100 years ago, he discovered that he was going to have to pay a lot of taxes.

The tax on whisky had been raised to $1 a gallon. This had the earmarks of complete foolishness to the people of this area, for the local distilleries depended solely on the Southern market for its excess production. The Mississippi river had been closed by the war and there literally wasn't a market for whisky 100 years ago. The price in St. Louis had dropped to 31c per gallon, nominal, which meant you couldn't sell it for that.

Many Fire Losses

And when the government slapped a $1 tax on something that wouldn't bring 31c most of the distilleries went broke.

So did some of the fire insurance companies—before they got around to cancelling policies on "still" houses, breweries and high wine manufacturers.

But there was still to be another tax. It was called the "income tax" and it had to be paid at the end of the year whether you had any money left or not.

At this date the tax does not seem burdensome. Basically it provided for a non-graduated 5% levy on net income, less an exemption of $600. Interest and dividends were not counted as income.

This seems most generous to us today, but the people screamed a hundred years ago. The tax brought in so much money that it was soon repealed: the boys on Capitol Hill, Washington, D. C., had not yet learned the art of spending money.

Here's a summary of the new tax law as published in the Jacksonville Sentinel:

The following convenient summary of the tax law is given in Thompson's Reporter.

Bankers pay a license of $100. Brokers pay a license of $50. Land warrant dealers pay a license of $50.

The income tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1, 1862, so that on the evening of the 31 of December everybody should have a very clear record of their income, gains or profits for the year. And as many sources of income, such as dividends and railroad stocks and bonds, insurance stocks, saving bank interests, etc., (they having already paid the income tax), are not again taxed, it, therefore, becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the assessor.

The income tax for the year 1862 is payable on the first of May 1863.

A man in business must make up the net profits of the business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount, less $600.

With a salary, all over $600 must be taxed, though personal, or family, expenses consume it all.

Certificates of deposit, for any amount, require stamps; two cents for $100 and under, five cents for all over $100.

All checks and sight drafts for sums over $20 require only two cents for any amount.

After naming a few "certificates," such as shares of stock, deposits, etc., etc., the law says, "certificates of any other description than those specified, ten cent stamps."

A great many papers in common use will be necessarily changed in form, from a certificate to an assertion of facts. In other words: A thousand and one dodges to avoid the new tax law will be adopted; but as a general thing, good business men will pay the tax on their money transactions rather than trust to a dodge that may not stand in law.

The "thousand and one dodges" developed. Many people never paid a cent of income tax and got away with it.

But the tax was always disliked, and Congress repealed it just as soon as the country got half-way back on its feet after the war.

—Cecil Tendick.

HUMORS of the day

We learn that the Butterbuts are likely to be very badly frost-bitten this season.

John Morgan is a bad example. But we hope our troops will follow him.

The Virginians are adopting a new form of abolitionism. They are hanging all their negroes to prevent them from rising.

The rebels are full of admiration of their Gen. Stuart, who made the late raid through Maryland and Pennsylvania. He is certainly no common character. He is the most splendid horse thief in the country.

Sportsmen tell us that the hunting season has at last come. The bagging of game is now in order. Our Generals will please take notice.

—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

DOMESTIC

On Saturday, Nov. 1st, there were over 40,000 persons on the Central Park, the carriages numbering 5,417, the largest number ever on the Park in one day.

A Mr. Lyon, member of the rebel Congress, at the late session of that body, proposed a resolution offering $30 to every Negro who should kill a white Union soldier.

The farmers about Savannah, N. Y., are using six cent papers of turnip seed as a circulating medium, in the absence of silver. They pass readily among agriculturists.

Squirrels swarm in the woods of Western Virginia and come down in droves to the corn fields. The Wheeling Intelligencer says, in numerical strength, they may be likened unto the frogs of Egypt.

The price of gas in Philadelphia has been reduced from $2.25 to $2 per 1,000 feet. The excellence and cheapness of the coal oils now in the market have doubtless operated to diminish the consumption of gas, and the gas companies generally will probably have to reduce their prices in order to compete with the new illuminating agent, in these times when economy is a general necessity.

—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

CHICAGO—Nearly every one has heard the story of the discouragement, not to say shock, which one of our merchant princes experienced when searching out his genealogy, with a view to an illuminated "family tree" for his spacious library, on finding that his great-grandfather was a tinker, who emigrated to America on the occasion of the hanging of his father as a footpad. Something similar must have been the feelings of that inquiring citizen of Chicago who sought information of the Historical Magazine as to the origin and etymology of the name of the city of his love and adoption, on finding that it comes from the Cree word Chikakok, the place of the skunk! By any other name it would smell so sweet.

ADVANCE IN GOLD—A gold dollar in this city is worth $1.30; in Richmond, Va., it is worth $2.50. The advance in gold in the United States is 50 per cent; in the so-called Confederacy 150 per cent.

BETTER THAN ATTORNEYS

—Mr. Whyte Melville, the writer, has just had a property of 120,000 pounds left him. He can now afford to write for nothing, and dedicate his brain to the public.

—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

AT TIFFIN, Ohio, the other day, Van Amburg's trained elephant, "Hannibal," broke open the wagon of a candy pedlar who followed the show, and gobbled down in less time than it takes to read this paragraph, 6,000 gingerbread cakes, 70 pounds of assorted candy, and 20 pounds of French kisses. It is a question among eye witnesses which was the most sublime spectacle, the complacency of Hannibal after going through the establishment, or the frantic despair of the candy pedlar upon discovering the extent of his loss, computed to something over $400.

THE COMMISSIONERS upon the emancipated slaves in the District of Columbia expects to finish their business next month. The number paid for by the Government will be about three thousand.

THE MONITORS—The new monitors are not up to time. They should all have been afloat before now, according to contract. Nor do those afloat answer to specifications, in many particulars. They are under power and slow. They are not sea-going vessels, whatever may be alleged to the contrary, and is doubtful if they can be got down to Charleston or Mobile in winter weather.

—From Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

DOGS WILL PAY

MIAMI (Fla.)—Dade county officials are going to the dogs—every single dog.

County manager Irving McNary said only 20 to 30 per cent of the canines in greater Miami are being licensed.

So county employees this fall will make a door-to-door check for unlicensed dogs. McNary said the anticipated additional revenue should put the county's animal control program on a self-sustaining basis.

WHAT HE ALWAYS WANTED

TARRANT CITY, Ala. (Fla.)—Tarrant policeman Dewey Reeves, who operates an auto service station as a sideline, won a prize in a pistol match.

It was a free wash and lubrication job for his car—at a competitor's service station.

As I See It
by E. W. BROWN

In spite of newspaper headlines which seem to be designed to turn the human race into a quivering collection of worriers, all scientists are devoted to destruction these days. There's still hope. Right now hundreds of test tube wizards are practicing tricks with single-celled plants called algae, with the idea of producing enough food to supply all the people in this hungry world.

Algae are easier to grow than goose pimples at a horror show. You've seen that green scum effect that shows up on ponds, lakes, and other bodies of water. That's algae. It takes millions of the microscopic plants to make a meal... but the algae contain all the protein and vitamins necessary to support life. It's cheap, abundant, and can be flavored to anyone's taste. We can hardly wait... but we'll try.

When New York detectives asked a burglary suspect what he did for a living, he said, "I steal. I don't get much, but it's a living." At least he's honest about it.

If you're in the market for a good, clean used car and you're determined to get full value for your money, we suggest that you look over our fine selection of late model cars and test drive the car of your choice. It will carry a dependable guarantee and will be priced to your advantage. E. W. BROWN, 400 South Main, Phone 245-4333.

IS A
REALLY IMPORTANT?

The funeral ceremony is a service for the living as well as a tribute to a departed loved one. It is essentially a religious rite, commemorating the end of earthly life, just as baptism marks its spiritual beginning, and the marriage vows its fulfillment.

Since America is overwhelmingly a religious nation, the funeral rite is reaffirmation of faith in the immortality of the soul and eternal life. Thus the funeral service has become an important part of the American way of life.

And the funeral director, in addition to the duties prescribed by law for the proper preparation and care of deceased persons has an important duty and responsibility in helping to arrange the religious ceremony.

Intermediate training for new leaders of Intermediate troops was held on Friday at the scout office. This course was offered for the second time this fall. Not all new leaders have yet received this essential help. Brownie training will again be offered this week, on November 15 and 16, Thursday and Friday, at the Methodist church in Carrollton. Any Brownie leader who has not had any basic training is urged to come to Carrollton. The hours are from 9:30 to 2:30 p.m. each day. Several Jacksonville and Winchester leaders are planning to attend. Any other leaders who have missed the training are asked to take advantage of this opportunity.

Attending Intermediate training on Friday were Mrs. Al Hall of Jacksonville, Mrs. Barbara Kahl, Mrs. Iola Springman, Mrs. Florence Steidley, all of Greenfield and Mrs. W. D. Spencer of Winchester.

Neighborhood Groups

Two very interesting neighborhood meetings were held this past week. Neighborhood No. 3, comprised of Greene county registered adults, met Monday at Mel's home in Carrollton. Twenty women were present. Mrs. Elmer Luke-man of Jacksonville gave an inspiring talk on the leaders' conference held last month in Peoria, which she attended. She urged all leaders to look forward to the new program change with enthusiasm and hoped more women could attend events like this in the future.

Neighborhood No. 1, made up of adults in Girl Scouting in Lafayette, Lincoln, North Jacksonville, Our Saviour's, Jefferson, Ashland, Waverly, Alexander and Franklin, Ill., schools, held a meeting last Tuesday morning at the scout office. Twelve were present. Mrs. Floyd Sorrell, who attended the Peoria conference as chairman of the local delegation, Mrs. George Trutter, Mrs. A. W. Applebee and Mrs. Darwin Ronat presented an interesting program telling of their participation in this event.

Neighborhood No. 2, which includes Meredosia, Beardstown, South Jacksonville, Washington, Jonathan Turner, Franklin, Jacksonville high school, Salem Lutheran, I.S.D., Bluffs and Winchester schools, will meet Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 9:30 a.m. at the Scout office. Further reports on the Peoria conference will be given.

Members of the program committee will meet Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 11:30 a.m. at the Blackhawk restaurant.

The membership-nominating committee will also meet on Tuesday at 4 p.m. at the scout office. Wednesday, Nov. 14, the regular meeting of the board of directors will be held at 9:30 a.m. at the scout office.

Thursday and Friday are the days for Brownie basic training in Carrollton as mentioned above.

The following 5th and 6th grade girls at Franklin school in Jacksonville wish they could belong to an Intermediate Girl Scout troop. They need leaders: Nancy Schell, Joyce Murfin, Cindy Hopper, Kathy Bradshaw, Joyce Chis, Marilyn Chamberlain, Sharon Chappell, Gail Stacey, Marjory Riddler, Ann Freiburg, Linda Eighliger, Heidi Hanson and Susan Murphy.

They were Perry Ann Campbell, Debra Conyers, Nancy Gilmore, Nancy Haylin, Patricia Jackson, Myra Lee Peak, Jean Reese, Gail Smith, Gail Taylor and Debra Todd. It still lacked half an hour of noon, but already savory odors were arising from the barbecue pit which had been dug in a suitable spot. The chuck wagon was anchored close by and a dozen guests, unused to such methods of cookery, were gathered about, watching every movement.

But it was an emergency measure. Novel though it was, and entertaining to the guests, it was not a permanent substitute for an excellently run kitchen and superior food served by trained and competent waiters. For one day it would be a pleasing novelty, but a second day of it would fall abysmally flat. So Columbine used the telephone diligently to Los Angeles and San Francisco, and a kitchen crew was on its way by airplane. This accomplished, she sent for Lester Duchesne, the malingering chef, who presented himself lugubriously in her office. She kept him standing while she gave attention to papers on her desk and then looked up at him bleakly.

"Your check," she said, "is waiting for you at the cashier's window."

"But, madame—"

"You," she said, "are expelled. The discipline of this institution can no longer tolerate your presence." This was a quotation from Miss Cordwainer. "I might tolerate a certain inefficiency; I might even overlook a lack of culinary artistry," she paused and narrowed her eyes at him. "But the

a new DOANE development

Research has proven that hogs do better—add weight faster, are more resistant to diseases, provide higher quality meat-type carcasses—when they are raised within a limited temperature range (about 55° to 85°). Doane engineers have designed a new line of buildings that closely approximate these exacting conditions. "Controlled Environment" buildings are metal lined, inside and out, are fully insulated, have a forced ventilation system and summer foggers.

Tiger Recognized As Middleweight Boxing Champion

NEW YORK (AP)—Nigeria's Dick Tiger was recognized as world middleweight boxing champion in place of Paul Pender Friday by the New York State Athletic Commission in concurrent action with European, British, Oriental and California commissions. Pender remains champion only in Massachusetts.

Tiger won the World Boxing Association's version of the crown Oct. 29 by beating Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, at San Francisco.

Pender, Brookline, Mass., boxer, won a share of the title Jan. 22, 1959, by beating Ray Robinson in Boston, lost it to Terry Downes in London, July 11, 1961 and won it back by beating Downes in Boston, April 7.

Malvin Krulewitch, chairman of the New York commission, made the announcement of the decisions which he said had been made after careful deliberations and consultations with the European Boxing Union, the British Boxing Board of Control, the British Commonwealth championship committee, the Oriental Boxing Federation and the California commission.

Krulewitch said Pender had been notified in September, through his attorney, of the serious consequences of failure to "enter into articles of agreement with a suitable contender."

In Boston, Massachusetts State Boxing Commission Chairman Herman Greenberg said he was calling Pender to the office next Friday.

"It is ridiculous to call Pender a champion if he is considered the titleholder by Massachusetts alone," Greenberg said. He indicated the Bay State would go along with the withdrawal of recognition from Pender. Previously, the ex-Brookline fireman had been recognized as champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe.

Pender was not available for comment.

Rushville Gains Midwest Loop Tie In 27-14 Victory

RUSHVILLE — Rushville defeated Beardstown, 27-14, Friday night to tie the Pittsfield for first place in the Midwest conference behind the scoring of Larry Grier, Don Shaw, and Paul Runkle in a hard fought contest.

Beardstown, with good play by Tom Lloyd and Mike Smith, failed to get into the win column in the last game of the season for both teams. Beardstown is 0-9 for the season, while Rushville claims a 4-2-2 record.

Rushville's right tackle Larry Grier, early in the first period, blocked a punt on the Beardstown 10 yard line and ran it in for the Rockets' first tally. Don Shaw added the PAT.

Tom Lloyd came back for Beardstown later in the first canto with a 20 yard scramble into the Rushville end zone. Lloyd kicked the PAT seconds later to tie the Rushville, 7-7, at the end of the period.

Rushville roared back in the second quarter with Don Shaw punting for a TD from two yards out to climax a long Rocket drive. Paul Runkle added the PAT on a quarterback sneak.

Jim Crum added six more points to the Rushville effort in the third period on a 37 yard run. Shaw made good the PAT. Crum threw a long pass covering 45 yards to Dennis Wells later in the period to add another TD. The PAT followed, giving Rushville a 27-7 lead at the end of the quarter.

Beardstown's Mike Smith added the final Tiger score in the last quarter on a plunge from three yards out. Lloyd kicked the PAT, his second of the evening, to end the scoring for both teams, with Rushville ahead, 27-14, at the game's end.

Carrollton Snags IVC Second Place

CARROLLTON — Carrollton ran over Greenfield, 26-0, Friday night to snag second place in the Illinois Valley conference in a game that saw Carrollton dominate play throughout.

Neither team could move the ball in the first period, with each club punting twice. Carrollton drove 60 yards midway through the second quarter before quarterback Kenny Stander sneaked over from the two yard line to score, and added the PAT on another sneak.

Left halfback Bob Canden ran 26 yards around right end to put another Carrollton score on the boards, and Ron Hetelle caught a pass from Stander to add the PAT.

In the third period Stander set up Jim Stuart with a 39 yard run. Stuart scored the TD from two yards out. The PAT attempt failed.

On the first play after the kick-off, linebacker Mike Kania intercepted a Greenfield pass and raced 30 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed, giving Carrollton the 26-0 victory.

Berry Scores 33 As Triopia Dumps Industry By 59-7

ARENZVILLE — Fullback Jim Berry scored 33 points and broke two school records in leading the Triopia Trojans to a 59-7 dubbing of Industry.

Berry scored five touchdowns and three extra points, breaking the school record for single game scoring and most TDs scored in a game.

Industry's Tom Runkle took the opening kickoff and raced 70 yards unimpeded for the only score by the visitors in the season's final game for both clubs.

Berry ran 15 yards through the middle shortly thereafter and soon added another from 10 yards out. Quarterback Dave Roegge threw PAT passes to Roy Halstenberg for both extra points. Roegge scored from 4 yards away for the 20-7 first period advantage.

Tei Lovekamp scored twice in the second quarter, from 25 and 20 yards, and Berry added an extra point for a 33-7 halftime margin.

Berry scored again in the third quarter from 25 yards out, and twice more in the final stanza, both from five yards back. He also scored another pair of PATs.

Titan Franchise May Be For Sale

NEW YORK (AP)—Milt Woodard, assistant commissioner of the American Football League, said Friday the league had loaned the New York Titans enough money to meet the player payroll through Sunday's game with the Dallas Texans.

Woodard also said the league expected the franchise, owned by Harry Wismer, would be sold within a week.

Wismer, who has lost a great deal of money trying to compete with the New York Giants of the National League, is asking $2.5 million for the franchise.

The Titans have a lease to play in the new stadium in Flushing that will be the home of the New York Mets next season. Reports that Wismer has been in contact with the Mets' owner, Mrs. Joan Whitney Payson, have not been confirmed.

Woodard said he came to New York to make sure that the players were paid in full before this week's game.

Woodard said the money had been loaned to Wismer from a special league fund and would be returned to the league when the sale was completed.

The assistant commissioner said the league was putting up "about $400,000" to take care of salaries through this Sunday.

Asked if he would continue this policy indefinitely, Woodard said, "No. We trust the affair will be completely settled by another week."

Meredosia Upset By Bluffs, 27-14

MEREDOSIA — Bluffs ended their season on a winning note Friday afternoon with a 27-14 upset of rival Meredosia, in a PMSC conference tilt at Meredosia.

Halfback Jerry Sapp got the Bluejays off on the right foot in the first quarter on an 11 yard scoring jaunt around right end, and Mike Moore added the PAT.

The two clubs traded a pair of touchdowns in a wild second quarter. Bluffs' quarterback Denny Gregory passed to end Fred Noack for the first Bluejay score in four periods, the play covering four yards.

Jack Easley got the Indians on the scoreboard with a two yard sneak, and also added the extra point. Gregory added another for Bluffs on a quarterback sneak from two yards away, and Sapp ran the PAT over.

Sid Hegner scored the final Meredosia tally in the same quarter on another quarterback sneak, and Easley added the extra point.

The final score in the game came on a recovered fumble by Bluffs in the Meredosia end zone, and Sapp added the extra point.

Meredosia was assessed 85 yards in walkoffs, and the Bluejays 47. The Indians finished out the year with a 4-4 record with a 3-3 record, and the Bluejays finished at 2-6 and 2-4 in the PMSC.

Brannan's 2 Tallies Crimp Tigers' Bid

Redbirds Rally In Second Half

Virginia rallied with Jim Brannan scoring two touchdowns and a pair of extra points in the second half Friday afternoon here, to take a 14-13 thriller from ISD and a share of the PMSC conference crown from the Tigers.

Trailing 13-0 at halftime, the Redbirds came back with a forceful running attack in the second half and stopped the Tigers twice in the closing minutes inside the 20, once on an intercepted pass and once on a fumble.

The Tigers held their opponents to 19 yards rushing in the first half and ground out 88 yards on the ground and 50 in the air for their early lead. Bruce Jackson and Warren Miller dove and swept the Redbird defense for good yardage throughout the game, but the Tigers failed to capitalize on several key scoring opportunities.

PMSC Knotted Two Ways
The win leaves the conference standings knotted between the two clubs at 5-1, the loss, the first for ISD in the loop this season, and snapped a six game winning streak for the hosts.

ISD marched 75 yards for a quick score in the opening period, although interrupted by an exchange of fumbles on consecutive plays on the Redbird 12 yard line. Jackson scored on the third play from eight yards out, and Miller carried the extra point over for the 7-0 lead.

Jackson intercepted a pass on the 37 to give the Tigers another scoring shot, but a fumble handed the ball back to the visitors as the first period ended. After the Redbirds advanced to the 19 of the Tigers, a stiff defense stopped them with a minus 20 yards on the next two plays.

A pair of passes from quarterback Charles Jordan to end David Reed and Jackson moved the Tigers from their own 23 down to the Virginia 12 late in the second quarter, and a final one to Reed accounted for the second ISD touchdown, the play covering 25 yards. The running attempt for the extra point was stopped.

Brannan and halfback Don Bell moved the Redbird offense in the third frame, and they moved down to the two, where Brannan lugged the ball around left end the remaining distance and also added the PAT on the same play to pull within 13-7.

Wild 4th Quarter
The Redbird duo also ran wild in the final quarter as the Redbirds marched from their own 40 and picked up three clutch first downs, by inches each time. Brannan swept left end again for the second Redbird score from 13 yards away with five minutes remaining in the game. The elusive back this time booted the deciding margin on the PAT effort.

Three quick ISD passes carried the length of the field down to the Redbird 20, where Will Norris grabbed possession of the ball for the Redbirds. The Tigers held, and got another shot at the go-ahead touchdown, marching from their own 41 to the visitors' 13, but Redbird quarterback Dave Jokisch picked off a Jordan aerial and Virginia ran the remaining time out.

ISD outgained the Redbirds in both offensive departments, picking up 162 yards on the ground and 80 in the air, while holding the Redbirds to 109 rushing and 12 passing.

The Tigers closed the season with a respectable 6-3 record, and the Redbirds at 6-4 for the year.

Jerseyville Raps Pike Eleven 20-6

PITTSFIELD — Jerseyville's Bill Powers scored a pair of touchdowns and Warren Anderson added another, as the Panthers rolled over the Pittsfield Saukees 20-6 Friday evening, in a nonconference finale for both clubs.

Powers ran off tackle for a three yard tally in the second quarter, and ran the same hole for the extra point and the 7-0 lead. Anderson got loose in the same period, and carried 18 yards for the second score. Powers passed to John Munsterman for the PAT.

Pittsfield got into the scoring act in the third period when Dan Boyd passed 20 yards to Bill Hammitt for the lone Saukee score.

Powers picked off a Pittsfield pass in the third quarter and raced 32 yards for the final score of the game.

Wrigley Gums Up On New Manager

Says He Was Not In '62 Baseball

CHICAGO (AP)—Owner Philip K. Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs, who Thursday fired Charlie Metro as head coach, said Friday he had a new candidate in mind to be "in charge" of the Cubs next season.

"I can't tell you who he is, but he was not in baseball last season," said Wrigley.

"There will be no announcement until we find out whether we can get this man."

Asked if the new man would be a manager in baseball's accepted terminology of the head field boss, Wrigley replied:

"It makes you happy, call him that."

Wrigley said Metro, who was the Cubs' head coach on Wrigley's novel college of coaches from June 5 until the end of the season, was dismissed because "he didn't get along with the players."

Metro Disagreement
The outspoken Metro, regarded the strong man of Wrigley's 12-man coaching board, reportedly failed to get a new contract because he disagreed over the club's rotating system of coaches.

Wrigley said Friday: "We've been looking for a take-chance guy. We thought from Metro's past experience that he was the man. You can lead a man to water, but you can't make him drink. Players don't have to love the man in charge, but they should respect him."

Wrigley said the proposed new Cub leader had been contacted. "I'm not going to tell you who the man is," said Wrigley, "but we have been negotiating with him." The chewing gum magnate said he could not guess when, or if, the proposed new field boss would be available.

Wrigley said his experiment of rotating coaches, with a head coach in charge over various periods, would not be abandoned entirely if the new "manager" is signed.

Rotation Only Temporary
"The system never was supposed to rotate after things once settled down," said Wrigley of the two-season old find in eliminating the traditional manager.

"The rotation was planned to continue in our minor league system, but at the top level we were trying to find the right man—give him a whirl at it and see what happened."

Metro, who had a 43-69 record, wanted to win," Wrigley said. The Cubs now have finished in the National League's second division for 16 straight seasons.

HAVANA, Ill. (AP)—Authorities counted 785,000 ducks in Illinois and Mississippi River valleys today, a total somewhat lower than normal for this time of the season.

About 408,000 of the birds were in the Illinois River Valley, mostly below Peoria.

Mallards made up about 485,000 of the total in the state. The biggest flight of the season normally comes in mid-November and is expected in a few days.

The 25-day duck season closes Nov. 19. The daily kill is two.

Metro Says Jurges

DENVER (AP)—Charlie Metro, deposed as head coach of the Chicago Cubs Thursday night, says Billy Jurges "is a cinch" to become the next pilot of the National League team.

Metro spoke in an interview Friday night after Cubs owner P. K. Wrigley said in Chicago that he was set to name a new head coach shortly—if the candidate he has in mind is agreeable.

Wrigley didn't identify his choice, but Metro said the man was not in organized ball last season. He's a Cinch

"I'll tell you who the man is," said the 44-year-old Metro, who directed the Cubs through their 112 games of the campaign. "The name is Billy Jurges. He's a cinch for the job."

Jurges is a former standout shortstop for the Cubs, and once managed the Boston Red Sox.

Of Wrigley's claim that Metro was dismissed as coach because "he didn't get along with the players," the deposed coach said: "So they're slinging a little mud? Well, I'll hold my comment and wait and see what develops."

"I could tell him (Wrigley) some things he isn't aware of—some things that would curl his hair."

"In my whole managing career," Metro continued in an interview, "players have had respect for my ability to run a ball club. That's all you can ask of anyone. I could tell Wrigley plenty about his organization."

"Talk about loyalty—man alive!"

Winchester Wins IVC 21-12; Watt Scores 2

PIASA — Bob Watt scored two touchdowns and threw for another and scored an extra point, and Kenny McGlauchlen scored a six pointer and a pair of PATs to pace the Winchester Wildcats over the Southwestern Birds and walked off with the Illinois Valley conference championship.

The two clubs brought identical 5-1 loop records into the tilt. The Birds scored first, after driving 55 yards downfield, and sending Sam Kahl over from the five. The try for the extra point failed on a run.

Watt soon put the Wildcats back in the game, going 65 yards around end on the second Winchester play from scrimmage, and added the extra point. Again in the opening period, Watt turned in a 45 yard scoring caper, and passed to McGlauchlen for the PAT and a 14-0 halftime lead.

Winchester added their third score of the game in the third period, with Watt flipping to McGlauchlen for a 65 yard scoring display, and McGlauchlen ran the PAT.

Kahl gave the hosts a shot at pulling back with a one yard plunge in the same period but the PAT failed. Kahl set up the score by lugging the ball 45 yards around end.

The pair of six pointers ran Watt's season total to 16 TDs plus numerous extra points and passes going the distance.

The Wildcats lost Watt, McGlauchlen, Dewey Savage, Alan Hudson, Jerry Kessinger, Rudy McGlauchlen, and Leroy Williams through graduation.

The win left the Wildcats with a 7-2 season record, and a 6-1 IVC title, while Southwestern is 6-3 and 5-2 in the conference.

Scoring by quarters:
Winchester 14 0 7 0—21
Southwestern 6 0 6 0—12

785,000 DUCKS STILL LEFT
HAVANA, Ill. (AP)—Authorities counted 785,000 ducks in Illinois and Mississippi River valleys today, a total somewhat lower than normal for this time of the season.

About 408,000 of the birds were in the Illinois River Valley, mostly below Peoria.

Mallards made up about 485,000 of the total in the state. The biggest flight of the season normally comes in mid-November and is expected in a few days.

The 25-day duck season closes Nov. 19. The daily kill is two.

ASTORIA BLANKED BY HORNETS 20-0

MT. STERLING — Larry Moore scored twice as Mt. Sterling grabbed a 20-0 non-conference game Friday, here to end their football season.

Moore took a pitchout from Mike Galloway in the first quarter and went 20 yards for the score. A Galloway pass to Ernie Fluckey countered the seventh point.

Scoring again in the first stanza, on the same play Moore went in from nine yards away as a Galloway pass to Pete Henricks gave the Hornets a 14-0 lead.

In the second period, Bobbie Wilson went 67 yards on a trap play for the final score.

Mt. Sterling rang up 237 yards rushing and was penalized 45 yards to their opponent's 15.

Scoring by quarters:
Astoria 0 0 0 0—0
Mt. Sterling 14 6 0 0—20

Rockets Own PMSC Cellar In 1-8 Year

Ferry Collapses On Playing Field

PETERSBURG — Petersburg scored twice in the second and third quarters Friday evening to hand Routt a 26-6 dumping, and doom the Rockets to the cellar of the PMSC conference.

Pushed all over the field in the first quarter, Routt was able to contain the Bluejays from scoring, but succumbed twice in the second period.

Junior halfback Sunky Ferry was carried from the field after collapsing in the third frame and was rushed to Our Saviour's hospital in a semi-conscious condition. He was reportedly suffering from painful contusions and sprains of his back. He remained a patient there overnight.

Wallace Man Again
Wallace got loose again in the period, this time scampering 63 yards over tackle in the closing seconds of the half. Larry Smith booted the extra point.

The Rockets struck early in the second half for their only touchdown, with quarterback Leo Carroll gathering in the opening kickoff and breaking loose for an 81 yard scoring return. The run for the extra point failed.

Petersburg quarterback, Don Brauer, threw a 56 yard touchdown pass to end Dave Thomas in the quarter and pushed the lead to 20-6. Again in the same quarter, Brauer intercepted a Tom Eoff pass and returned it to the Rocket 16, where Smith scored from 14 yards out. The try for the point after failed.

The win gives the Bluejays an overall 2-7 record and a 2-4 mark in the conference, and leaves Routt at 1-8 and 1-5 in the loop.

Seniors Bow Out
The game marked the final tilt for Rocket seniors Chuck Newport, Eoff, John Knepler, Paul Casey, Petersburg will lose Bill Babbington, Bob Todd, Jim Tibbs, Bill Severns, Ed Clark, Gene Dowell, and Dick Cheaney through graduation.

Newport and Ryan paced the Rocket defensive efforts, and Carroll and Jerry McGinnis sparked on offense.

Lewistown Ties Spoon Lead 14-13

LEWISTOWN — Lewistown did all their scoring in the third quarter to tie for first place with Macomb in the Spoon River conference by edging Havana, 14-13, Friday night.

Mike Conklin plunged from the Lewistown four yard line to give the Ducks an early lead in the first period to climax a 50 yard drive. The all important PAT attempt failed.

The Ducks fell apart on defense in the third period, with Lewistown scoring both their touchdowns, and with Louis Hunter kicking both PAT points.

Lewistown recovered a Duck fumble on the Havana 19 yard line, and drove to the four yard line before halfback Bob Bainter went over for the first tally. Hunter kicked the PAT. Hall ended an 80 yard drive to score from two yards out later in the third quarter, and Hunter kicked his second PAT of the night.

In the fourth period Havana came back to score on a 32 yard pass from Conklin to right end John Steffer. The PAT attempt was successfully run by Ken Barff, leaving Havana on the short end of a 14-13 decision for the ball game.

Havana clipped off 127 yards rushing, and Lewistown got 166 yards. Havana passed for 113 yards, Lewistown collected 20 yards.

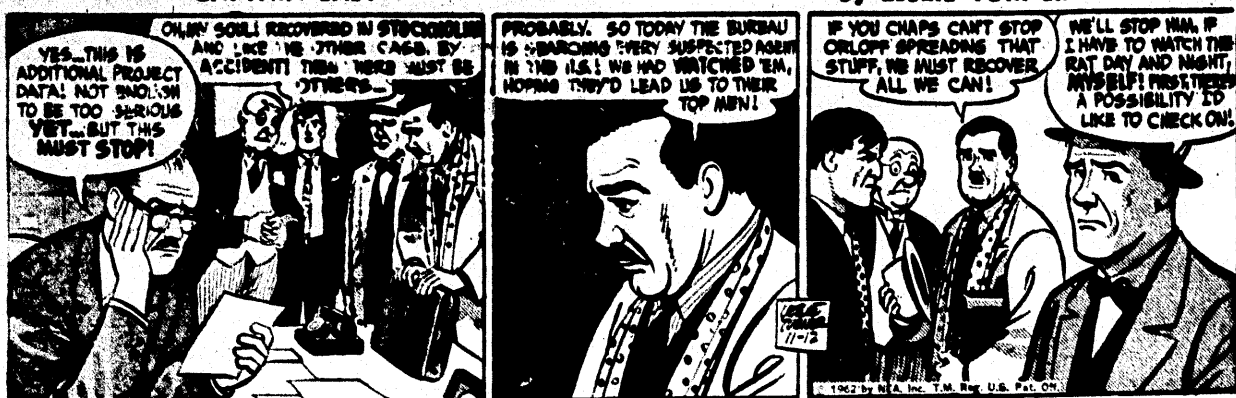

Scoring by quarters:
Lewistown 0 0 14 0—14
Havana 6 0 0 7—13
